(a) the various explosives of classes 1 (gunpowder), 2 (nitrate-mixture), 3 (nitro-compound) and 4 (chlorate-mixture), safety fuzes belonging to the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class and such of the various explosives of the 2nd division of the 6th (ammunition) class as do not contain any exposed iron or steel, may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space ;

(b) the various explosives of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space ;

(c) such of the various explosives of the 2nd division of the 6th (ammunition) class as contain any exposed iron or steel may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space ;

(d) the various explosives of the 3rd division of the 6th (ammunition) class may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space ;

(e) the various explosives of the 7th (firework) class may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space.

(3) Save as aforesaid, two or more descriptions of explosives shall not be kept in the same magazine.

13. The licensee, and every person employed in or about the magazine, shall take all due precaution for the prevention of accidents by fire or explosion in the magazine, and for preventing unauthorised persons from having access to the magazine or to the explosives therein, and shall abstain from any act whatever which tends to cause fire or explosion and is not reasonably necessary for the purpose of the work in such magazine.

14. (1) Blasting gelatine or any of its kindred gelatinous nitro-compounds shall not be kept in the magazine after the expiration of three years from the date of its or their importation into British India, except with the special sanction of an Inspector of Explosives.

(2) When such sanction has been given, a written certificate, showing the period covered by the sanction, must be obtained from an Inspector of Explosives at each inspection, and must be kept by the licensee at the magazine.

Conditions.

1. This license is granted subject to the provisions of the Indian Explosives Act, 1884 (IV of 1884), and the rules thereunder.
2. The whole vessel, barge or craft in or on board which the explosives are stored shall be deemed to constitute the magazine.
3. The magazine shall be used only for the keeping of such explosives as may be specified in the license, and of receptacles for, or tools or implements for work connected with, the keeping of such explosives.
4. The interior of the magazine, and the benches, shelves and fittings therein, shall be so constructed or so lined or covered as to prevent the exposure of any iron or steel in such manner, and the detaching of any grit, iron, steel or similar substance in such manner as to come into contact with the explosives in such magazine; and such interior, benches, shelves and fittings shall, so far as is reasonably practicable, be kept free from grit and otherwise clean.
5. The magazine shall have attached thereto a sufficient lightning conductor which shall be tested previous to the storage of explosives.
6. No charcoal, whether ground or otherwise, oiled cotton, oiled rags or oiled waste and no article whatever which is liable to spontaneous ignition, shall be taken into the magazine.
7. Before repairs are done to or in any part of the magazine, it shall, so far as practicable, be cleaned by the removal of all explosives, and by a thorough washing out. After being so cleaned, it shall not be deemed to be a magazine until explosives are again taken into it.
8. There shall be constantly kept in the magazine, affixed in such manner as to be easily read, a copy of the license, and of any special rules that may be issued from time to time for the keeping of explosives in a floating magazine.
9. All tools and implements used in any repairs to or in any part of the magazine shall be made only of wood or copper or brass or some soft metal or material, or shall be covered with some safe and suitable material.

10. No fires, lights or lucifer matches, and no substance or article which is likely to cause explosion or fire, shall be permitted to be at any time in the magazine.

11. Due provision shall be made, by the use of suitable working clothes without pockets, or of suitable shoes, or by searching or otherwise, or by some such means, for preventing the introduction into the magazine of fire, lucifer matches or any substance or article which is likely to cause explosion or fire; and for preventing the introduction of any grit, iron or steel, into any part of the magazine where it would be likely to come into contact with explosive; and in any part of the magazine in which any explosive is kept which is liable to be dangerously affected by water, due precautions shall be taken to exclude water from such part; but this condition shall not prevent the introduction of an artificial light of such construction, position, or character as not to cause any danger of fire or explosion; and so much of this condition as relates to the exclusion of grit, iron or steel shall not be obligatory in the case of a magazine in which no explosive other than explosives of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class is kept.

12. No person shall smoke in any part of the magazine.

13. (1) The licensee shall not employ any vessel, barge or craft to carry an explosive to or from the magazine unless the cabin, hold or other part of the vessel, barge or craft to which the explosive is to be carried—

(a) is constructed without any exposed iron or steel in the interior thereof, and

(b) contains only explosives, and

(c) is closed or otherwise properly covered over:

Provided that clause (a) shall not apply in the case of any vessel, barge or craft which carries no explosive other than explosives of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class, or which is specially exempted by an order of the Chief Inspector of Explosives or by an order of the Local Government endorsed on this license.

(2) The licensee shall see that the explosives to be placed on any vessel, barge or craft so employed are loaded, carried and unloaded with all due diligence and with such precautions and in such manner as will sufficiently guard against any accidental ignition.

14. The licensee shall see—

(a) that no fire, unprotected light or smoking is allowed while any explosive [other than explosives of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class] is being received or delivered, or while the hatches or door of the magazine, or the hatches or coverings of any vessel, barge or craft alongside containing any such explosive, are open; and

(b) that no receipt or delivery of explosive is carried on, and that the hatches or door of the magazine are or is kept closed, when any vessel, barge or craft having on board a fire (other than engine-fires properly banked up) or an unprotected light is alongside a magazine containing an explosive other than explosives of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class, or in its immediate vicinity.

15. A person under the age of fourteen years shall not be employed in or enter the magazine, except in the presence and under the supervision of some grown-up person.

16. In the case of the magazine being approachable at low water by carriages, the words "vessel, barge, or craft," in Nos. 13 and 14 of these conditions, shall be taken to include a carriage.

17. (1) Two or more descriptions of explosives, which may lawfully be possessed in a licensed magazine, may be possessed in the same magazine, if they are separated from each other by an intervening partition of such substance and character, or by such intervening space, as will effectually prevent explosion or fire in one compartment from extending to another compartment:

(2) Provided as follows:—

(a) the various explosives of classes 1 (gunpowder), 2 (nitrate-mixture), 3 (nitro-compound) and 4 (chlorate mixture), safety fuzes belonging to the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class, and such of the various explosives of the 2nd division of the 6th (ammunition) class, as do not contain any exposed iron or steel, may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space;

(b) the various explosives of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space;

(c) such of the various explosives of the 2nd division of the 6th (ammunition) class as contain any exposed iron or steel, may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space;

(d) the various explosives of the 3rd division of the 6th (ammunition) class may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space;

(e) the various explosives of the 7th (firework) class may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space.

(3) Save as aforesaid, two or more descriptions of explosive shall not be kept in the same magazine.

No 9359.—32.—In accordance with the provisions of section 18 of the Indian Explosives Act, 1884 (IV of 1884), and of the notification of the Government of India in the Home Department, No. 1964, dated the 2nd September 1887, the Governor General in Council is pleased to publish for general information the following draft rules which His Excellency in Council proposes to make, in exercise of the powers conferred by sections 5 and 7 of the said Act. The draft will be taken into consideration by the Governor General in Council on the expiration of two months from the date of publication of this notification in the Gazette of India.

DRAFT RULES TO REGULATE THE TRANSPORT AND IMPORTATION OF EXPLOSIVES.

In supersession of the Notification of the Government of India in the Home Department, No. 5528 (Public), dated the 11th October 1901, and of all amending notifications, and in exercise of the powers conferred by sections 5 and 7 of the Indian Explosives Act, 1884 (IV of 1884), the Governor General in Council is pleased to make the following rules to regulate the transport and importation of explosives.

Preamble.

These rules extend to the whole of British India, but the rules relating to the transport of explosives shall cease to apply to any port as defined in the Indian Ports Act, 1889 (X of 1889), for which special rules made by the Local Government are for the time being in force, in so far as they are expressly superseded by, or are inconsistent with, such special rules.

Extent of application.

Nothing in these rules shall apply to the packing, transport or importation of capped safety cartridge cases, if otherwise empty, when packed, transported or imported in the same consignment with arms covered by a licence granted under the Indian Arms Act, 1878 (XI of 1878).*

General exemptions.

PRELIMINARY.

1. (1) For the purposes of these rules, explosives shall be classified as follows, namely:—

Classification of explosives.

Class 1	Gunpowder.
" 2	Nitrate-mixture.
" 3	Nitro-compound.
" 4	Chlorate mixture
" 5	Fulminate.
" 6	Ammunition.
" 7	Firework.

(2) When any explosive falls within more than one of the said classes, it shall be deemed to belong exclusively to the latest of such classes.

2. The expression "gunpowder," as used in these rules, means exclusively gunpowder ordinarily so-called.

Definition of "gunpowder" (class 1).

3. The expression "nitrate-mixture," as used in these rules, means any preparation other than gunpowder, which is formed by the mechanical mixture of a nitrate with any form of carbon or with any carbonaceous substance not possessed of explosive properties, whether sulphur be or be not added to such preparation, and whether such preparation be or be not mechanically mixed with any other non-explosive substance.

Definition of "nitrate-mixture" (class 2).

Nitrate-mixture includes, among other explosives,—

Chilworth special powder,
Fortis explosive,

Ripp-Lene,
Safety blasting powder, and Westfallite.

* Further exemptions are made by section 14 of the Indian Explosives Act, 1884, which runs as follows:—

Saving for manufacture, possession, use, sale, transport or importation by Government. "Nothing in this Act shall apply to the manufacture, possession, use, sale, transport or importation of any explosive—

(a) by order of the Government, or

(b) by any person employed under the Government in the execution of this Act, or as a keeper of a magazine, artizan, soldier, sailor, policeman or otherwise, or enrolled as a volunteer, under the Indian Volunteers Act, 1869, in the course of his employment or duty as such."

X X of 1909.

Definition and sub-division of "ni-
(class 3).

4. (1) The expression "nitro-compound," as used in these rules, means any chemical compound which is possessed of explosive properties or is capable of combining with metals to form an explosive compound, and is produced by the chemical action of nitric acid (whether mixed or not with sulphuric acid), or of a nitrate mixed with sulphuric acid upon any carbonaceous substance, whether such compound is mechanically mixed with other substances or not.

(2) Nitro-compound shall, for the purposes of these rules, be sub-divided as follows, namely:—

(a) Division 1, comprising—

(i) such explosives as—

Amberite No. 1,
Balli-tite,
Blasting gelatine,
Carbonite,
Cordite,

Dynamite,
Gelatine dynamite,
Gelignite, Lithofracteur,
Nitro-glycerine, and

Stonite, and

(ii) any chemical compound or mechanically mixed preparation which consists, either wholly or partly, of nitro-glycerine or some other liquid nitro-compound; and

(b) Division 2, comprising—

(i) such explosives as—

Amberite No. 2,
Ammonite,
Bellite,
Coopal's powder,
Cotton gunpowder,
E. C. powder,
Gun-cotton ordinarily so-called,

Nitrated-gun-cotton,
Picrates,
Picric powder,
Roburite,
Sawdust and gun-cotton powder,
Schultz's powder, and Tonite (or cotton powder), and

(ii) any nitro-compound, as hereinbefore defined, which is not comprised in Division 1.

Definition and sub-division of
"chlorate-mixture" (class 4).

5. (1) The expression "chlorate-mixture," as used in these rules, means any explosive of containing a chlorate.

(2) Chlorate-mixture shall, for the purposes of these rules, be sub-divided as follows, namely:—

(a) Division 1, comprising—

(i) such explosives as—

Horsley's blasting powder, and Brain's blasting powder, and

(ii) any chlorate preparation which consists partly of nitro-glycerine or of some other liquid nitro-compound, and

(b) Division 2, comprising—

(i) such explosives as—

Horsley's original blasting powder, Hochstadter's blasting charges,
Erhardt's powder, Reichen's blasting charges,
Reveley's powder, Teutonite, and Chlorated gun-cotton, and

(ii) any chlorate-mixture, as hereinbefore defined, which is not comprised in Division 1.

Definition and sub-division of
"fulminate" (class 5).

6. (1) The expression "fulminate," as used in these rules, means any chemical compound or mechanical mixture, whether included in any of the foregoing definitions or not, which, from its great susceptibility to detonation, is suitable for employment in percussion-caps or any other appliance for developing detonation, or which, from its extreme sensibility to explosion and from its great instability (that is to say, readiness to undergo decomposition from very slight exciting causes), is especially dangerous.

(2) Fulminate shall, for the purposes of these rules, be sub-divided as follows, namely:—

(a) Division 1, comprising such compounds as the fulminates of silver and of mercury, and preparations of those substances, such as are used in percussion-caps, and any preparation consisting of a mixture of a chlorate with phosphorus, or certain descriptions of phosphorus compounds, with or without the addition of carbonaceous matter, and any preparation consisting of a mixture of a chlorate with sulphur, or with sulphuret, with or without carbonaceous matter; and

(b) Division 2, comprising such substances as the chloride and the iodide of nitrogen, fulminating gold and silver, diazobenzol, and the nitrate of diazobenzol.

7. (1) The expression "ammunition," as used in these rules, means any explosive included in any of the foregoing definitions, when the same is enclosed in any case or contrivance, or is otherwise adapted or prepared, so as to form—

Definition of "ammunition,"
"percussion-cap,"
"detonator,"
"safety fuze" and
"safety cartridge," and sub-division of "ammunition"
(class 6).

(a) a cartridge or charge for small-arms, cannon or any other weapon, or for blasting or

(b) a safety or other fuze for blasting or for shells, or

(c) a tube for firing explosives, or

(d) a percussion-cap, a detonator, a fog-signal, a shell, a torpedo, a war-rocket, or any other contrivance other than a firework.

(2) The expression "percussion-cap," as used in these rules, does not include a detonator.

(3) The expression "detonator," as used in these rules, means a capsule or case which is of such strength and construction, and contains fulminate in such quantity, that the explosion of one capsule or case would communicate the explosion to other like capsules or cases.

(4) The expression "safety fuze," as used in these rules, means a fuze for blasting which burns and does not explode, and which does not contain its own means of ignition, and which is of such strength and construction, and contains an explosive in such quantity, that the burning of such fuze would not communicate laterally with other like fuzes.

(5) The expression "safety cartridge," as used in these rules,—

(i) means a cartridge for small arms, the case of which can be extracted from the small-arm after firing, and which is so closed as to prevent any explosion in one cartridge being communicated to other cartridges; and

(ii) includes a rifle-calibre machine-gun cartridge, if it is as described in clause (i) whether it is for use with a machine-gun having chambers identical with those of rifles or with a machine-gun having special chambers.

Provided that the diameter of the cartridge in either case (i) or case (ii) does not exceed one inch.

(6) Ammunition shall, for the purposes of these rules, be sub-divided as follows, namely:—

(a) Division 1, comprising exclusively—

Safety cartridges,
Safety fuzes for blasting,
Railway fog-signals, and Percussion-caps; and

(b) Division 2, comprising any ammunition, as hereinbefore defined, which does not contain its own means of ignition and is not included in Division 1, such as—

Cartridges for small-arms, other than safety cartridges,
Cartridges and charges for cannon, shells, mines, blasting or other like purposes,
Shells and torpedoes containing any explosive,
Fuzes for blasting, other than safety fuzes,
Fuzes for shells,
Tubes for firing explosives, and War-rockets, which do not contain their own means of ignition; and

- (c) Division 3, comprising any ammunition, as hereinbefore defined, which contains its own means of ignition and is not included in Division I, such as—

Detonators,
Cartridges for small-arms, which are not safety cartridges,
Fuzes for blasting, which are not safety fuzes, Fuzes for shells, and Tubes for firing explosives, * containing their own means of ignition.

Explanation.—The expression “ammunition containing its own means of ignition” means ammunition having an arrangement, whether attached to or forming part of the ammunition, which is adapted to explode or fire the ammunition by friction or percussion.

Sub-Division of 8. Fireworks shall, for the purposes of these rules, be sub-divided as follows, “firework” (class namely:—

- (1) Division 1, comprising firework compositions, that is to say,—

(a) any chemical compound or mechanically mixed preparation of an explosive or inflammable nature, which is used for the purpose of making manufactured fireworks, and is not included in any of the foregoing definitions,

(b) any star, and

(c) (except as declared in the proviso to this rule) any coloured fire composition; and

- (2) Division 2, comprising manufactured fireworks, that is to say, any explosive of class 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 or 6 and any firework composition, when such explosive or composition is enclosed in any case or contrivance, or is otherwise manufactured so as to form a squib, cracker, toy cap or amorce, serpent, rocket (other than a war-rocket), maroon, lance, wheel, Chinese fire, Roman candle, or other article specially adapted for the production of pyrotechnic effects or pyrotechnic signals or sound signals:

Provided that a substantially constructed and hermetically closed metal case containing not more than one pound of coloured fire composition of such a nature as not to be liable to spontaneous ignition shall be deemed to be a “manufactured firework” and not a “firework composition.”

TRANSPORT.

Packing of Explosives for conveyance.

9. The following general rules shall be observed with respect to the packing of explosives for conveyance:—

- (1) Unless the context otherwise requires,— the expression “outer package” means a box, barrel, case or cylinder, of wood, metal or other solid material, of such strength, construction and character that it will not be broken or accidentally opened, nor become defective or insecure whilst being conveyed, and will not allow any explosive to escape; the expression “inner package” means a substantial case, bag, canister or other receptacle, made and closed so as to prevent any explosive from escaping;

the expression “authorized explosive” means exclusively an explosive included in a List of Authorized Explosives prepared by the Chief Inspector of Explosives with the Government of India, and published annually in the Gazette of India, and in force for the time being;

the expression “propellant” means an authorized explosive of class 3 adapted and intended exclusively for use as a propelling charge in cannon or small arms; and the expression “special authority” means a written authority granted by the Chief Inspector of Explosives, to which may be attached such conditions as may, in the opinion of the Chief Inspector of Explosives, be necessary to meet the special requirements of the case.

- (2) The interior of every package shall be free from grit and otherwise clean.

(3) Save as hereinafter provided, there shall not be any iron or steel in the construction of any package unless the same is covered with suitable material so as effectually to prevent the exposure of such iron or steel.

(4) Every package when actually used for the packing of one explosive shall not be used for the packing of any other explosive or any other article or substance.

Provided that this rule shall not prevent the packing of inner packages containing a propellant in an outer package with inner packages containing gunpowder or another propellant:

Provided also that this rule shall not prevent the packing of any article which is not of an inflammable or explosive nature, or liable to cause fire or explosion, in the same package as an explosive of the 1st Division of the 6th (Ammunition) Class.

(5) Subject to the foregoing provisions, the following shall be the method of packing authorized explosives of the various classes, respectively, and the maximum amounts which may be in any one package :—

Class.	Method of packing.	Amount in any one outer package.	Amount in any one inner package.
Class 1 .	When the quantity in any one consignment does not exceed 5 lbs. in amount, a single outer package ; otherwise A double package, the inner and outer packages being as above defined.	100 lbs. Provided that where gunpowder and propellant are packed together the amount shall not exceed— 50 lbs.	100 lbs. where gunpowder and propellant are packed together the amount shall not exceed— 25 lbs.
Class 2	As for Class 1	50 lbs.	50 lbs.
Class 3, Division 1, other than propellants.	As for Class 1, provided that either the outer or inner package shall be thoroughly waterproof, and both shall be without metal in the construction thereof.	50 lbs.	5 lbs.
Class 3, Division 1, propellants.	As for Class 1	50 lbs.	50 lbs.
Class 3, Division 2, other than Picric Acid and Wet Guncotton.	As for Class 1	50 lbs.	50 lbs.
Picric Acid	As for Class 1	Unlimited.	Unlimited.
Guncotton so wetted with water as to be absolutely unflammable.	As for Class 1, provided that the inner or outer package, or both of them, shall be of such a nature, and so closed, as to prevent any material loss of moisture during conveyance.	Unlimited.	Unlimited.
Class 4 .	As for Class 1	50 lbs.	50 lbs.
Class 5 .	Packed in water. A treble package, the innermost package being a bag permeable to water, enclosed in a case containing sufficient water to ensure the explosive being kept constantly wet ; and the outer package containing sufficient water constantly to surround the case. Both the case and the outer package shall be of such construction as will not allow water to escape. If the explosive is of such character that it cannot be packed in a thoroughly wet condition, it shall be packed in accordance with conditions set forth in a special authority.	200 lbs.	25 lbs.
Class 6, Division 1, other than Pin-fire cartridges for pistols.	A single outer package : Provided that the above general rule (3) shall not apply to explosives of this Division. Provided also that bullet cartridges of a calibre exceeding 0·5 inch and belonging to this Division shall be packed in such a manner that the point of any bullet cannot come in contact with the cap of another cartridge.	Unlimited.
Pin-fire cartridges for pistols.	(a) Not exceeding 50 in number in any one consignment :—So packed in a single package that the bases lie alternately in opposite directions. The bases and pins shall be so fitted into perforations in millboard or other suitable material as to prevent the firing of any one of the said cartridges by an explosion in any other of the said cartridges.	50 in number.

Class.	Method of packing.	Amount in any one outer package.	Amount in any one inner
	b) Exceeding 50 in number :—In an inner and outer package, the cartridges being packed in inner packages with millboard as above required.	2,500 in number.	50 in number.
Class 6, Division 2 .	Explosives made up into cartridges or charges for cannon, shells, torpedoes, mines, blasting or other like purposes, shall be packed in such manner and in such quantity as is required for the same explosive when not so made up; provided that, where a double package is required, the enclosing case of such cartridges or charges may, if it satisfies the conditions required for an inner package, be held to be such inner package. Other ammunition of this Division :—A single outer package.	100 lbs.
Class 6, Division 3, other than Detonators and Electric Detonators.	As for Class 1 Provided that bulletted cartridges of a calibre exceeding 0·5 inch and belonging to this Division shall be packed in such a manner that the point of any bullet cannot come in contact with the cap of another cartridge.	50 lbs.	2 lbs. or 10 in number, whichever be the greater.
Detonators	(a) Not exceeding 1,000 in any one consignment :—As for Class 1, provided that the detonators and the spaces between the same and between the sides of the inner package and the said detonators shall all be filled, as far as practicable, with fine sawdust or other similar material; a layer of felt or other soft yielding material shall be placed between both ends of all the detonators and the interior of the inner package in which the same are placed, in such manner, and so secured, that both ends of the detonators will rest upon the said cotton wool or other material; every inner package, if of metal, to be lined throughout with paper or other soft material; and (b) Exceeding 1,000 detonators :— The detonators shall be packed in inner packages, with sawdust and cotton wool as above described. Such inner packages shall be placed inside a substantial case of wood or metal, made and closed so as to prevent any of the inner packages escaping therefrom, and such case shall be placed inside an outer package in such manner and so secured as to leave a clear space of not less than three inches between the case and every part of the interior of the said outer package, notwithstanding that such clear space may, if preferred, be filled with sawdust, straw, or other similar material, or may contain a light framework or battens of wood to keep the case aforesaid in position in the outer package; and (c) where the number of detonators exceeds 5,000, such outer package shall be provided with handles or other contrivance by means of which it can be safely and conveniently carried.	1,000 in number	100 in number.
		10,000 in number	100 in number.

Class.	Method of packing.	Amount in any one outer package.	Amount in any one inner package.
Electric Detonators	As for Class 1, provided that where the number in any outer package exceeds 3,000, such outer package shall be provided with handles or other contrivance, by means of which it can be safely and conveniently carried.	5,000 in number.	100 in number.
Class 7, Division 1	Double package, the inner package being hermetically closed, and contained in an outer package as above defined.	20 lbs.	1 lb.
Class 7, Division 2	Single outer package, provided that the above general rule (3) shall not apply to explosives of this Division.	100 lbs.

(6) Nothing in this rule shall be deemed to prohibit the use of an additional package whether inner or outer, provided that such additional package shall not be of such character as shall have been prohibited in writing by the Chief Inspector of Explosives.

(7) An explosive which is not an authorised explosive shall be packed in such manner as may be directed by a special authority with reference to such explosive.

(8) On the outermost package there shall be affixed in conspicuous characters, by means of a brand or securely attached label or other mark, the word "Explosive," the name of the explosive, the number of the class and division to which it belongs, and the name of the manufacturer or sender.

In the case of explosives of Classes 3 and 4, there shall be added the date of manufacture or issue from the factory, or such sign indicating such date as may be approved by the Chief Inspector of Explosives.

Provided, first, that in the case of cartridges or charges for cannon, shells, mines, blasting or other like purpose, which do not contain their own means of ignition, the marking shall be as for the explosive when not so made up.

Provided, secondly, that in the case of explosives of Class 6, Division I (Safety Fuzes excepted), there shall be added the words "Not liable to explode in bulk."

Provided, thirdly, that in the case of Pin-fire cartridges for pistols there shall be added the words "Pin-fire cartridges."

Provided, fourthly, that in the case of Safety Fuzes or Gunpowder the word "Explosive" and the number of the class and division may be omitted, and

• Provided, fifthly, that, where an outer package contains more than one explosive, the marking above required shall be affixed separately in respect of each explosive so contained.

(9) To meet special cases exemption may be granted by special authority from the observance of any one or more of the condition imposed by this rule.

10. Whoever commits a breach of any of the foregoing rules relating to the packing of explosives for conveyance shall be punishable with fine which may extend to Rs. 1,000.

11. The following general rules shall be observed with respect to the conveyance of explosives: Mo con

I.—No explosive shall be conveyed from place to place unless packed in the manner provided for in the foregoing rules.

II.—There shall not be conveyed in any carriage or vessel which is being used for the conveyance of an explosive, any explosive of a different class and division, of whatsoever nature, which contains its own means of ignition, unless it is sufficiently separated therefrom to prevent any fire or explosion which may take place in one such explosive being communicated to another.

III.—Except in the case of small consignments carried by railway which may be unloaded at any time, explosives shall be loaded or unloaded only between sunrise and sunset. For the purposes of this rule no consignment of more than half a wagon-load booked to one station shall be deemed to be a small consignment.

IV.—Whilst the explosive is being loaded on or unloaded out of any carriage or vessel, no fire or artificial light, or any article which is liable to cause or communicate fire or explosion [such as charcoal, lucifer matches, articles for striking a light, petroleum to which the Indian Petroleum Act, 1899 (VIII of 1899), or any other Act for the time being in force regarding the importation, possession, and transport of petroleum, applies, or any spirit or oil or substance that gives forth an inflammable vapour at a temperature below 100° Fahrenheit] shall be, or shall be allowed to be, brought, had or used dangerously near to such carriage, ship, or boat, and no smoking shall be allowed in, on, or dangerously near to, the same:

Provided that when the use of a light for the purposes of such loading or unloading is unavoidable, a lamp of such construction, position, or character as not to cause any danger from fire or explosion may be used; and no person, while handling any explosive (except an explosive of Division 1, Class 6, if packed in accordance with the packing rules) shall wear boots or shoes with iron or steel nails, heels or tips.

V.—In the loading or unloading of any explosive, the casks and packages containing the same shall be passed from hand to hand and not rolled upon the ground; they shall not be thrown or dropped down, but shall be carefully deposited and stowed.

VI.—The explosive shall not be conveyed except in the interior of a carriage so enclosed on all sides with wood or metal, or in the hold of a ship or boat having a close deck so closed, as effectually to protect the explosive against accident by fire from without. If the explosive cannot be so secured, it shall be completely covered with painted cloth, tarpaulin, or other suitable material so as to effectually protect it against communication of fire.

VII.—There shall not be any iron or steel in the interior of the portion of the carriage or vessel with which the case containing the explosive is or may come in contact, unless the same is effectually covered with leather, wood, cloth, or other suitable material.

VIII.—In the stowing of the explosive, due precautions shall be taken by means of a partition or otherwise and by careful stowing to secure such explosive from being brought into contact with, or endangered by, any other article or substance conveyed in such carriage or vessel which is liable to cause fire or explosion; and if the explosive is dangerously affected by water, due precautions shall be taken to exclude water from coming into contact with such explosive.

IX.—The amount of the explosives conveyed in any one carriage or vessel at any one time shall not exceed 2,000 lbs. unless the carriage be so enclosed on all sides with wood or metal, or the vessel have a close deck so closed, as effectually to protect the explosive against accident by fire from without, in which case the amount of the explosives conveyed shall not exceed the following:*

					Tons.
In any one carriage on a railway	10
In any one other carriage	2
In any one vessel	20

* NOTE.—This rule shall, in the case of dynamite conveyed by railway, be read subject to paragraph XII of Rule 13.

X.—Nothing in the foregoing rules (except Rule 1) shall apply to any explosive of the 1st Division of the 6th (Ammunition) Class:

Provided that all due precautions are taken for the prevention of accidents.

12. The following rules shall be observed with respect to the conveyance of explosives conveyance otherwise than by railway.

I.—No explosive shall be conveyed in a carriage or boat whilst carrying or plying for public passengers, unless the quantity is less than 5 lbs. and notice has been given beforehand to the person in charge of such carriage or boat: and all due precautions are taken for the prevention of accidents by fire or explosion:

Provided that there shall not be conveyed in any such carriage or boat any explosive of the 5th (Fulminate) Class or any explosive of the 3rd Division of the 6th (Ammunition) Class or of the 1st Division of the 7th (Firework) Class, except detonators packed according to Rule 9 to the number of 200:

Provided that the amount of explosive of the 5th (Fulminate) class in the detonator shall in no case exceed in the aggregate 3 oz. (a certificate to this effect being given by the agent of the company by whom the detonators are tendered for transport):

Provided also that no other explosive is carried in the same compartment.

II.—With respect to the conveyance by carriage or vessel of explosives of the 5th (Fulminate) class, or of the 3rd Division of the 6th (Ammunition) Class or of the 1st Division of the 7th (Firework) Class, or of larger quantities than 5 lbs. of any other explosive, the following regulations shall be observed:

(1) The person in charge of the carriage or vessel shall not drive or conduct the same in a dangerous or reckless manner, and shall take all due precautions to avoid fire and explosion, and no person shall do any act or thing in relation to the explosive which tends to cause fire or explosion, and is not reasonably necessary for the conveyance of the explosive or for work immediately connected with such conveyance; and a person who is intoxicated shall not have charge of any carriage or vessel conveying explosive, and shall not be permitted to be in, or on, or attending the same.

(2) A person shall not forward to any warehouseman or carrier a consignment of explosive, unless he has given notice to such warehouseman or carrier beforehand, stating the name and quantity of the explosive proposed to be conveyed, and the name and address of the proposed consignee, and has had an intimation that the warehouseman or carrier is prepared to receive the consignment, and a warehouseman or carrier shall not make such an intimation nor receive such consignment, unless he is prepared to receive it, and forthwith to despatch the same, or to deposit it in a magazine or at a place at which a person is licensed to possess the same.

- (3) The carriage or vessel conveying the explosive shall be in charge of, and constantly attended by, some competent person, or by a sufficient number of competent persons, and such persons shall not, if the amount of the explosive conveyed exceed 5 lbs., stop or delay for a longer time than may be reasonably necessary or stop unnecessarily at any place where such stopping would be attended with special public danger.

III.—No explosive belonging to class 1 (gunpowder class), class 2 (nitrate-mixture class), class 3 (nitro-compound class), class 4 (chlorate-mixture class) or class 5 (fulminate class), shall be carried, otherwise than by rail, across any railway bridge over which reasonable facilities for the conveyance thereof by rail are afforded by the Railway Administration.

Provided that this prohibition shall not apply in respect of quantities of explosives of class 1 (gunpowder class) or class 3 (nitro-compound class) not exceeding 5 lbs. in weight.

13. The following rules shall be observed with respect to the conveyance of explosives by public railways : Conveyance public railways

I.—No person shall send for carriage upon any railway any consignment of an explosive, unless he has given to the officer in charge of the railway station previous notice in writing which, at the option of the Railway Administration, may extend to 48 hours, of his intention to send such consignment, and stating the true name, description, quantity, and mode of packing of the explosive proposed to be conveyed, and his own name and address, and also the name and address of the proposed consignee, and unless he has had an intimation in writing from an authorized officer of the railway that such consignment will be received.

II.—No explosive which a Railway Administration shall, by any notice or regulation for the time being in force, notify that they will not receive, shall be brought, sent, or forwarded to or upon any railway of the said Railway Administration.

III.—Consignments of explosives shall be sent to the forwarding station and shall be received by the railway servants only at such times, between sunrise and sunset, as the Railway Administration may appoint; and every package containing any explosive proposed to be conveyed on any railway shall immediately on arrival at the station be unloaded and placed in a safe place under the special direction of the officer in charge of the station.

All gunpowder under despatch or receipt by a Government arsenal, dépôt, or factory, shall be loaded or unloaded in the railway vans by Government servants employed in such arsenal, dépôt, or factory. In each van used by the railway for the transport of gunpowder the packages of gunpowder shall be secured in such a way as to prevent concussion when the train is in motion.

IV.—An explosive shall be removed by the consignee from the receiving station during the twelve hours of daylight after arrival: if this condition is not strictly complied with, the Railway Administration may return the consignment to the consignor at his risk and expense. And such packages shall in the meanwhile be kept as far away from the station buildings as possible, in the wagon they were conveyed in, or, if unloaded, shall be completely covered with tarpaulins or other suitable material, and if necessary, shall be protected by a police guard.

V.—The Railway Administration may refuse to receive any packages which they suspect to contain any explosive packed or sent in contravention of these regulations. And in case any package, which the Railway Administration suspect, shall be upon any railway, the Railway Administration may open, or require to be opened, such package to ascertain the fact, at the risk and expense of the consignor, and may return the explosive contained in the package to the consignor at his risk and expense, keeping the packages, pending such return in the manner prescribed in the preceding rule.

VI.—Subject to the exception provided for in clause (e), no explosive shall be conveyed by passenger train except of the kinds and in the manner hereinafter specified in this rule :

- (a) Safety-cartridges and percussion-caps and safety-fuze (for blasting), also fog signals for railway use which may be conveyed in ordinary wagons or carriages.
- (b) Explosives of the 3rd (nitro-compound) class which may be carried in the form of cartridges up to the limit of 5 lbs. :
Provided that no detonators are carried in the same compartment.
- (c) Detonators packed according to Rule 9 may be carried to the number of 200 :
Provided that in no case the amount of fulminate of mercury in the package or packages containing the detonators exceeds in the aggregate 2 oz. 12 certificate to this effect being given by the company, firm, or person tendering the detonators for transport or by its or his agent :

Provided also that no other explosive is carried in the same compartment.

- (d) Sporting gunpowder or non-safety cartridges packed in double cases as before provided, so long as the gunpowder is contained in one-pound tin canisters packed in a stout wooden case with an outer covering, of tin or zinc completely spark-proof, or in metal-lined cases of a pattern approved by the Railway Administration. But no outer case shall contain more than 25 lbs. of gunpowder, and the total consignment of gunpowder or non safety cartridges by one train shall not exceed 80 lbs.
- (e) Explosives may be carried by mixed trains on any line on which goods trains are not running, subject to the conditions that they are loaded in properly constructed powder vans; that not more than one powder van containing explosives is forwarded at any one time by a mixed train; that there are not less than three vehicles between the powder-van and either the engine or the passenger coaches; that the powder van is close coupled to the adjoining vehicles; and that directly a powder van containing explosives arrives at a section on which goods trains are running, it is detached from the mixed train.

VII.—Not more than five carriages containing explosives shall be loaded or unloaded at any railway station, or be conveyed by any one train at any one time; and the quantity of explosive to be contained in any one carriage shall not exceed two-thirds of the normal load, unless the carriages shall be specially built and approved by the Railway Board for the conveyance of explosives. But nothing in this clause shall be held to apply to separate consignments of safety cartridges for small arms.

VIII.—There shall not be conveyed in the same carriage with any explosive any lucifer or other matches, fuzes, pipelights, acids, naphtha, paraffine, petroleum to which the Indian Petroleum Act, 1899 (VIII of 1899), or any other Act for the time being in force regarding the importation, possession, and transport of petroleum, applies or any other volatile spirit substance liable to give off an inflammable vapour or liable to spontaneous ignition, or to cause or communicate fire or explosion.

IX.—The consignor shall attach to the consignment note a certificate or (provided the original is produced for verification) copy of a certificate, signed by an officer authorized by the Local Government in this behalf that the explosive if it is an explosive of class 3 or 4, is of the standard purity; and further in the case of dynamite, and all nitro-glycerine compounds, that there are no signs of exuded nitro-glycerine or of liquefaction. The consignor shall also certify that the explosive has been packed in accordance with the packing rules in force in England or in British India.

X.—In the case of explosives under classes 3 and 4, the outer packages shall be marked with the date of the manufacture of the explosives. The abovementioned certificate shall contain sufficient information to admit of all packages being easily recognized.

XI.—The certificate referred to in Rule 13 (IX) shall be valid for six months after date, if the examination has been made between the 15th October and 31st March, but any Railway Administration which accepts dynamite and other nitro-glycerine compounds for transport may demand a fresh certificate for these explosives, if presented for conveyance between 1st April and 15th October (both inclusive).

XII.—Packages containing dynamite and other blasting explosives of the 3rd (nitro-compound) class, or explosives of the 4th (chlorate-mixture), 5th (fulminate) classes or of the 1st division of the 7th (firework) class shall be stowed in one layer only and secured so as to prevent movement during transit, and the gross load in any one wagon shall not exceed 3 tons :

Provided that, if the packages of explosive are in rectangular form and are properly secured so as to prevent movement during transit, they may be stowed in any number of layers not exceeding five, and the gross load in any one wagon shall not exceed 5 tons.

XIII.—No explosive of the 5th (fulminate) class or of the 3rd division of the 6th (ammunition) class, or of the 7th (firework) class shall be carried in the same train with any explosive not of the class and division to which it belongs, unless it be sufficiently separated therefrom to prevent any fire or explosion which may take place in one such explosive being communicated to another.

XIV.—Wagons used for the carriage of explosives shall be examined to see that they are spark-proof, and have been cleaned out before they are loaded. Hair, cloth, hides, or other suitable materials shall be spread on the floor of the wagon and between each layer of packages, except when the packages are covered with gunny or felt, or contain safety cartridges for small arms packed in tin-lined service-pattern boxes.

XV.—Wagons containing explosives shall be loaded and unloaded on sidings distant as far as possible from the station buildings.

XVI.—Packages containing explosives other than those referred to in Rule 13 (XII) shall not be stored in more than three layers one above the other. But if the packages are in rectangular form and of uniform size (provided they are double packages, and are so secured as to prevent movement during transit) they may be packed in five layers one above the other. But in the case of safety cartridges, for small arms packed in tin-lined service-pattern boxes, there is no restriction. Subject to the provisions of Rule 11 (III), the loading and unloading of explosives when once begun shall be diligently proceeded with until the same is completed.

XVII.—When the train is being marshalled, wagons loaded with explosive, may be shunted by a locomotive, if they are separated from the engine by not less than three wagons containing no explosive nor easily inflammable substance. This precaution is not necessary with wagons specially constructed for the carriage of explosives. The speed of these movements shall be restricted to five miles an hour; they shall be superintended by a duly authorized officer, who shall be held responsible for the observance of these orders. Flying shunts are strictly prohibited.

XVIII.—Wagons containing explosives shall be placed at the end of the train away from the locomotive, and shall be close-coupled to one another as well as to the adjoining wagons, and shall be preceded and followed by three wagons not loaded with explosive or other traffic of an inflammable nature:

Provided as follows;—

(a) on the Darjeeling-Himalayan Railway, wagons containing explosives and adjoining wagons need not be close-coupled to one another; and

(b) on the Nilgiri Railway only one wagon need intervene between the locomotive and wagons containing explosives.

XIX.—If the wagons employed in the transport of explosives are provided with brakes other than iron brakes, the brakes thereon shall on no account be worked while the wagons are running with a train, nor shall brakes, other than iron brakes, on vehicles immediately adjoining such wagons, be worked while such wagons are so running.

XX.—Wagons shall in every case be locked when loaded with explosives.

XXI.—All operations connected with the transshipment of explosives at junction stations shall take place during daylight.

14. Whoever commits a breach of any of the foregoing rules relating to the mode of conveyance of explosives shall be punishable with a fine which may extend to Rs. 100.

IMPORTATION.

15. Subject to the following provisos, an explosive shall not be imported by sea or land into British India, except under and in accordance with the conditions of a license to import the explosive. Lic.

Provided that explosives may be imported by sea, previous to the grant of an importation license, in accordance with rules I, II, III, and IV of this rule.

I.—Any explosive other than an explosive specified in rule 18 may, previously to the grant of license to import, if it is included in a list published under clause (1) of rule 9 and for the time being in force, and if it is certified to be of British manufacture or, if not of British manufacture, if it is imported from the United Kingdom and covered by the certificate granted by one of His Majesty's Inspector of Explosives in England, be landed in accordance with such regulations as the Local Government may prescribe in this behalf and be stored in a place set apart by the Local Government for this purpose, or in any private magazine declared by the Local Government to be suitable therefor.

II.—Any such explosive of British manufacture, may also be transported by rail to any such private magazines previously to the grant of a license to import.

III.—The Governor-General in Council may extend to any such explosive not of British manufacture regarding which he is satisfied that it has been manufactured under adequate official supervision the privilege of landing granted by rule I but such explosives may not be transported by rail until an importation license has been granted.

IV.—Before any explosive is landed under rules I and III, the consignee shall give to the Chief Customs officer of the port such undertaking, with or without security, as the said officer thinks sufficient, to obey, in the event of the explosive failing to satisfy the prescribed tests, such directions as to its disposal as the Local Government may see fit to prescribe.

If samples are taken, the procedure shall be that described in rule 23.

Provided, also, that explosives of British manufacture may be imported by land, previous to the grant of an importation license, in accordance with rules V and VI of this rule.

V.—Explosives (except those specified in rule 18) included in a list published under rule 9 (1); and certified to be of British manufacture, may, previously to the grant of a license, be imported and conveyed under such conditions as the Local Government may prescribe, to a magazine appointed in this behalf by the Local Government.

VI.—Before an explosive is imported under rule V, the consignee shall give to the Magistrate of the District in which the magazine appointed under rule V is situate, or to the Commissioner of Police if such magazine is situate in a Presidency town or Rangoon, such notice of his intention to import the explosive as the Local Government may prescribe; and shall give such undertaking, with or without security, as the said District Magistrate or Commissioner of Police may require, that he will, in the event of the explosive failing to satisfy the prescribed tests comply with such directions as to its disposal as the Local Government may issue.

If samples are taken, the procedure laid down in rule 24 shall be followed.

16. Whoever imports an explosive in contravention of rule 15 shall be punishable with fine which may extend to three thousand rupees.

ports at which importation is lawful—

17. An explosive shall not be imported by sea except at one of the ports of Calcutta (including Moyapur and Diamond Harbour), Madras, Bombay, Rangoon, Calicut, Karachi, Aden and (in the case of crackers only) Negapatam and Moulmein. But a license to import an explosive by sea from Rangoon into the port of Akyab, Sandoway, Kyauk Phyoo, Tavoy, Mergui or Victoria Point as the case may be, may be granted by the Magistrate of the District in which such port is situated. The fee payable in respect of each such license shall be one rupee, and the license shall be in Form A in the schedule hereto annexed.

21. Licenses for the importation of explosives into British India by land shall be granted by the Magistrate of the District to which the explosives are consigned, or, if the explosives are consigned to a Presidency-town, or Rangoon by the Commissioner of Police. The fee payable in respect of each such license shall be Rs. 10.

under Rule 2.

22. No license shall be granted for the importation of any explosives of the description referred to in Rule 20 unless—

(a) it is an explosive authorized for manufacture in, or importation into, the United Kingdom for general sale,

(b) its importation is recommended by the Chief Inspector of Explosives with the Government of India, and,

(c) if it is an explosive for which a test or examination has been prescribed by or under the orders of the Government of India, samples of it taken as hereinafter provided are certified by the Chemical Examiner or some other officer appointed by the Local Government in this behalf to have passed the test or examination from time to time prescribed.

testing of importations by sea in special cases.

23. On the arrival in any port at which the importation of explosives is lawful, of a ship having on board an explosive other than an explosive of the description referred to in Rule 18, such officer as the Chief Customs Officer authorizes in this behalf shall, as soon as may be, proceed on board and shall, if testing or examination is requisite under the last preceding rule, obtain samples of the explosive.

All explosives of which samples are taken for examination shall forthwith be deposited in a place or magazine set apart or notified under rule 15 I., and shall not be distributed for use until the importer has received from the licensing authority notice that it may be so distributed.

The master of the ship shall give to the said officer, without charge, such samples as he may require. The said officer shall affix to each such sample the name of the ship and of the consignee and such other distinguishing marks as he may think necessary, and shall forward the same to the Chemical Examiner or officer, as aforesaid, for report.

The Chemical Examiner or officer as aforesaid, after testing the said samples, shall without delay forward to the licensing authority, through the Chief Customs Officer, a report under his signature certifying whether the explosive has satisfied the prescribed test.

24. When an explosive imported by land has been conveyed to, and deposited in, the magazine referred to in rule 15-V, the person owning or being in charge of such magazine shall forthwith, if the testing or examination of the explosive is required by Rule 22, deliver free of charge to such officer or person as may be appointed by the Local Government in this behalf such samples as he may require. No explosive of which a sample has been so taken, shall be removed to its destination or distributed for use until the importer or the person in charge of the magazine has received from the licensing authority a notice that it may be so removed or distributed.

Testing of importations by land in certain cases.

The officer or person appointed as aforesaid shall affix to the sample received by him the name of the consignee and such other distinguishing marks as he may think necessary, and shall forward the sample for report to the Chemical Examiner or other officer appointed by the Local Government in this behalf.

The Chemical Officer or such other officer as aforesaid shall, after testing the sample, without delay forward to the licensing authority, through the officer or person from whom he received the sample, a report under his signature certifying whether the prescribed test has been satisfied.

25. Explosives, other than those referred to in Rule 18, which have already undergone the test prescribed by Rules 22 and 23 at the ports of Calcutta (including Moyapur and Diamond Harbour), Madras, Bombay, Rangoon, Calicut, Karachi, or Aden, may be re-imported by sea into any other of those ports under a license granted under Rule 20 without re-testing, but subject, in the case of such explosives as are mentioned in Rule 13, Clause IX, to the production of the certificate prescribed in that clause.

Re-importation from one prescribed port into another

Such certificate shall be valid for six months after date, if the examination has been made between the 15th October and 31st March; but in the case of dynamite, a fresh certificate may be demanded if the consignment is imported between the 1st April and 15th October (both inclusive).

26. The period for which a license to import an explosive, granted under Rules 20 and 21 shall continue in force shall not exceed such period as may seem necessary to the authority granting the license.

Duration of license granted under Rules 20 and 21.

27. The fee payable on a license granted under Rule 20 shall be Rs. 10, but if any explosive imported under a license into a British port is exported thence to another British port named in Rule 17, the necessary license for such re-import may be granted on payment of a fee of one rupee instead of Rs. 10.

Fees for license granted under Rule 20.

28. Every license granted under Rules 18, 20 and 21, shall be in Form A in the Schedule hereto annexed, and shall be subject to the conditions therein prescribed, and also to such additional conditions with respect to the time and place of unloading, landing, delivery and conveyance of the explosive, and such other conditions as may in each case be thought by the licensing officer to be necessary for the public safety or in the interest of the State.

Form of license under Rules 18, 20 and 21.

29. Whoever commits a breach of any condition, subject to which a license under Rules 18, 20 and 21 is granted, shall be punishable with fine which may extend to three thousand rupees.

Penalty.

30. (1) Any of the officers mentioned in clause (2) of this rule may, within the areas respectively specified in that clause, but subject to the provisions of the Indian Arms Act, 1878 (XI of 1878), and of any rules for the time being in force thereunder, in cases to which that Act applies,—

Powers of inspection, search, and seizure, etc.

(a) enter, inspect and examine any carriage or vessel in which an explosive is being transported or imported under a license granted under these rules or any prior rules made under the Indian Explosives Act, 1884 (IV of 1884), or in which he has reason to believe that an explosive has been or is being transported or imported in contravention of the said rules or Act, and may enter, inspect and examine any magazine or place in which explosives are stored under the provisions of rule 15;

(b) search for explosives in any such carriage, vessel, magazine, or place;

(c) take samples of any explosives found therein, on payment of the value thereof, if payment can be made at the time the samples are taken; and

(d) seize, detain, remove and, if necessary, destroy or otherwise render harmless any explosive found therein in respect of which he has reason to believe that any of the provisions of the said rules or Act have been contravened.

(2) The officers and areas referred to in clause (1) of this rule are:—

Officers.

Areas.

The Chief Inspector and Inspector of Explosives. In all parts of British India.

All District Magistrates.

Within their respective districts.

All Magistrates subordinate to the District Magistrate.

Within the areas respectively subject to their jurisdiction.

The Commissioner of Police, and all Police-officers of rank not below that of Inspector, if specially deputed in this behalf by the Commissioner of Police.

In Presidency towns and Rangoon.

All Police-officers of rank not below that of Inspector.

Within the respective areas over which their authority extends.

(3) Whenever the Chief Inspector or an Inspector of Explosives, or any Magistrate subordinate to the District Magistrate, or any Police-officer seizes, detains or removes any explosive under this rule, he shall report the fact to the District Magistrate or (in a Presidency town or its suburbs or in Rangoon) the Commissioner of Police.

(4) Neither the Chief Inspector nor an Inspector of Explosives, nor any Magistrate subordinate to the District Magistrate, nor any Police officer shall under these rules destroy or otherwise render harmless any explosive without the previous sanction of the District Magistrate or (in a Presidency-town or its suburbs or in Rangoon) the Commissioner of Police unless the matter appears urgent and fraught with serious public danger.

(5) Whenever any officer destroys any explosive or otherwise renders it harmless, he shall take and keep a sample thereof, and shall if required, give a portion of the sample to the person owning the explosives or having the same under his control at the time of seizure; and, whenever any officer other than the District Magistrate or Commissioner of Police so deals with any explosive, he shall report the circumstances to the District Magistrate or (in a Presidency-town or its suburbs or in Rangoon) the Commissioner of Police.

GENERAL.

CONDITIONS.

1. This license is given subject to the provisions of the Indian Explosives Act, 1884 (IV of 1884), and the rules thereunder. Certain general rules are quoted separately below.
2. This license shall become void after expiry of the period named thereon.
3. This license is valid for importation only; if the articles named herein are to be transported to any place outside the ^{Presidency town} _{town of}, they must be protected by a transport license, to be issued in accordance with the rules under the Indian Arms Act, 1878 (XI of 1878), except in the case of explosives despatched to places or magazines set apart or notified under the proviso to rule 15.
4. On the outside of each package there shall be affixed in conspicuous characters by means of a brand or securely attached label or mark the word "Explosive," followed by the name of the explosives or other description of the contents and the name and address of the owners or senders.

GENERAL RULES.

31. Every license granted under these rules shall be liable to be forfeited on breach of any of the conditions subject to which it is granted. Forfeiture license.

32. If a person licensed to import an explosive dies or becomes bankrupt or becomes mentally incapable or otherwise disabled, the person carrying on the business of such license shall not be liable to any penalty or forfeiture under the Indian Explosives Act, 1884 (IV of 1884) or the rules thereunder for acting under the license during such reasonable time as may be necessary to allow him to make an application to the authority granting the license for a new license in his own name during the currency of the unexpired portion of the original license. Such new license shall be granted on the payment of one rupee. Exempt penalties sons carry business deceased abled licen

* Note.—In the case of explosives imported into a town other than a Presidency town as defined in the General Clauses Act, 1897 (X of 1897), section 3, clause (41), the name of the town should be inserted.

33. All fees chargeable for licenses under these rules shall ordinarily be levied by means of impressed stamps. An application for the grant or the renewal of a license shall bear the proper stamp: provided that, if it is refused, the value of the separate stamp (if any) which may have been already provided by the applicant for the desired license or renewed license, minus the deductions prescribed by section 54 of the Indian Stamp Act, 1899 (II of 1899), may be refunded to the applicant. An application should not be made on the stamped paper intended for the license or renewed license; but where this has been wrongly done, the value of the stamp may be refunded minus—

- (i) the value of the stamp which should have been affixed to the application, and
- (ii) the deductions prescribed as aforesaid.

Where the fees leviable under these rules have been made over to any local body, the fees shall be paid in such manner as that local authority may from time to time direct.

34. When a license granted in accordance with these rules is lost, or accidentally destroyed, a duplicate may be granted to the licensee on payment of a fee of 8 annas.

35. Any person holding a license, or acting under a license granted in accordance with these rules, shall be bound to produce the same when called upon to do so by any Magistrate, or by any Police officer in charge of a Police station, or by any Police officer of higher rank.

Draft Rule for Testing Explosives.

With reference to Rule 22 of the Rules to regulate the transport and importation of explosives published with this Notification and in supersession of the Notification of the Government of India in the Home Department, No 5529 (Public), dated the 11th October 1901, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to make the following rule on the subject of the tests which explosives should be required to pass before their importation is permitted:

RULE.

Class 1.—Gunpowder class. Gunpowder is not required to pass a test.

Class 2.—Nitrate-mixture class. Nitrate-mixture explosives are not ordinarily required to pass a test. The Local Government, however, or the authorized officer granting the import license under Rules 20 and 21 of the Rules to regulate the transport and importation of explosives published with this Notification may in any particular case or class of cases require that a sample of the explosive which is to be imported be sent first to the Chemical Examiner for an analysis of its constituent parts.

Class 3.—Nitro-compound class. It is for explosives of this class that testing is chiefly required, in respect to the purity of their composition and their liability to liquefaction or exudation. The tests prescribed for nitro-compound explosives are contained in Schedule A attached to this rule.

Class 4.—Chlorate-mixture class. See Schedule A for remarks regarding the testing of this class (*).

Class 5.—Fulminate class. No test has been laid down for explosives of the Fulminate class (*).

Class 6.—Ammunition class. No test is required for explosives of the 1st Division of this class. If the substances of which explosives of the 2nd and 3rd Divisions are composed have to be tested under the preceding rules, they will be equally liable to be tested when enclosed in any case or contrivance and thus falling under the Ammunition class.

Class 7.—Firework class. Explosives of this class are not required to pass a test.

SCHEDULE A.

Heat Test as applied to Explosives of the Nitro-compound Class.

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS.

Apparatus required.

1. A water bath, consisting of a spherical glass or copper vessel [(a) Fig. 1] of about 8 inches diameter, and with an aperture of about 5 inches; the bath is filled with water to within a quarter of an inch of the edge. It has a loose cover of sheet copper about 6 inches in diameter (b), and rest on a tripod stand about 14 inches high (c), which is covered with coarse iron wire gauge (e), and is surrounded with a screen of thin sheet tin or copper (d). Within the latter is placed an Argand burner (f), with glass chimney. The cover (b) has four holes arranged as seen in Fig. II, No. 4 to receive the regulator, No. 3 the thermometer, Nos. 1 and 2 the test-tubes containing the gun-cotton or other materials to be tested. Around holes 1 and 2 on the under side of the cover are soldered three pieces of brass wire with points slightly converging (Fig. III); these act as springs and allow the test-tubes to be easily placed in position and removed.

 - * 3. Two cells of Le Clanche's battery No. 1
 - * 4. A few yards of insulated copper wire
- } if Scheibler's regulator is used.
5. Test-tubes from $5\frac{1}{4}$ to $5\frac{1}{2}$ inches long, and of such diameter that they will hold from 20 to 22 cubic centimeters of water when filled to a height of 5 inches.
 6. India-rubber stoppers, fitting the test-tubes and carrying an arrangement for holding the test-paper, vis., a narrow glass tube passing through the centre of the stopper, drawn out so as to form a hook, or terminating in a platinum wire hook (Fig. IV).
 7. A thermometer, with range not less than from 30° to 212° Fahrenheit.
 8. A minute clock.

Materials required.

(a) Test-paper.—The test-paper is prepared as follows:—45 grains of white maize starch (cornflour), previously washed with cold water, are added to $8\frac{1}{4}$ ounces of distilled water, the mixture is stirred, heated to boiling, and kept gently boiling for 10 minutes; 15 grains of pure potassium iodide (i.e., which has been recrystallized from alcohol) are dissolved in $8\frac{1}{4}$ ounces of distilled water. The two solutions are thoroughly mixed and allowed to get cold. Strips, or sheets, of best white English filter paper, weighing, air dry, from 4.1 to 4.6 grains per 100 square inches, previously washed with water and redried, are dipped into the solution thus prepared, weighing, air dry, about 6.5 grains per 100 square inches, and allowed to remain in it for not less than 10 seconds; they are then allowed to drain and dry in a place free from laboratory fumes and dust. The upper and lower margins of the strips, or sheets, are cut off, and the paper is preserved in well-stoppered or cork bottles and in the dark.† The dimensions of the pieces of test-paper used are about $\frac{1}{10}$ inch by $\frac{1}{10}$ inch (10 mm. by 20 mm.).

* This is not absolutely required, as the temperature of the bath can be kept constant by proper attention to the heating flame.

† When a paper is freshly prepared, and as long as it remains in good condition, a drop of dilute acetic acid, put on the paper with a glass rod, produces no coloration. In process of time, however, the stronger the light to which the paper is exposed, the sooner a drop of acid produces a brown or bluish coloration (a single hour of direct sunlight produces a marked effect), and whenever this is the case the paper should be rejected. After preparation the paper should be kept in the dark for a month before being taken into use. After that, if carefully kept in the dark, it will remain good for six months or more, but should be tested from time to time as above.

(b) Standard tint paper.—A solution of caramel in water is made of such concentration that when diluted one hundred times (10 cc. made up to 1 litre) the tint of this diluted solution equals the tint produced by the Nessler test in 100 cc. water containing 0.000075 grm. of ammonia or 0.00023505 grm. of chloride of ammonium. With this caramel solution lines are drawn on strips of white filter paper* by means of a clean quill pen. When the marks thus produced are dry the paper is cut into pieces of the same size as the test-paper previously described, in such a way that each piece has a brown line across it near the middle of its length, and only such strips are preserved in which the 'brown line' has a breadth varying from $\frac{1}{4}$ mm. to 1 mm. ($\frac{1}{16}$ of an inch to $\frac{1}{8}$ of an inch).

I.—Testing Dynamite, Blasting Gelatine, and other Explosives of the First Division of the Nitro-compound class.

A. DYNAMITE, ETC., ETC.

Nitro-Glycerine preparations, from which the nitro-glycerine can be extracted in the manner described below, must satisfy the following test.

This test, however, though at present looked upon as the most important, as far as testing the purity of the nitro-glycerine is concerned, is in England only one of several which any given sample of nitro-glycerine preparation has to satisfy in; order to establish its compliance with the definition in the Authorised List.

Apparatus required.

A funnel 2 inches across (d), a cylindrical measure divided into grains (e). (See sketch.)

Mode of operation.

About 300 to 400 grains of dynamite (b) finely divided are placed into the funnel which has previously been loosely plugged by some freshly-ignited asbestos (a).

The surface is smoothed by means of a flat-headed glass rod or stopper, and some clean washed and dried Kieselguhr (c) is spread over it to the depth of about $\frac{1}{4}$ inch.

Water is next carefully dropped from a wash bottle upon this Kieselguhr, and when the first portion has been soaked up more is added; this is repeated until sufficient nitro-glycerine has been collected in the graduated measure (e) below.

If any water should have passed through with the nitro-glycerine, it should be removed with a piece of blotting paper, and the nitro-glycerine, if necessary, filtered through a dry paper filter.

Application of the Test.

The thermometer is fixed so as to be inserted through the lid of the water bath described under I, into the water (which is to be steadily maintained at a temperature of 160° Fahr.†) to a depth of 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ inches. Fifty grains of nitro-glycerine, to be tested are weighed into a test-tube in such a way as not to soil the sides of the tube. A test-paper is fixed on the hook of the glass rod, so that when inserted into the tube it will be in a vertical position. A sufficient amount of a mixture of half distilled water and half glycerine to moisten the upper half of the paper is now applied to the upper edge of the test-paper, by means of a camel's-hair pencil, the cork carrying the rod and paper is fixed into the test-tube and the position of the paper adjusted so that its lower edge is about half-way down the tube; the latter is then inserted through one of the perforations of the cover to such a depth that the lower margin of the moistened part of the paper is about five-eighths of an inch above the surface of the cover. The test is complete when the faint brown line which after a time makes its appearance at the line of boundary between the dry and moist part of the paper equals in tint the brown line of the standard tint paper.

* This paper must be carefully washed with distilled water, in the first instance, to remove any traces of bleaching matter, and dried.

† For explosives supplied for His Majesty's Military and Naval Services the temperature is fixed by the War Office at 180°.

The nitro-glycerine under examination will not be considered to have satisfied the test unless the time necessary to produce the standard tint as above described is at least 15 minutes.

B.—BLASTING GELATINE, GELATINE DYNAMITE, AND ANALOGOUS PREPARATIONS.

Fifty (50) grains of blasting gelatine are to be intimately incorporated with one hundred (100) grains of French chalk.* The mixture is to be gradually introduced into a test-tube of the dimensions prescribed above for the dynamite heat test, with the aid of gentle tapping upon the table, between the introduction of successive portions of the mixture into the tube, so that when the tube contains all the mixture it shall be filled to the extent of $1\frac{3}{4}$ inches (one inch and three-quarters) of its height. The test-paper is then to be inserted and the heat is to be applied in the manner prescribed above for the dynamite heat test, and the sample tested is to withstand exposure to 160° Fahr. for a period of ten (10) minutes, before producing a discoloration of the test-papers corresponding in tint to the standard colour test which is employed for governing the results of the dynamite heat test.

(For Exudation and Liquefaction tests for Blasting Gelatiné, etc., etc., see Appendix).

N. B.—Non-gelatinized nitro-glycerine preparations, from which the nitro-glycerine cannot be expelled by water, are tested without any previous separation of the ingredients, the temperature being as above (160° Fahr.) and the time being seven (7) minutes.

C.—CORDITE AND BALLISTITE..

1. Apparatus required.

The apparatus necessary for the application of the heat test to cordite is identical with that described above for explosive of the nitro-compound class generally† with the addition of a mill and a nest of sieves‡ similar to those used at Waltham Abbey for preparing the cordite for testing (see instructions below).

2. Preparation of the sample to be tested.

Pieces half an inch long are cut from one end of every stick selected for the test; in the case of the thicker cordites, each piece so cut is further sub-divided into about four portions. These cut pieces are then passed once through the mill, the first portion of material which passes through being rejected on account of the possible presence of foreign matter from the mill. The ground material is put on the top sieve of the nest of sieves and sifted. That portion which has passed through the top sieve and been stopped by the second is taken for the test. If the mill is properly set, the greater portion of the ground material will be of the proper size.

If the volatile matter in the explosive exceeds 0.5 per cent. the sifted material should be dried at a temperature not exceeding 140° Fahr. until the proportion does not exceed 0.5 per cent.

* This can be readily effected by carefully working the two materials together with a wooden pestle in a wooden Mortar.

The French chalk should be of good commercial quality, and, after being carefully washed with distilled water and dried in a water oven, it should be exposed under a bell jar to moist air until it has taken up about 0.5 per cent. of moisture. It should then be bottled for use; and with ordinary care the limits of 0.5 per cent. can be maintained in keeping.

† In the Waltham Abbey apparatus the cover (Fig. II) has all the holes around the circumference instead of having one in the centre and three around the circumference.

‡ A nest of two sieves with holes drilled in sheet copper. The holes in the top sieve have a diameter = 14 B. W. G.; those in the second = 21 B. W. G.

If too hard for the mill, it may be softened by exposure to the vapour of acetone, or reduced to the necessary degree of sub-division by means of a sharp moderately coarse rasp. Should it have become too soft in the acetone vapour for the mill, it should be cut up into small pieces which may be brought to any desired degree of hardness by simple exposure to air.

Explosives which consist partly of gelatinized collodion cotton and partly of ungelatinized gun-cotton are best reduced to powder by a rasp, or softened by exposure to mixed ether and alcohol vapour at a temperature of 90° to 100° Fahr.

After each sample has been ground, the mill must be taken to pieces and carefully cleaned.

3. Application of the Test.

The thermometer is fixed so as to be inserted through the lid of the water bath described under 1, so as to be immersed in the water to a depth of $2\frac{1}{2}$ inches. The water is maintained at a constant temperature of 180° Fahr. When this temperature is reached, 25 grains of the sifted cordite are put into one of the test-tubes, and collected at the bottom by gentle tapping. A test-paper is fixed on to the hook of the glass rod, so that when inserted into the tube it will be in a vertical position. A mixture of equal parts of distilled water and pure glycerine (Price's) is now applied to the upper edge of the test-paper by means of a camel's-hair pencil, in sufficient amount to moisten the upper half; the stopper carrying the rod and paper is fixed into the test-tube and the position of the paper adjusted, so that its lower edge is about half-way down the tube; the latter is then inserted through one of the perforations of the cover to the same depth as the thermometer. The lower margin of the moistened part of the paper should then be about five-eighths of an inch above the surface of the cover. The test is completed when the faint brown line, which after a time makes its appearance at the margin between the wet and dry portions of the test-paper, equals in depth of tint the brown line drawn on the standard tint paper.

4. The time which elapses between the insertion of the test-tube and the completion of the test must not be less than 15 minutes.

N. B.—In the case of ballistite the treatment is the same, except that when it is in a very finely granulated condition it need not be cut up.

II.—Testing Gun-cotton, Schultz's Gunpowder, E. C. Powder, and other explosives of the 2nd Division of the Nitro-compound class.

A.—COMPRESSED NITRO CELLULOSE, TONITE, ETC., ETC.

Sufficient material to serve for two or more tests is removed from the centre of the cartridge by gentle scraping, and if necessary, further reduced by rubbing through a sieve with a clean hard brush.

The fine powder thus produced is spread out in a thin layer upon a paper tray 6 inches by $4\frac{1}{2}$ inches which is then placed inside a water oven, kept, as nearly as possible, at 120° Fahr.

The wire gauze shelves in the oven should be about 3 inches apart. The sample is allowed to remain at rest for 15 minutes in the oven, the door of which is left wide open.

After the lapse of 15 minutes the tray is removed and exposed to the air of the room for two hours, the sample being at some point within that time rubbed upon the tray with a brush, in order to reduce it to a fine and uniform state of division.

Application of the Test.

The cover of the water bath is fitted with the gas regulator which is inserted through the centre hole (No. 4). The thermometer is fixed into hole No. 3. The water in the bath is then heated to 170° Fahr., and the regulator set to maintain that temperature. Twenty grains of the sample to be tested are weighed out, placed in the test-tube, and gently pressed down until the specimen occupies a space of not more than $1\frac{1}{4}$ inches in a test-tube of the dimensions specified. A test-paper is affixed to the hook of the glass rod or tube, and moistened by touching the upper edge with a drop of distilled water containing 30 per cent. of Price's glycerine. The quantity of liquid used must be only sufficient to moisten about half of the paper. The cork carrying the rod and test-paper is then fixed into the test-tube, and the latter inserted into the bath to a depth of $2\frac{1}{2}$ inches, measured from the cover, the regulator and thermometer being inserted to the same depth. The test-paper is to be kept near the top of the test-tube but clear of the cork until the tube has been immersed for about five minutes. A ring of moisture will about this time be deposited upon the sides of the test-tube a little above the cover of the bath; the glass rod must then be lowered until the lower margin of the moistened part of the paper is on a level with the bottom of the ring of moisture in the tube; the paper is now closely watched. The test is complete when the faint brown line which makes its appearance at the line of boundary between the dry and moist parts of the paper equals in tint the brown line of the standard tint paper.

The interval of time between the first insertion of the tube containing the sample of gun-cotton in the water at 170° and the production of the standard tint constitutes the test and this interval of time must be not less than 10 minutes, or the sample will not be considered to have satisfied the test.

B.—GELATINIZED AND SEMI-GELATINIZED NITRO-CELLULOSE PREPARATIONS.*

Twenty-five grains introduced into the test-tube* of the dimensions prescribed for the dynamite heat test, then proceed as for Blasting Gelatine, etc., taking the temperature at 1800 Fahr., and the time as 15 minutes.

C.—NITRO-CELLULOSE NOT INCLUDED IN A. OR B., SCHULTZ'S POWDER, E. C. POWDER, ETC., ETC.

Sufficient of the sample, without further mechanical division, is dried in the oven as above, and then exposed for two hours to the air. The test as directed above for Compressed Nitro-Cellulose, etc., is then applied, the minimum duration of test being the same, viz., 10 minutes.

D.—PICRIC ACID.

(1) The material shall contain not more than 0.3 part of mineral or non-combustible matter in 100 parts by weight of the material dried at 160° Fahr.

(2) It should not contain more than a minute trace of lead.

(3) One hundred parts of the dry material shall not contain more than 0.3 part of total (free and combined) sulphuric acid, of which not more than 0.1 part shall be free sulphuric acid.

(4) Its melting point should be between 248° and 253° Fahr.

E.—AMMONITE, BELLITE, ROBURITE, AND EXPLOSIVES OF SIMILAR COMPOSITION.

These are required to stand the same heat test as Compressed Nitro-Cellulose.

III.—Testing Chlorate Mixtures :

The material must not be too sensitive † and must show no tendency to increase in sensitiveness on keeping.

The material must contain nothing liable to reduce the chlorate.

Chlorides calculated as Potassium Chloride must not exceed 0.25 per cent.

The material must contain no free acid, or substance liable to produce free acid.

Explosives of this class containing nitro-compounds will be subject to the Heat Test as if they belong to Class III.

APPENDIX.

Exudation and Liquefaction Test for Blasting Gelatine, Gelatine Dynamite and analogous Preparations.

TEST FOR LIQUEFACTION.

A cylinder of blasting gelatine is to be cut from the cartridge to be tested, the length of the cylinder to be about equal to its diameter and the ends being cut flat.

The cylinder is to be placed on end on a flat surface without any wrapper, and secured by a pin passing vertically through its centre.

In this condition the cylinder is to be exposed for one hundred and forty-four (144) consecutive hours (six days and nights) to a temperature ranging from 85° to 90° Fahr. (inclusive), and during such exposure the cylinder shall not diminish in height by more than one-fourth of its original height, and the upper cut surface shall retain its flatness and the sharpness of its edge.

Note.—If the blasting gelatine and the gelatine dynamite to be tested be not made up in a cylindrical form, the above test is to be applied with the necessary modifications.

TEST FOR LIABILITY TO EXUDATION.

There shall be no separation from the general mass of the blasting gelatine or gelatine dynamite of a substance of less consistency than the bulk of the remaining portion of the

* If in a compressed form it should be broken up in the same manner as cordite and ballistite.

† They will be considered too sensitive if they can be exploded however partially by means of a glancing blow with a broomstick on soft wood (such as deal).

materials under any conditions of storage, transport, or use, or when the material is subjected three times in succession to alternate freezing and thawing, or when subjected to the liquefaction test hereinbefore described.

NOTIFICATIONS.

No. 2229 L.S.-G.—The 29th November 1906.—It is hereby notified that the District Sonthal Parganas Road Committee of the Sonthal Parganas have determined to levy road cess for the cess year commencing from the 1st April 1907 at the maximum rate of six pies or two pice on each rupee of the annual value of lands and of the annual net profits from mines, etc., in the tracts in the district of the Sonthal Parganas to which the provisions of the Cess Act were extended under Government Notification No. 4782 R. P., dated the 21st November 1903, and the said rate having been approved by the Commissioner of the Division, the fact is hereby published for general information.

No. 2237 L.S.-G.—The 29th November 1906.—It is hereby notified that the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to approve the election by the members of the Nadia Krishnagar Local Board in the district of Nadia, under section 29 of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act, III of 1885, of Babu Hemadri Nath Mukharji to be their Chairman, vice Mr. F. J. Smith, resigned.

No. 2239 M.—The 29th November 1906.—In accordance with the provisions of clause (a) of section 9 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884 (Ben. Act III of 1884), as amended by the Bengal Municipal (Amendment) Act, 1894 (Ben. Act IV of 1894), and on the recommendation of the Commissioners of the Uluberia Municipality, in the district of Howrah, made at a meeting, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to declare his intention to withdraw the said Municipality from the operation of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884 (Ben. Act III of 1884).

2. Any ratepayer of the said Municipality who objects to such proposed withdrawal should submit his objections in writing, through the District Magistrate, to the undersigned within six weeks from the publication of this notification in the Calcutta Gazette.

No. 2241 L.S.-G.—The 27th November 1906.—Under Rule 9 of the rules framed under section 5 of the Local Authorities Loan Act, 1879, it is hereby notified, for general information, that the Lieutenant-Governor intends to sanction the following application from the District Board of Champaran for a loan of Rs. 50,000 from Government, bearing interest at the rate of 4 per cent. per annum, and repayable in thirty equal half-yearly instalments of Rs. 2,232-7-8 each, unless good reasons are shown to the contrary within one month from the date of the publication of this notification within the said Municipality:—

No. 2244 M.—The 29th November 1906.—It is hereby notified that, under sections 14 and 27 of the Bengal Municipal Act, III of 1884, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to appoint the Executive Engineer, Darjeeling Division, to be a Commissioner, ex-officio of the Darjeeling Municipality, in the district of Darjeeling, vice Mr. R. Advertisement of Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below, to the undermentioned estates, situate in the district of Nadia, will be put up to sale at the Nadia Collectorate on Friday, the 4th January 1907, corresponding to 1313 (B.S.).

Conditions of Sale.

- 1st.—The estates to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price, which will be fixed by the Collector at the time of sale. The purchaser of the estate will be considered as the proprietor of the estates and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estates will be transferred to him, subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity.
- 2nd.—The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings, and by the laws in force; and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the revenue authorities.
- 3rd.—If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.
- 4th.—If the amount of purchase-money exceeds Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale is to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement as in the case of original sale.

NOTICES TO MARINERS.

THE following Notices are published for general information.

CALCUTTA, the 30th November 1906.

W. A. INGLIS,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

INDIA, WEST—BOMBAY COAST.

Bankot buoys relaid.

No. 459 (first publication).—With reference to Notice to Mariners No. 269, dated the 3rd August last, issued by this office, the Bombay Government has given further notice (No. 121 of 1906) that the Bankot buoys have been relaid on the 5th November 1906.

ARABIA, NORTH-EAST—PERSIAN GULF.

Shoal outside Koweit Harbour.

No. 460 (first publication).—With reference to Notice to Mariners No. 361, dated 21st September 1906, issued by this office, the following further notice issued by the Bombay Government (No. 122 of 1906) is republished:—

On examination of the soundings to the southward of Ras al Arz two shoal patches are situated as follows—

'Kola' Patch with a least depth of 7 feet rocky bottom bearing from Ras al Arz Beacon S. 3° E., distant 3.6 miles, and from N. E. corner of Sirra Hill Fort N. $82\frac{3}{4}^{\circ}$ E., distant 3.5 miles.

Another Patch with a least depth of 2 fathoms hard sandy bottom bearing from Ras al Arz Beacon S. $0\frac{3}{4}^{\circ}$ W., distant 2.0 miles, and from N. E. corner of Sirra Hill Fort N. $57\frac{3}{4}^{\circ}$ E., distant 3.8 miles.

The bearings are true.

These shoals are close to the coast, and the neighbourhood should be avoided. No buoy was seen on the Kola Patch as reported.

This Notice affects the following Admiralty Charts:—Persian Gulf, Western Sheet, No. 2837 B., Koweit Harbour, No. 22; and Persian Gulf Pilot, 4th edition, pages 155 and 160.

CEYLON—TRINCOMALI HARBOUR.

Back bay—Shoal.

No. 461 (first publication).—The British Admiralty has given notice (No. 1249 of 1906) of the existence of a rock with a depth of $3\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms over it in Back bay, Trincomali approach, situated in a position from which Elizabeth point bears S. 55° W., distant $1\frac{1}{2}$ miles, and Flagstaff point S. 1° E. This danger, named Flat rock, about 30 feet in diameter, has a depth of 5 fathoms close around, outside which the water deepens suddenly to 10 fathoms.

Approximate position, lat. $8^{\circ} 38\frac{3}{4}'$ N., long. $81^{\circ} 14\frac{1}{2}'$ E.

(Variation Nil in 1906.)

This Notice affects the following Admiralty Charts:—Ceylon, No. 2031; Trincomali, No. 815: Also Bay of Bengal Pilot, 1901, page 117.

CHINA SEA—NATUNA ISLANDS.

Midai (Low) island and Elphinstone rock—Dangers between.

No. 462 (first publication).—The British Admiralty has given notice (No. 1250 of 1906) that a line of dangers, more or less connected together, extends for a distance of about 11 miles to the northward of Low island, which is now known as Midai island. The eastern limit of these dangers is fairly well defined by a line joining the east point of Midai island to Elphinstone or Postillon rocks.

The 3-fathom shoal given in the above notice is detached from this line of dangers.

Approximate position, north point of Midai island, lat. $3^{\circ} 1'$ N., long. $107^{\circ} 48'$ E.

This Notice affects the following Admiralty Charts:—China sea, No. 2660a; Natuna islands, No. 1348: Also China Sea Directory, vol. II, 1906, page 92.

EASTERN ARCHIPELAGO—LOMBOK STRAIT.

NOMINATION OF A MEMBER TO THE BENGAL LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL ON THE RECOMMENDATION OF THE MUNICIPALITIES IN THE ORISSA AND CHOTA NAGPUR DIVISIONS.

APPOINTMENT DEPARTMENT—APPOINTMENT.

Calcutta, the 28th November 1906.

RESOLUTION—No. 4249A.

THE seat in the Bengal Legislative Council of the Hon'ble Mr. Jogesh Chandra Chaudhuri, who was nominated as the representative of the Municipalities in the Rajshahi Division on the 19th January 1905, will be vacant on the 18th January 1907.

2. In paragraph 5 of the Resolution of this Government, No. 1553J, dated the 25th March 1893, it was prescribed that Municipalities should be grouped together, Division by Division, and that Municipalities within each Divisional area should take it in turns to exercise the privilege bestowed upon them of recommending a person for nomination to the Council. In the same paragraph a sketch was given of the form which the rotation would probably assume; but it was mentioned that the Lieutenant-Governor could not bind himself or his successor as to the exact order in which the privilege would in future be exercised.

3. In paragraph 4 of this Government Resolution No. 1747 A.D., dated the 30th June 1906, it was stated that the formation of the new Province of Eastern Bengal and Assam, and the transfer thereto of the Divisions of Dacca, Rajshahi and Chittagong, necessitated the drawing up of a new roster both with regard to the rotation of groups of District Boards and groups of Municipalities, but that no such new roster should be prescribed until the question of reconstituting the Divisions of Bihar had been finally settled.

4. Meanwhile, as during the ensuing or following sessions important legislation affecting the Orissa and Chota Nagpur Divisions is likely to be introduced, namely, Bills to amend the Chota Nagpur Landlord and Tenant Procedure Act, the Chota Nagpur Encumbered Estates Act, and the Chota Nagpur Rural Police Act and a Bill to regulate the maintenance of Land Records in Orissa, and another to amend the Puri Lodging House Act, the Lieutenant-Governor has decided that the recommendation on the present occasion should be made by the Municipalities of the Orissa and Chota Nagpur Divisions. The necessary notification will now be published in the Calcutta Gazette, specifying the Municipalities in these two Divisions as the groups of Municipalities on whose recommendation the Lieutenant-Governor will make a nomination to the vacant seat. Only those Municipalities, which enjoy a clear income from Municipal resources proper of Rs. 5,000 and over, will exercise the right of voting for the selection of a candidate for nomination to the Council. The voting power of each Municipality is calculated on the basis of its ordinary income, according to the following scale as laid down in paragraph 6 of the Resolution of this Government, No. 2307 A., dated the 31st March 1897:—

	Rs.	Rs.	Votes.
Municipalities with an income of	5,000	and less than 10,000	... 1
Ditto ditto	10,000	ditto 20,000	... 2
Ditto ditto	20,000	ditto 50,000	... 3
Ditto ditto	50,000	ditto 1,00,000	... 4
Ditto ditto	1,00,000	ditto 1,50,000	... 5
Ditto ditto	1,50,000	and over	... 6

5. The following statement shows the Municipalities in the Orissa and Chota Nagpur Divisions, which will send delegates to vote for a person to be recommended for the vacant seat, and the number of votes assigned to each according to the above scale. Each Municipality will elect one representative only, and he will be entitled to exercise all the votes of the body which he represents. The ordinary income taken is that for 1905-06:—

6. Under Rule IV of the Regulations framed by the Governor-General in Council with the approval of the Secretary of State under section 1 (4) of the Indian Councils Act, 1892, for Bengal, the Lieutenant-Governor now desires the Commissioners of the Orissa and Chota Nagpur Divisions at once to address the Chairmen of the Municipalities in their own Divisions as enumerated in the above list, requesting them to convene a special meeting of their Municipalities at which one member of the Municipality should be selected to represent them for the purpose of making the recommendation for the seat in Council and expressing a desire to receive the names of any candidates for the Council who may offer themselves for recommendation.

7. The period of three months laid down in Rule VII of the Regulations as that within which a recommendation shall be made to the Lieutenant-Governor will run from the date on which the Commissioners concerned (whichever is latest) issue their request to the Chairmen of the Municipalities.

8. All candidates for the Council should be proposed and seconded by two members of one of the Municipalities included in the groups; and their names, addresses and qualifications with those of their proposers and seconders, should be reported to the Commissioner of the Division concerned by the Chairman of the Municipality to which the proposer and seconder in each case belong, so as to reach the Commissioner not later than a month before the date fixed for the appointment of a representative under Regulation V (c) which date should at the same time be notified to the Commissioner. It will be the business of each Chairman to see that this is done.

9. Each Commissioner should enter the names of candidates who have been duly proposed and seconded, with those of their proposers and seconders, and the other particulars above noted as they reach him, in a list to be kept for the purpose; and he should circulate this list to all the Municipalities concerned in his own Division, and send it to the other Commissioner for circulation to all the Municipalities concerned in the latter's Division, so as to reach them before the date fixed for the appointment of a representative. On the date on which the meeting for the purpose of appointing a representative is held, the list of candidates mentioned above should be circulated to each member present at the meeting. It will rest with the Municipalities, if they see fit, to give clear and definite instructions to their representatives as to the way in which they should vote, that is, as to the candidate for whom they should vote, declaring the name of the candidate to whom all their votes should be given or, if to be given to more than one candidate, the order and manner in which such votes should be given.

10. As soon as the representatives have been selected, they will be called upon by the Commissioners (who will act in concert in making the necessary arrangements) to meet together on an early and convenient date, with special reference to the limit imposed by Rule VII of the Regulations, for the purpose of electing, by a majority of votes, a person whom they will recommend to the Lieutenant-Governor to be nominated as a Member of the Council. The place of meeting will be in the Bengal Secretariat, Writers' Buildings, Calcutta.

11. The electoral representatives present at this meeting shall elect one of themselves to be Chairman, and he shall preside and be responsible for the fair and proper conduct of the voting.

12. The names of all candidates entered on the list mentioned above, together with those of their proposers and seconders, shall be read out by the Chairman, and the representatives shall then proceed to vote. The person elected must obtain a majority of the votes of the representatives present. If on the occasion of the first vote an absolute majority is not obtained, the name of the candidate who obtains the least number of votes shall be withdrawn from the election, and another vote shall then be held for the remaining candidates, and so on, until an absolute majority is obtained.

13. The Chairman of the meeting shall without delay report to the Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal the name of the person elected, with the number of votes obtained, and any other information which it may appear desirable to communicate; and he shall on behalf of the meeting recommend to the Lieutenant-Governor the nomination to the Council of the person so elected. The recommendation will then be submitted to the Lieutenant-Governor by the Chief Secretary.

14. Attention is drawn to the following Rule VI of the Regulations which have been framed by the Governor-General in Council with the approval of the Secretary of State:—

VI.—It shall be a condition in the case of any person to be recommended by a Municipal Corporation or group of Municipal Corporations that he shall be a person resident within the Municipality or the district in which it is situated or in some one of the Municipalities constituting the group of the districts in which they are situated.

A similar condition shall also apply to persons to be recommended by District Boards.

Explanation.—A person is not “resident” within the meaning of this Rule unless he has a place of residence in the locality concerned, and such practical connection with that locality as qualifies him to represent the inhabitants thereof.

If at any time the question is raised whether a person proposed for election is “resident” within the meaning of this rule, the question shall be referred to, and decided by, the Local Government, whose decision shall be final.

Under this rule it is not necessary that the person recommended should be a member of any Municipality concerned, but he must be resident within the Division from which the recommendation is made. Subject to this condition, the rules declare no limit of qualification, and it is left to the representatives to recommend a person under Rule V (c) according to the majority of their votes.

15. It is desirable that the subsidiary arrangements now sanctioned shall, as far as possible, be given effect to by the Municipalities concerned with the minimum amount of official interference. The Divisional Commissioners and the District Magistrates will, of course, afford any assistance which may be required, and will do their utmost to facilitate the smooth working of the elections; but Government officers are forbidden to take part, directly or indirectly, in the election by canvassing, influencing votes, or otherwise interfering with the free choice of the Municipalities. No indication should be given by any official member of any of the Municipalities concerned as to the manner in which he himself intends to vote.

ORDERED that a copy of this Resolution be furnished to the Commissioners of the Orissa and Chota Nagpur Divisions, for information and guidance, and for communication to the Municipalities in their Divisions.

ORDERED also that a copy be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

Sir Patrick Playfair, Kt.

Mr. G. O. Ranger.

The following new members were appointed during the year :—

Mr. W. K. Dods.

Dr. Nelson Annandale.

Colonel G. M. Porter, R.E.

THE GARDEN.

2. The most important event of the year was the visit of Her Royal Highness the Princess of Wales on the 1st January 1906. Her Excellency the Countess of Minto accompanied Her Royal Highness.

ESTABLISHMENT.

3. Rai R. B. Sanyal Bahadur, C.M.S., was in charge of the Garden and Menagerie throughout the year.

BUILDINGS.

4. No permanent improvement of a costly nature was undertaken during the year, but the following additions and alterations to existing structures were made :—

(1) The open air aviary outside the new Sarnomoyi House, which was designed to afford greater freedom and comfort to the birds, has justified the Committee's expectation in every way.

(2) To afford greater facilities of grazing and movement to the gradually increasing number of Sambur deer in the collection, the enclosure containing them was enlarged at a cost of Rs. 1,029.

(3) The covered enclosure for the temporary reception of aquatic birds was enlarged, advantage being taken of the operation to adapt the new portion in such a way as to render it suitable for exhibiting various species of Kingfishers also.

(4) Teak-wood flooring was provided for the remaining eight dens of the larger carnivorous animals at a cost of Rs. 2,600.

(5) Further progress towards the completion of the boundary wall was made during the year by erecting 360 r.ft. of wall on the north of the Garden.

The following is a list of annual repairs:—

"Reptile House" and its cages white-washed and repainted

"Burdwan House" repaired, dens white-washed and iron-work repainted.

"Esra House" repaired and white-washed.

"Gubbay House" white-washed and doors repainted.

"Murshidabad House" and "Schwendler House" for birds repaired and repainted.

"Boundary Wall"—portion already existing color-washed after petty repairs.

Petty repairs of smaller houses, sheds and enclosure were attended to.

Attention was, as usual, devoted to the condition of the roads and footpaths which were maintained in a fair state of repair.

FINANCE.

5. The financial condition of the Garden was exceptionally good, the receipts from visitors having amounted to Rs. 31,224-4, which was better than the preceding year by no less than Rs. 7,056-4.

The accounts of income and expenditure are summarized in Appendix B.

THE PUBLIC.

6. The attendance of visitors was the greatest yet recorded, the turnstile records showing a total for the year of 422,282 persons admitted, a daily average of 1,157, as exhibited in Appendix C. In addition, a large number of children under 4 years of age, and school children attended by their teachers, were admitted free. On the day of the Fancy Fair about 10,000 people, including complimentary ticket-holders, entered the Garden.

E. HAROLD BROWN,
Honorary Secretary.

R. W. CARLYLE,
President.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

I HAVE the honour to submit the following report on the state of the Menagerie of the Garden.

The following comparative tables show how the various collections of animals in the Garden stood during the last four years:—

YEAR.		Mammals.	Birds.	Reptile
1902-03	...	504	810	246
1903-04	...	464	842	238
1904-05	...	450	855	266
1905-06	...	432	772	281

HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS THE PRINCE OF WALES'S COLLECTION.

The leading event of the year was the transportation and reception of the following animals belonging to His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales:—

1 Young rhinoceros.	2 Swamp deer.
1 Do. elephant.	2 Nilgais.
1 Tiger.	2 Uryals.
2 Tiger cubs.	2 White barking deer.
1 Cream coloured barking deer.	1 Tibetan dog.
2 Musk deer.	1 Four-horned antelope.
3 Burhel sheep.	3 Spotted deer.
2 Tahrs.	2 Hog deer.
2 Leopards.	4 Slender weasels.
2 Himalayan bears.	5 Indian antelope.
3 Sambur deer.	Pheasants, partridges and thrushes.

Special arrangements had to be made for their lodgment in the Garden prior to their departure to the Zoological Society's Garden, London. The task of conveying such a large number of animals from Raxaul on the Nepal Frontier to Calcutta, especially as some of them were extremely susceptible to unfavourable weather conditions then prevailing, was by no means easy; but, owing to the facilities kindly afforded by the Bengal and North-Western and East Indian Railway Companies, it was satisfactorily performed.

ACQUISITIONS.

The Government of Egypt having made a present of three young African lions to the Government of India, the latter in their turn presented them to this Garden. Writing about these lions, Captain S. S. Flower, Director, Zoological Garden, Ghizeh, said that they were all wild bred, young and very good tempered, and were of the celebrated Kordofan race which attains to a larger size than most races of African lions.

When sending the lions, at Lord Cromer's request, to the Government of India, Captain Flower took the opportunity of including in the consignment the following African animals for exhibition in this Garden :—

1 Grivet monkey.	1 Pair Macaco lemurs.
1 Hamadryad monkey.	1 Do. Ring-tailed lemurs.
4 Ibero tortoises.

Of the animals acquired by purchase, the following deserve notice :—

- 1 Hybrid kiang
- 2 Brown bears from Syria.
- 2 African lions.
- 3 Arabian gazelles, obtained through the good offices of Messrs. Mackinnon, Mackenzie & Co., Calcutta.
- 1 Malayan Tapir.
- 2 Chapman's zebras.
- 2 Jaguars
- 2 Pallas's cats.

The following animals were bred in the Menagerie :—

4 Rhesus monkeys.	2 Banting.
1 Common marmoset.	1 Great kangaroo.
1 Mongoose lemur.	9 Spotted-bill ducks.
1 Leopard.	3 Large-billed parakeets.
5 Spotted deer.	3 Button quails.
4 Sambar deer.	3 Common mynas.
1 Sika deer.	2 Crested pigeons.
3 Indian Antelopes.	6 Red munias.

EXCHANGES.

In acknowledgment of Captain Flower's courtesy and good offices, the following animals were sent to him for exhibition in the Ghizeh Garden :—

2 Entellus monkeys.	1 Scarlet ibis.
1 Adjutant.	2 Mandarin ducks.
2 Nicobar pigeons.	1 Gold pheasant.
2 Crowned pigeons.	2 Burmese peafowls.
2 Black and white ibises	2 Saras cranes.

At the request of the Government of India a full-grown tiger was sent to the Zoological Garden at Pretoria.

A list of donors and their donations during the year 1905-06 is given in Appendix D.

LOSSES.

Of the losses by death, the following require special mention :—

One Lioness, one Waterbuck, one Bornean ape, two Clouded leopards, one Puma, one Swamp deer, one Brown-antlered deer, and one Argus pheasant, which was an old inhabitant of the garden. Unfortunately, however, the list is not exhaustive. There were other losses by death, during the year, but most of them were due to causes for which the management of the garden could not be responsible.

PROVISIONS.

The commissariat of the Garden, as its importance required, was carefully looked after. The new ranges of godowns and sheds, with their annexes, largely contributed towards the more efficient management of the department.

Minor structural improvements are still necessary, and it is hoped that they will be carried out before long.

• A great deal of vigilance is always required to be exercised in respect to the quality of food supplied for the animals, but to obtain them according to the requisite standard is not so easy as may be supposed. Considerable difficulty has for some time past been experienced in procuring wholesome beef and mutton at prices fixed many years ago. As, however, the difficulty is of complex origin, caused largely by the state of meat-supply in the local market, mere revision of prices will not remedy the evil. In the circumstances, it may be necessary before long to consider whether a well-equipped slaughter-house connected with the Garden will not be a desirable adjunct to its commissariat department.

The same difficulty has been experienced with respect to the milk-supply of the Garden. Trouble, worry, and failure in obtaining pure and fresh milk led the management to have recourse to the use of preserved milk, which, however, does not meet the requirements in every case.

GENERAL CONDITION OF THE ANIMALS. •

The results of the few improvements introduced of late have been, on the whole, encouraging. With the exception of a few suspected cases of anthrax among the bovidæ there has been no outbreak of epidemics of any kind, and it is hoped that, with the gradual introduction of improved hygienic measures, their frequency and virulence will be greatly diminished. Of improvements affecting the health and comfort of animals, the construction of the open-air aviary connected with the Sarnomoyi house for birds has been the most important. In its large, lofty, and airy cages ornamented with green lawn and vegetation, birds of various species fly about as if in their wild state—pleasing to the visitors to look at, and enjoyable to the birds themselves. From what some of the species have already attempted in respect to their domestic economy, it is evident that they cannot but be comfortable in their new home.

Most of the older inhabitants of the garden, with a few exceptions, maintained excellent health. That improved housing has much to do with the health of the animals was abundantly proved by the fact that the condition of the smaller carnivorous animals markedly improved on their removal from the dark and ill-ventilated smaller carnivora house to an open shed, by no means an ideal place, except in respect to light and ventilation.

COLLECTION OF ANIMALS.

It is time to consider whether the collection of animals in the Garden cannot be further increased and made more representative of the Indian fauna. Southern India remains practically unexploited. None of the Somnopheteci from that sub-region have ever been exhibited in the Garden. No attempt has been made to obtain a specimen of the Slender Loris or a Spotted Cat. Such is also the case with respect to the rich Sub-Himalayan regions. Of Himalayan birds, the Garden has hitherto been satisfied with the occasional acquisitions of such specimens as casually find their way into the Calcutta market. Of ducks and geese, large numbers are, from time to time, obtained by presentation and purchase, but no serious attempts have yet been made to exhibit a representative collection of various kinds of smaller waders which are so plentiful in India during the cold weather. While the present state of the collection can be well maintained as it has hitherto been done by the generosity of Government officials and private individuals, who have always helped the institution, and by occasional purchases in the local market, to expand it in the direction indicated above, employment of agencies at selected centres, such as, Darjeeling, Mussoorie, Trivandrum and other likely places, is absolutely necessary. As enquiries are from time to time received from the management of other Zoological Gardens in India, such as Lahore, Trivandrum, and Jaipur, about animals they wish to acquire, it may be suggested in this connection that the formation of an "Interprovincial Committee" with a view to furthering the common object of acquiring animals may be formed.

Respectfully submitted.

RAMBRAMHA SANYAL,

Supdt., Zoological Garden, Calcutta.

GENERAL SUMMARY.—No rain has fallen during the week in the Province. Harvesting of paddy continues. Sowings of rabi crops are reported to be approaching completion in Bihar. Rain is needed for these crops in parts of Champaran and Purnea. Damage is being done to the young poppy crop by caterpillars in some places in Muzaffarpur. The number of persons now receiving gratuitous relief as given in district returns is:—24 Parganas 1,251, Saran 112, Muzaffarpur 3,263, Darbhanga 18,719—total 23,345. The number of persons attending test-works is—Muzaffarpur 55, and Darbhanga 15,343. Cattle-disease prevails in eight districts. Cholera continues in parts of Muzaffarpur and Bhagalpur, and is also reported now from Burdwan and Jessore. Small-pox is reported from Khurda and Bhubaneswar in Puri. The price of common rice has risen in one district only and has fallen in fourteen districts.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from eye observations.	65.27

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Bäckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. The rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

The 8th December 1906.

No 133 Marine.—Mr. J. Sherman, Branch Pilot, is granted privilege leave for two months and six days under article 676 (a) of the Civil Service Regulations, combined with special leave for three months and 24 days under article 673 of the Civil Service Regulations, with effect from the 13th December 1906.

W. A. INGLIS,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The 11th December 1906.

No. 134 Marine.—Under the powers conferred by section 36 of the Indian Steam-ships Act, 1884, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased, with the sanction of the Governor-General in Council, to make the alterations indicated below in the rules for regulating the grant of Certificates of Competency to Engineers of steam-going steam ships, which were sanctioned under notification No. 46 Marine, dated the 7th April 1905.

Rule 20(a).

The following is to be inserted after the first paragraph of sub-rule (a) of rule 20 :—

Time spent in a technical school cannot be accepted as equivalent to more than two years' artisan service, and time spent in foreign technical schools can in no circumstances be recognised.

The following is to be added as rule 24A after rule 24 :—

Foreign Engineer.

24A. Foreign Engineers cannot be examined for a First Class Certificate unless they have performed the sea-service stated in rule 21, with the requisite British Certificate. The service may have been performed in foreign vessels if the candidate can produce satisfactory testimonials as to conduct and character, and is able to prove that the service has been in the required capacities, and that during the period of service he has held a British Certificate of Competency of the rank required by the Regulations [See rule 9].

Rule 33.

The words "fishing boats" are to be substituted for "trawlers"

Rule 36.

The following is to be substituted for rule 36 :—

Certificates of service.

36. An officer who has attained the rank of Engineer Lieutenant or Engineer Sub-Lieutenant in His Majesty's Navy or the rank of Engineer or Assistant Engineer in the Indian Marine Service, is entitled without examination, if an Engineer Lieutenant or Engineer, to a Certificate of Service as First-Class Engineer, and if an Engineer Sub-Lieutenant or Assistant Engineer, to a Certificate of Service as Second-Class Engineer. These officers may be examined for a Certificate of Competency on the same conditions as Engineers of the Mercantile Marine.

An officer who has attained the rank of Artificer Engineer in His Majesty's Navy or Indian Marine Service is also entitled without examination to a Certificate of Service as Second-Class Engineer.

Annual Examination of Pleaders in Surveying.

1. The next Survey Examination for Pleaders will be held in February 1907.

2. Applications for admission to appear at the examination should in the first place be submitted to the District Judge in whose Court or in Courts subordinate to whom the Pleader ordinarily practises. The District Judge will require evidence from all applicants that they have undergone some training in practical surveying. He will not countersign the application of a candidate who fails to satisfy him on this point; nor will such a candidate be permitted to appear at the examination.

3. Candidates whose applications have been countersigned by the District Judge must submit their applications to the Director of Public Instruction, and these must be received on or before the 15th December 1906. After this date no more applications will be received.

4. The application should state the centre at which the candidate intends to appear, and all particulars as to the length of time the applicant has practised in the Court, and the full address, etc., necessary to secure that letters will reach the applicant.

5. Each application should be accompanied by the prescribed fee of Rs. 30,* which will in no case be refunded.

6. Only pleaders practising in one of the Courts of the Province of Bengal will be eligible for the examination.

7. The examination will be held at three centres, viz., Patna, Cuttack and Sibpur.

8. The subjects for examination are noted below:—

(1) Paper on General Elementary Surveying, including the theodolite and levelling.

(2) Practical examination in the field in—

(a) Chain, and chain and compass surveying.

(b) Plane-tableing.

(c) Plotting.

(d) Levelling.

(e) The use of the theodolite and the permanent and temporary adjustment of instruments.

9. Candidates are required to secure 40 per cent. of the marks in the paper on surveying and 50 per cent. in the practical portion of the examination.

10. The rules regarding the Pleaders' Survey Examination were published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 28th September 1901.

11. The programme for the examination will be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1. The opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2. The opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which, provision is made by clause 13 of these conditions of sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3. The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M., but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4. Each lot shall contain five chests.

5. A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale, noted in the margin,

DEPOSIT.

When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,500 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.

On bids of Rs. 1,500 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,800 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.

On bids of Rs. 1,800 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.

And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional to the extent of Rs. 400.

shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this office by Bank of Bengal receipts or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M., in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M., or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

6. The said Promissory Notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7. The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale or 1-30 P.M., if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8. No tender of money, Bank of Bengal receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9. The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and, in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10. Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests ordinarily required to be included in each certificate or order.

11. No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12. The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand render at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal receipts, or Government securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13. With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually by Rs. 5 at a time until a bid is obtained; and the first bona fide bidder for a lot, after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described, shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14. The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remains a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15. In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16. The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—

No. 1, Certificate of the opium advertised for sale;

No. 2, Report of the examination of such opium.

17. The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna Factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazipur Factory for the year 1905-1906, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug, when packed at the Patna and Ghazipur Factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the office of the Board of Revenue.

18. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

Advertisement of Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary rights of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below, to the undermentioned estates situate in the district of Hooghly will be put up to sale at the Hooghly Collectorate on the 21st December 1906, corresponding with 6th Pous 1313 (B.S.).

The purchaser will be subject to the following conditions of sale:—

Conditions of Sale.

1st.—The estate to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price which will be fixed by the Collector at the time of sale. The purchaser of the estate will be considered as the proprietor of the estate, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity.

2nd.—The sale is to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings and by the laws in force, and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the Revenue authorities.

3rd.—If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

4th.—If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the 15th day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding day, the sale is to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser after issue of advertisement as in the case of original sale.

Advertisement of Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below, to the undermentioned estates, situate in the district of Nadia, will be put up to sale at the Nadia Collectorate on Friday, the 4th January 1907, corresponding to 1913 (B.S.).

Conditions of Sale.

- 1st.—The estates to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price, which will be fixed by the Collector at the time of sale. The purchaser of the estate will be considered as the proprietor of the estates and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estates will be transferred to him, subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity.
- 2nd.—The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings, and by the laws in force; and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the revenue authorities.
- 3rd.—If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.
- 4th.—If the amount of purchase-money exceeds Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale is to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement as in the case of original sale.

THE INDIAN LAW REPORTS.

Published in FOUR SERIES, viz.

CALCUTTA, MADRAS, BOMBAY AND ALLAHABAD.

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor General in Council, are printed in monthly Parts, which are issued, as soon as possible after the first of each month, at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

The Reports comprise four Series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat Book Depot; and the Madras, Bombay and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

Persons desiring to subscribe for or purchase the Reports should apply to—the Officer in charge, Bengal Secretariat Book Depot, Calcutta, or the Superintendent, Government Press, Madras, or the Superintendent, Government Central Press, Bombay, or the Curator of Government Books, United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, Allahabad.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORTS ON INLAND EMIGRATION FOR THE YEAR ENDING THE 30TH OF JUNE 1906.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—EMIGRATION.

Calcutta, the 10th December 1906.

READ—

The reports on Inland Emigration for the year ending the 30th of June 1906 submitted by the Superintendents of Emigration, Calcutta, the Sonthal Parganas, Hazaribagh, Ranchi, Palamau, Manbhum and Singbhum and Sambalpur.

The remarks of the Commissioners of the Bhagalpur, Chota Nagpur and Orissa Divisions on the reports submitted by the Superintendents of Emigration in their respective Divisions.

1. During the year the district of Sambalpur was transferred from the Central Provinces to the jurisdiction of this Government, while the port of embarkation for emigrants at Goalundo and the landing station at Chandpur passed to the control of the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam.

2. The question of the supply of labour for the tea gardens of Assam having for some time past engaged attention and the special enquiries instituted having demonstrated that the situation in Assam compared unfavourably with that obtaining in other tea-producing tracts of India, both in respect of the relations between employer and employed, and as regards the system of obtaining labour, the Government of India, in a Resolution dated the 20th February 1906, decided that the Assam Labour and Emigration Act (VI of 1901) should be withdrawn from the Surma valley and the districts of Kamrup and Goalpara, but at the same time considered it undesirable that the withdrawal of the Act should take effect until the questions connected with emigration to the districts of the Upper Assam valley had been examined and reported on by a Committee. The Government of India appointed a Committee known as the Assam Labour Enquiry Committee for this purpose, indicating the points which required investigation. The Committee's report has been received and is now under the consideration of the Government.

3. It had been brought to the notice of the Government that the inland steam companies were losing money in carrying emigrants from Cachar and Sylhet by reason of the operation of Rule 165 of the rules framed by the Government of Bengal under Act VI of 1901, which required that every steamer authorised to convey emigrants to the labour districts should carry a medical officer. The question having been carefully examined by Government, in consultation with the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam, the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals and the Superintendent of Emigration, Calcutta, it was decided to amend the Rule. Provided that certain conditions are complied with, the most important being to the effect that the principal river-side dispensaries should be subsidised by the steamer companies for rendering assistance in case of need, the employment of a medical officer on board steamers proceeding to Cachar and Sylhet is no longer obligatory when the number of emigrants is less than 50.

4. In the Resolution recorded on last year's reports a reference was made to the practice of taking persons from notified districts to depôts situated in places outside those areas for despatch as free emigrants. It was stated that a rule had been framed prescribing that details descriptive of all persons recruited under section 92 should be entered in a register and laying down that no emigrant should be despatched from places of accommodation until an officer of Government had inspected the register. Complaints were received during the year under review that the observance of this rule caused great delays and much inconvenience. The question was referred to the Assam Labour Enquiry Committee, and will be considered in connection with the Committee's report.

5. The Inland Labour Transport Fund still continues to be in an unsatisfactory condition although the actual deficit was less than in previous years owing largely to the transfer of the emigration establishments at Goalundo and Chandpur to the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam. The Government of India in September, 1905, sanctioned the temporary abolition, and have recently consented to the permanent abolition, of the post of Traveling Superintendent of Emigration for Bengal and the Central Provinces.

6. During the past year 37,115 emigrants of all classes recruited from Bengal, Madras and the Central Provinces, embarked at Goalundo and Dhubri as against 22,322 in the previous year. Of this number, 4,765 or 12·84 per cent. were recruited by licensed contractors under Chapter III of the Act, 10,934 or 29·46 per cent. by garden sardars working under Chapter IV of the Act, 1,039 or 2·80 per cent. by specially employed sardars working under sections 90 and 91, and 20,377 or 54·90 per cent. under the system of free recruitment permissible under section 92 in all areas except Chota Nagpur and the Sonthal Parganas. There has been an increase in the number of all classes of emigrants, the increase being most marked in the number of emigrants recruited under the free system. In Bengal, excluding Chota Nagpur and the Sonthal Parganas, which are closed to free recruitment, the number of emigrants despatched under section 92 during the year is nearly double what it was in the year 1904-05, while the number recruited under Chapters III and IV is considerably less, the variation being apparently due to the fact that recruiters find it easier and more profitable to carry on business under the free system. In the newly transferred district of Sambalpur also there has been a falling off in the number of emigrants registered under Chapters III and IV, the decline being attributed to the extraordinary growth of free recruitment in the adjoining Native States which offer better inducements as recruiting grounds. In Chota Nagpur and the Sonthal Parganas, however, in spite of the number who are believed to be taken outside those areas and recruited under the free system by a fraud upon the law, to which they themselves may or may not be parties, there has been an increase in the number of emigrants recruited under the provisions of Chapters III and IV and sections 90 and 91 of the Act. This result is attributed to bad crops and the exceptionally high price of food grains.

7. The reports under review indicate that abuses in connection with recruitment still continue. The number of criminal cases connected with emigration during the year was 181 as compared with 157 in 1905, but it is satisfactory to observe that the proportion of criminal cases to the number of emigrants actually decreased. The hope is, therefore, entertained that the proportion of emigrants who are induced to go to the labour districts by fraud, deceit or coercion is steadily diminishing.

8. The practice of taking persons from prohibited areas to the free depôts at Asansol, Raniganj, Midnapore and Kharagpur, is referred to in the following extracts from the reports received from local officers:—

* * * * *

The amendments of the law effected in 1901 have greatly reduced the abuses that formerly prevailed, and complaints of abduction are far fewer than they were formerly. There are still, however, cases of this kind. The provisions of the law prohibiting recruitment by contractors in certain areas are constantly being evaded. These malpractices are rendered comparatively easy by the fact that there are free depôts at Asansol and Raniganj on the borders of this division, and that the business is so profitable that persons implicated can afford to disburse large sums in order to spoil cases. The Ranchi and Manbhum reports show that in those districts active steps were taken to check malpractices as much as possible, and that a number of offenders were caught and punished.

* * * * *

17. Recruitment of coolies by persons other than the garden sardars, whose certificates were duly countersigned for this district, and recruiters duly licensed on applications of the contractors, was also frequent during the year under report. I am of opinion that there was no increase in the actual amount of illegal recruitment—it was indeed probably slightly less—but every effort was this year put forth to check it, and special police officers were deputed to investigate as soon as information was received. There were 9 such cases brought to trial in which 16 such recruiters were involved, of whom 1 was sentenced to pay a fine of Rs. 150, 1 to suffer rigorous imprisonment for 9 months, including solitary confinement for two months and to pay a fine of Rs. 100, 4 to 6 months' rigorous imprisonment each including one month's solitary confinement in each case, 3 to six months' rigorous imprisonment each, 4 to three months' rigorous imprisonment each, including one month's solitary confinement each; in respect of 2 of them, 1 was acquitted and 2 awaited their trial at the close of the year, 1 of whom has since been sentenced to three months' rigorous imprisonment with one month's solitary confinement. In all these cases the coolies were not registered in this district, although they were recruited in it, but smuggled and registered elsewhere, some at Chaibassa, some sold at Asansol and some at Calcutta and other places.

* * * * *

11. Thirty-three cases were instituted during the year under report of which 15 were under section 164 of the Emigration Act, 5 under 170, 4 under 184, 1 under 167 and 169, 5 under 168, 1 under 363 and 417 of the Indian Penal Code, and section 164 of Act VI of 1901, 1 under section 341 of the Indian Penal Code, and 1 under 341 of the Indian Penal Code and 168 of the Emigration Act. Of the cases instituted under section 164 of Act VI of 1901, 6 cases ended in the conviction of the accused persons. In the remaining 9 cases the accused were either acquitted or discharged for want of sufficient evidence, as the witnesses, and, in some cases the complainants themselves were gained over. The fact that once a cooly, however illegally recruited, is traced and restored to his relatives, no one has any very strong motive for securing a conviction, is a standing difficulty in the way of bringing even the most flagrant offenders to justice. As in previous years, frequent complaints were received regarding the enticing away of coolies to the free depôts at Asansol, Raniganj or Midnapore. Enquiries in such cases have nearly always proved abortive, and it is certain that such coolies are almost always registered under false names and descriptions. The number of prosecutions for fraudulent recruitment rose from 12 to 15 in this district.

* * * * *

17. No cases of unauthorized recruitment were discovered during the period from 1st July 1905 to 30th June 1906. One case, which was pending on the 30th June 1905, was disposed of during the period under report. Of the five accused three were acquitted and two sentenced each to undergo three months' simple imprisonment. Indications were not wanting that large numbers of inhabitants of this district were placed under contract under false names and addresses at places outside the notified area. This traffic is most pernicious and it shows that many unauthorized persons are constantly recruiting illegally within the notified area. There were during the year several cases of complaints of the disappearance of individuals. In all these the missing persons could not be traced. The system of pass-ports and verifications of emigrants' home addresses advocated by me in last year's report should be introduced without further delay.

6. There were 36 prosecutions for fraudulent and illegal recruitment during the year against 24 of the preceding year and seven sardars were prosecuted against nil the year before for not returning to their gardens on the expiry of the term of their licenses. Sixteen out of the 36 cases of illicit recruiting were at Deoghar for smuggling recruits into Raniganj and there were similar prosecutions at Sadar for taking unregistered recruits to Rampur Hat or Raniganj. The rest of the cases were for unlicensed recruiting.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

T. W. RICHARDSON,
Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

GENERAL SUMMARY.—There was no rain during the week. Harvesting of winter paddy is still in progress. Rabi sowings are almost all over in the Bihar districts; they are still going on in some places in Lower Bengal. Rain is needed for the rabi crops in Gaya, Champaran and Purnea. Prospects of these crops are unfavourable in Darbhanga for want of rain. Sugarcane-pressing continues in Bihar. It has also commenced in Orissa. The number of persons on gratuitous relief is 2,411 in Muzaffarpur and 18,167 in Darbhanga. Only six persons are reported to be on test-works, in the Madhubani subdivision of district Darbhanga. The number on relief works in Darbhanga is 18,408. Cattle-disease exists in eight districts. Fodder and water are sufficient. Cholera continues in parts of Burdwan, Jessore and Bhagalpur. Small-pox is reported from Burdwan and Puri. The price of common rice has risen in six and fallen in ten districts.

SUMMARY OF THE RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE MONTH OF NOVEMBER 1906.

The rainfall of November was confined to the first four days of the month throughout the Province, with the exception of a few districts in Bihar, where it was rainless throughout the month. It was in excess in the districts of Midnapore, Howrah, Murshidabad, Jessore and Khulna in South-West Bengal, in Bhagalpur and the Sonthal Parganas in Bihar, and in defect in all the districts of Orissa and Chota Nagpur, except the district of Singhbhum.

In South-West Bengal the rainfall was almost normal; while in Bihar and Orissa it was in defect and in Chota Nagpur in excess.

From the abstract table it will be seen that South-West Bengal received 97 per cent. Bihar 39 per cent., Orissa 26 per cent. and Chota Nagpur 117 per cent. of the normal.

The total rainfall from January to the end of November 1906 was 95 per cent. of the normal in South-West Bengal, 96 per cent. in Bihar, 81 per cent. in Orissa and 92 per cent. in Chota Nagpur.

Full details of the rainfall registered at each rainfall station in all the districts of Bengal are given in the accompanying table, day by day, for the month.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE CALCUTTA GAZETTE, DECEMBER 12, 1906. 1809

The following table compares the rainfall in the four divisions during November with the normal fall, the actual being given as a percentage of the normal. The table also shows the actual falls for each of the previous months of the year, expressed in the same notation, and the last column of the table shows the total rainfall of the past eleven months of the year :—

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formulae.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. The rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

The 18th December 1906

No. 13~Marine.—The following Order in Council, dated the 22nd October 1906, published in pages 895 and 896, Part I of the Gazette of India of the 8th December 1906, is republished for general information.

W. A. INGLIS,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

AT THE COURT AT BUCKINGHAM PALACE.

The 22nd day of October 1906.

PRESENT :

THE KING'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY.

PRIME MINISTER.
LORD PRESIDENT.
LORD PRIVY SEAL.

LORD CHAMBERLAIN.
LORD SUFFIELD.

WHEREAS by "The Merchant Shipping Act, 1894," it is (amongst other things) enacted that where the Legislature of any British Possession provides for the examination of and grant of Certificates of Competency to persons intending to act as Masters, Mates or Engineers on board British ships, and the Board of Trade report to His Majesty that they are satisfied that the examinations are so conducted as to be equally efficient with the examinations for the same purpose in the United Kingdom under the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, and that the Certificates are granted on such principles as to show the like qualifications and competency as those granted under the said Act and are liable to be forfeited for the like reasons and in the like manner, His Majesty may, by Order in Council—

- (1) declare that the said Certificates shall be of the same force as if they had been granted under the said Act;
- (2) declare that all or any of the provisions of the said Act which relate to Certificates of Competency granted under that Act shall apply to the Certificates referred to in the said Order;
- (3) impose such conditions and make such regulations with respect to the said Certificates and to the use, issue, delivery, cancellation and suspension thereof as

His Majesty may think fit, and impose penalties not exceeding fifty pounds for the breach of those conditions and regulations:

And that upon the publication in the London Gazette of any such Order in Council as last aforesaid, the Order shall, as from the date of the publication or any later date mentioned in the Order, take effect as if it were enacted by Parliament:

And whereas at the coming into operation of the said Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, there were in force the Orders in Council of the 9th day of May 1891 and the 23rd day of November 1893 hereinafter mentioned, being Orders in Council made under enactments repealed by the said Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, and it was provided by the said Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, that Orders in Council so made should remain in force as if made or granted under the said Merchant Shipping Act, 1894:

And whereas by the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, it is further provided that His Majesty may, by Order in Council, revoke, alter or add to any Order in Council made under the Merchant Shipping Acts:

And whereas by the said Order in Council of the 9th day of May 1891, it was declared inter alia that Colonial Certificates of Competency granted by certain Authorities therein named and described in the case of the several British Possessions therein mentioned to persons intending to act as therein mentioned on board British ships should be of the same force as if they had been granted under the Acts relating to merchant shipping:

And whereas by the said Order last mentioned the regulations set out in the Schedule A thereto with respect to the said Colonial Certificates of Competency were imposed and made, and it was declared that the regulations set out in the said Schedule A thereto should apply to all Colonial Certificates of Competency that might theretofore have been or should thereafter be granted:

And whereas by the said Order in Council of the 23rd day of November 1893, it was declared that Colonial Certificates of Competency granted by the Marine Board of Victoria from and after the 21st day of December 1888 as therein mentioned should be of the same force as if they had been granted under the Acts relating to merchant shipping, and should be subject to the same conditions and regulations as are set out in Schedule A to the said Order in Council of the 9th day of May 1891:

And whereas by the provisions of the Navigation (Amendment) Act, 1899, passed by the Legislature of New South Wales and by the provisions of the Shipping and Seamen Act, 1903, passed by the Legislature of New Zealand, certain changes were made in the Authorities authorised by the said Legislatures respectively to grant Colonial Certificates of Competency in those Possessions respectively, and other similar changes may be made by the Legislature of the British Possessions referred to in the said Orders in Council with regard to the Authorities authorised to grant such Certificates in such several Possessions:

And whereas it has been made to appear to His Majesty that it is expedient that the said Orders in Council should be so altered as to apply to Certificates of Competency granted by the proper Authority for the time being in the British Possessions mentioned in the said Orders in Council:

Now, therefore, His Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of His Privy Council, is hereby pleased—

To declare that the Colonial Certificates of Competency granted or to be hereafter granted by the Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, Administrator, Head of the Government, Minister, Board, Body or Corporation of or in any British Possession mentioned in the said Orders in Council for the time being authorised by the Legislature or Legislative Authority of such Possession to grant Colonial Certificates of Competency (hereinafter called "the proper Authority") from and after the respective dates in the case of the several Possessions with reference to the several kinds of Certificate in the said Orders in Council mentioned shall be of the same force as if they had been granted under the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, and shall be subject to the same conditions and regulations as are set out in Schedule A to the said Order in Council of the 9th day of May 1891, and the said Orders in Council shall be read and construed as if the proper Authority had been originally mentioned therein in the case of each such Possession in lieu of the Authority in each case actually named and described therein.

A. W. FITZROY.

The 18th December 1906.

A. EARLE,

Director of Public Instruction, Bengal.

OFFICE OF THE DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION, UNITED PROVINCES.

NOTICE.

Dated Allahabad, the 2nd October 1906.

THE Local Government having approved of an application made by Raja Tasadduq Rasul Khan, c.s.i., of Jahangirabad in the Bara Banki district, that a sum of Rs. 20,200 be vested under the designation of the "Tasadduq Rasul Arabic Scholarship Endowment Trust, Aligarh," in the Treasurer of Charitable Endowments for the territories subject to the said Local Government, to be applied in Trust upon the terms that the interest accruing thereon be expended in the payment of scholarships for the higher study of Arabic at the Muhammadan Anglo-Oriental College, Aligarh, on certain conditions, the following is published for general information:—

- (1) that the scholarships shall be awarded in each year to Muhammadan students of Arabic who, after having passed the examination for the time being prescribed for the B. A. degree of any University to which the Indian Universities Act, 1904 (VIII of 1904), applies purpose to study in the Muhammadan Anglo-Oriental College, Aligarh, for two years for the examination for the time being prescribed for the M. A. degree in Arabic of the Allahabad University;
- (2) that there shall be one or more scholarships of the value of Rs. 20 per mensem, tenable for two years; and the Secretary and the Principal of the Muhammadan Anglo-Oriental College, Aligarh, shall decide, with reference to the funds available for the purpose, the number of the scholarships to be granted in any year;
- (3) that the nomination for the said scholarship or scholarships shall rest with the Principal of the said College who shall in making the nomination give preference to candidates who are inhabitants of the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh;
- (4) that the holder of a scholarship shall in all matters carry out the instructions of the Principal, who shall have power to suspend and withdraw the scholarship in the event of the misconduct of the holder;
- (5) that the income accruing on the Trust shall be expended in the payment of these Arabic scholarships and no other object;
- (6) that all savings, from whatever cause arising, shall, if the said Local Government deems the amount to be sufficient for the purpose, be added to and form part of the funds hereby vested in the said Treasurer of Charitable Endowments; and the income accruing on the amounts so added shall also be expended in the manner prescribed for the income accruing on the said funds;
- (7) that in the event of the Arabic classes of the said College being abolished and in the event of its ceasing to teach Arabic the income accruing from the Trust shall be expended in scholarships for some other branch of higher education at the same College in the name of the donor, and in the event of the Muhammadan Anglo-Oriental College, Aligarh, ceasing to exist the amount of the Trust shall be returned to the said Raja Tasadduq Rasul Khan, c.s.i., of Jahangirabad, or his heir or representative.

2. Applications for these scholarships should be made in writing to the Principal, Muhammadan Anglo-Oriental College, Aligarh.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1. The opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2. The opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which, provision is made by clause 13 of these conditions of sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3. The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M., but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4. Each lot shall contain five chests.

5. A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale, noted in the margin,

DEPOSIT.

When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,500 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.

On bids of Rs. 1,500 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.

On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.

And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional to the extent of Rs. 400.

shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this office by Bank of Bengal receipts or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M., in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M., or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

6. The said Promissory Notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7. The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale or 1-30 P.M., if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8. No tender of money, Bank of Bengal receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9. The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and, in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10. Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests ordinarily required to be included in each certificate or order.

11. No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12. The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand render at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal receipts, or Government securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13. With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually by Rs. 5 at a time until a bid is obtained; and the first bond fide bidder for a lot, after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described, shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14. The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remains a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15. In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16. The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—

No. 1, Certificate of the opium advertised for sale;

No. 2, Report of the examination of such opium.

17. The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna Factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazipur Factory for the year 1905-1906, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug, when packed at the Patna and Ghazipur Factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the office of the Board of Revenue.

18. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

Advertisement of Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary rights of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below, to the undermentioned estates situate in the district of Hooghly will be put up to sale at the Hooghly Collectorate on the 21st December 1906, corresponding with 6th Pous 1313 (B.S.).

The purchaser will be subject to the following conditions of sale:—

Conditions of Sale.

- 1st.—The estate to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price which will be fixed by the Collector at the time of sale. The purchaser of the estate will be considered as the proprietor of the estate, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity.
- 2nd.—The sale is to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings and by the laws in force, and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the Revenue authorities.
- 3rd.—If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.
- 4th.—If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the 15th day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding day, the sale is to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser after issue of advertisement as in the case of original sale.

Advertisement of Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below, to the undermentioned estates, situate in the district of Nadia, will be put up to sale at the Nadia Collectorate on Friday, the 4th January 1907, corresponding to 1913 (B.S.).

Conditions of Sale.

- 1st.—The estates to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price, which will be fixed by the Collector at the time of sale. The purchaser of the estate will be considered as the proprietor of the estates and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estates will be transferred to him, subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity.
- 2nd.—The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings, and by the laws in force; and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the revenue authorities.
- 3rd.—If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.
- 4th.—If the amount of purchase-money exceeds Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale is to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement as in the case of original sale.

THE INDIAN LAW REPORTS.

Published in FOUR SERIES, viz.

CALCUTTA, MADRAS, BOMBAY AND ALLAHABAD.

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor General in Council, are printed in monthly Parts, which are issued, as soon as possible after the first of each month, at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

The Reports comprise four Series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court.

The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat Book Depot; and the Madras, Bombay and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

Persons desiring to subscribe for or purchase the Reports should apply to—the Officer in charge, Bengal Secretariat Book Depot, Calcutta, or

the Superintendent, Government Press, Madras, or

PART IVA.

Proceedings of the Bengal Legislative Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

Abstract of the Proceedings of the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, assembled under the provisions of the Indian Councils Acts, 1861 and 1892.

The Council met in the Council Chamber on Saturday, the 15th December, 1906, at 11 A.M.

Present:

The Hon'ble SIR ANDREW FRASER, K.C.S.I., Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, presiding.

The Hon'ble MR. F. A. SLACKE.

The Hon'ble MR. W. C. MACPHERSON, C.S.I.

The Hon'ble MR. E. W. COLLIN.

The Hon'ble MR. R. W. CARLYLE, C.I.E.

The Hon'ble MR. H. J. MCINTOSH.

The Hon'ble MR. T. W. RICHARDSON.

The Hon'ble MR. G. GORDON.

The Hon'ble MR. C. G. H. ALLEN.

The Hon'ble MR. J. CHAUDHURI, M.A.

The Hon'ble ASIF KADR SAYID WASIF ALI MIRZA, of Murshidabad.

The Hon'ble RAJA BAN BEHARI KAPUR, C.S.I.

The Hon'ble BABU JOGENDRA NATH MUKHERJEE, M.A., B.L.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU, M.A., B.L.

The Hon'ble MR. SYED SHURFUDDIN.

The Hon'ble MR. W. T. SPINK.

The Hon'ble MR. J. R. BERTRAM.

The Hon'ble BABU RADHA CHARAN PAL.

The Hon'ble BABU JOGENDRA CHANDRA GHOSE, M.A., B.L.

NEW MEMBER.

The Hon'ble MR. CARLYLE took his seat in Council.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

ZOOLOGICAL GARDEN.

The Hon'ble MR. BERTRAM asked:—

Will the Government be pleased to arrange for the Zoological Garden to be open free to the public for one day in each month? If not, why not?

The Hon'ble MR. CARLYLE replied:—

“There is a Committee appointed to the charge of the Zoological Garden. This Government does not think that it should express any opinion on such a proposal until it has been formally submitted by its advocates to, and fully considered by, that Committee.”

ARTICLES OF EUROPEAN MANUFACTURE.

The Hon'ble BABU JOGENDRA NATH MUKHERJEE asked:—

(a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the fact that the District Boards of Bengal are required to obtain articles of European manufacture of the value of more than fifty rupees from England direct by indent upon the Secretary of State for India, even when such articles are readily obtainable in India?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state if there is any provision in the Bengal Local Self-Government Act of 1885, or any rule made consistently with the said Act, under which the District Board can be required to purchase articles of European manufacture of the value of more than fifty rupees by indent upon the Secretary of State for India?

The Hon'ble MR. McINTOSH replied:—

“The rules regarding the purchase of European Stores are contained in Article 1403 of the Public Works Department Code and the Appendix thereto. These rules are framed by the Government of India.

“The District Fund is an Incorporated Local Fund, the revenues and expenditure of which are under the control of Government; and there is no provision in the Local Self-Government Act empowering a District Board to disregard these rules.”

JAMALPUR SHOOTING CASE.

The Hon'ble BABU JOGENDRA NATH MUKHERJEE asked:—

(a) Has the attention of Government been drawn to an article in the Bengales newspaper of the 25th November, 1906 (dak edition), relating to a case described in the said newspaper as the “Jamalpur Shooting Case”?

Is the story of the investigation into, and trial of, the case given therein substantially correct?

(b) Has the Government received any official report regarding this case? If so, will the Government be pleased to lay it on the table? If no report on the said case has yet been received, will the Government be pleased to call for one, containing an authentic account of the steps taken by the authorities to discover the persons who had shot down some of the men employed in the East Indian Railway workshop at Jamalpur, and the circumstances under which the shooting was resorted to?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state how many workmen were killed and how many were wounded during the incident referred to in the said article?

The Hon'ble MR. CARLYLE replied:—

“(a) The attention of Government has been drawn by the Hon'ble Member to the article in the Bengalee.

“The story therein given of the investigation into, and the trial of, the case is not substantially correct.

“Notably the statement that ten European Assistants stated before the Assistant Inspector-General of the Government Railway Police that they had seen Macmillan fire is absolutely incorrect. No European Assistant whatever made any such statement.

“(b) Government has received official reports regarding the case. These are still under consideration.

“The official reports show that a shot gun was used; that three shots in all were fired; that a youth named Finlayson admitted having fired all the shots into the air with a view to frightening away the attacking mob; and that the last of these, though fired over the heads of the mob, did take effect at a considerable distance.

“(c) No one was killed; but five workmen were wounded. In the opinion of the Civil Surgeon, by whom they were examined, the wounds on four of them (one man had two wounds) were probably caused by stray shot, but not the scratches found on the person of the fifth. The wounds were of a petty nature. The full charge appears to have passed over the heads of the mob; but owing to the distance at which the shot was fired, the pellets would scatter a great deal and five of them caught the wounded men.”

ELECTION OF CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONERS.

The Hon'ble BABU JOGENDRA CHANDRA GHOSE asked:—

Is the Government aware that during the last two elections of the Calcutta Municipal Commissioners, there was absolutely no interest shown in them by the rate-payers and that in wards where in previous elections fifteen hundred to two thousand votes were recorded, either the elections were uncontested or there were not more than two to three hundred votes at the highest recorded?

(a) Is the Government aware that the Hon'ble Mr. Allen, Chairman of the Corporation of Calcutta, declared, at the meeting of the Corporation of the 8th of November last, that, so far as the Calcutta Municipality was concerned, “the whole system of election was absolutely a farce”?

(b) Will the Government be graciously pleased to institute an inquiry, by appointing a Committee or otherwise, into the causes of this lamentable lack of interest of the rate-payers and the failure of the system of election in the second city of the British Empire and take steps to remedy them?

The Hon'ble MR. McINTOSH replied:—

“Questions I and II are answered together.

“The Hon'ble Member is referred to paragraphs 1 and 8 of the Report on the Municipal Administration of Calcutta for the year 1905-06 where the subject of his questions is dealt with. The proposals referred to therein for revising the election rules are, it is understood, now under the consideration of the Corporation.”

ESTABLISHMENT CHARGES OF THE CALCUTTA MUNICIPALITY.

The Hon'ble BABU JOGENDRA CHANDRA GHOSE asked :—

(a) Is the Government aware that there has been a great increase in the establishment charges of the Calcutta Municipality since the new Act came into force?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to ask for a return from the Calcutta Municipality showing the amount of the establishment charges of the Corporation before the passing of the new Act and at present, the amount paid to Commissioners as their fees for attending Committee meetings and the amount spent by the Corporation on opening out new roads and improving bustees since the new Act came into force?

(c) Is it a fact, as was mentioned by Mr. Braunfield, a Municipal Commissioner, at the meeting of the Corporation of the 14th November last, that 22 lakhs were annually spent by the Corporation for establishment out of an available income of 42 lakhs after paying the interest for Corporation loans?

The Hon'ble Mr. McINTOSH replied :—

"The information asked for by the Hon'ble Member can be gathered from the accounts of the Corporation which are published annually."

HURRISH CHUNDER MUKHERJI'S ROAD AND WOODBURN PARK.

The Hon'ble BABU JOGENDRA CHANDRA GHOSE asked :—

Is the Government aware that many improvements, such as the Hurrish Chunder Mukherji's Road extension and the Woodburn Park, to mention two out of many such passed by the Corporation before or shortly after the new Act came into force, have not yet been carried out?

The Hon'ble Mr. McINTOSH replied :—

"Government has no particular information about the progress made with the extension of the Hurrish Chunder Mukherji's Road. The Hon'ble Member's attention is invited to paragraph 12 of the Report on the Municipal Administration of Calcutta for the year 1905-06, where it is said that 'in view of the impending demands on account of the Improvement Trust, great caution is necessary in undertaking capital works other than those of an immediately reproductive character, and the bulk of the available funds must be devoted at present to financing the all-important water and drainage schemes to which the Corporation stands committed.'

"Some information regarding the progress made with the Woodburn Park is given in paragraph 25 of the same Report."

SUBURBAN DRAINAGE PROJECT.

The Hon'ble BABU JOGENDRA CHANDRA GHOSE asked :—

Will the Government be pleased to require the Corporation to submit a statement showing the causes of the great delay in carrying out the Suburban Drainage Project and to mention a limit of time within which the Corporation should carry it out?

Will the Government be pleased to consider whether, in the face of the inability of the Corporation to carry out the drainage and other projects passed many years ago, it is advisable to ask it to take up the gigantic improvements contemplated by the City Improvement Scheme?

The Hon'ble Mr. McINTOSH replied :—

"The Hon'ble Member is referred to paragraphs 11 to 13 of the Government Resolution on the Report of the Municipal Administration of Calcutta for the year 1904-05 and to paragraph 24 of the Calcutta Municipal Administration Report for the year 1905-06. Government sees no need to take action in the manner suggested by the question."

"The Calcutta Improvement Scheme is still under the consideration of the Governments of India and Bengal."

BHAIRAB RIVER.

The Hon'ble BABU JOGENDRA CHANDRA GHOSE asked :—

Will the Government be pleased to state whether it will be pleased to spend this year Rs. 75,000, provided for in the current financial year for the improvement of the river Bhairab, in the district of Jessore, from Singhia up to the town of Jessore under the Canals Act?

The Hon'ble MR. MCINTOSH, in the absence of the Hon'ble MR. INGLIS, replied :—

"It is not probable that there will be any expenditure on this scheme in the current year. It has been ascertained that the cost of making a cut from Singhia to Roopchie, and of dredging the bed of the Bhairab from Roopchie to Jessore would be considerably greater than was at first thought: while the work would be of small value as a means of communication. The possible value of the scheme as a sanitary measure will be considered by the Committee which is at present holding an inquiry into the general conditions of the drainage and of the river channels of the districts in the Presidency Division."

JESSORE DRAINAGE SCHEME.

The Hon'ble BABU JOGENDRA CHANDRA GHOSE asked :—

Will the Government be pleased to state how far the drainage scheme under the Sanitary Drainage Act, taken up by the District Board of Jessore for the improvement of the river Bhairab from the town of Jessore up to its source, has progressed, and whether, considering the importance of the matter, the largeness of the expenditure and the poverty of the raiyats of the district, who will have to contribute the major portion of it, the Government will be pleased to contribute towards the cost of the scheme?

The Hon'ble MR. MCINTOSH replied :—

"The Hon'ble Member is referred to Notification No. 62 S, dated the 6th August, 1906, published at page 1582 of the Calcutta Gazette, Part I, of the 15th August, 1906. The District Board have been asked to elect their representatives to the Board of Drainage Commissioners, and when these have been elected and the Government nominees have been appointed, the Board will proceed under section 6 (i) of the Sanitary Drainage Act to prepare a preliminary scheme and survey. When this has been drawn up and the cost of the project has been ascertained, Government will be prepared to consider the question of making a contribution from provincial revenues."

JESSORE WATER-WORKS SCHEME.

The Hon'ble BABU JOGENDRA CHANDRA GHOSE asked :—

Will the Government be pleased to state how long the Jessore Water-Works Scheme, approved by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, has been under the consideration of the Government, and whether the Municipality of Jessore can shortly expect to receive the sanction of the Government to the scheme?

The Hon'ble MR. MCINTOSH replied :—

"The Municipal Commissioners of Jessore have not yet submitted to Government for final sanction their water-works scheme. The Municipal Commissioners have experienced difficulty in carrying out the experimental borings in the bed of the Bhairab river which are required in order to see whether a reliable source of supply is available, and they have applied to Government for help. Government is now arranging to lend the Municipal Commissioners a set of boring instruments and the services of a subordinate who has experience in working them. Government will be glad to sanction a suitable scheme as soon as it is got ready by the Municipal Commissioners."

JURY CASES.

The Hon'ble MR. SYED SHURFUDDIN asked:—

Will the Government be pleased to state, district by district, the number of cases tried by jury during the 10 years ending 31st March, 1905, the number of cases in respect of which the Sessions Judge concurred with the verdict of the jury, the number of cases in which the Sessions Judge, not agreeing with the jury, made a reference to the High Court, under section 307, Criminal Procedure Code, and the result of each such reference?

The Hon'ble MR. RICHARDSON replied:—

"The statistics required by the Hon'ble Member are not available for the period mentioned by him nor in respect of each jury district.

"The information to be found in the Annual Reports of the High Court on the Administration of Criminal Justice is contained in two statements laid on the table, in one of which the figures denote persons and in the other cases. All the figures relate to the calendar year."

SUBORDINATE EDUCATIONAL SERVICE.

The Hon'ble Mr. SYED SHURFUDDIN asked:—

Will the Government be pleased to state if it is a fact that, since September, 1905, no promotion has been granted to the members of the Subordinate Educational Service, on the ground that the new scheme for the re-organization of the service sanctioned by the Secretary of State for India would soon be promulgated? If this be a fact, will the Government be pleased to state when is the new scheme going to be promulgated?

The Hon'ble Mr. RICHARDSON replied:—

“The answer to the first part of the Hon'ble Member's question is in the affirmative. As to the second part, a Resolution giving effect to the scheme of re-organization has been drawn up and will be published immediately. It has been decided that the promotions admissible under the scheme will take effect from the 10th September, 1905. The arrangements for bringing the scheme into operation had to be made in consultation with the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam and this has caused some delay.”

SENIOR DEPUTY MAGISTRATES AND THEIR POWERS.

The Hon'ble Mr. SYED SHURFUDDIN asked:—

Will the Government be pleased to state if the Senior Deputy Magistrates enjoying first-class powers in every district head-quarters town is vested with the power to hear appeals under section 407, Criminal Procedure Code?

If the officers mentioned above have not the power to hear appeals under section 407, Criminal Procedure Code, will the Government be pleased to invest them with such powers to be exercised at least during the absence, on tour, of the District Magistrates when a great hardship is felt in the matter of bail and admission of appeals by persons convicted by Magistrates of the second or third class?

The Hon'ble Mr. CARLYLE replied:—

“Senior Deputy Magistrates enjoying first class powers in every district head-quarters town are not vested with the power to hear appeals under section 407, Criminal Procedure Code.

“Government does not consider it necessary to invest such officers generally with powers to hear such appeals, as it holds that the hearing of appeals is an important part of a District Magistrate's duties. In special cases, this general rule of confining appellate powers to the District Magistrate has been and will be relaxed.”

SUBORDINATE EXECUTIVE SERVICE.

The Hon'ble Mr. SYED SHURFUDDIN asked:—

Will the Government be pleased to give a statement showing the names and qualifications of the applicants, during the year 1906, from Bihar and Chota Nagpur, for appointments in the Provincial and Subordinate Branches of the Executive Service?

Will the Government be pleased to state also which of the applicants were successful, and which not; and the grounds on which the applications of the unsuccessful candidates were rejected?

And, in the case of Bengalee candidates, will the Government be further pleased to mention against their names whether they are domiciled in Bihar or Chota Nagpur, as the case may be, or otherwise?

The Hon'ble Mr. CARLYLE replied:—

“Government regrets that it cannot fully comply with the request of the Hon'ble Member to lay on the table a statement showing the names and qualifications of the applicants, during the year 1906, from Bihar and Chota Nagpur for appointments in the Provincial and Subordinate branches of the Executive Service, and to state which of them were successful and which not, and the grounds on which the applications of the unsuccessful candidates were rejected. It is most undesirable to publish the names of unsuccessful candidates, and still more (from their own point of view) to explain why they were unsuccessful.

"A statement showing the number of candidates in 1906 from Bihar and Chota Nagpur, with the number of Bengalis domiciled in Bihar or Chota Nagpur, is laid on the table.

"A statement containing the names of the successful candidates from Bihar and Chota Nagpur is also laid on the table. In the case of Bengalis domiciled in these places, the fact has been noted (as far as is known).

"Another statement showing the distribution of the new appointments amongst the different communities in the Province is also laid on the table.

"The last two statements refer to candidates appointed by Government direct and not by promotion from other services."

PAUPER WARDS.

The Hon'ble ASIF KADR SAHYID WASEF ALI MIRZA, of Murshidabad, asked

Will the Government be pleased to state whether the proposals of Government made in its Resolution No. 4146Medl., dated the 9th November, 18 regarding the opening of separate pauper wards in the large dispensaries Bengal, and the Circular of the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, dated the 8th March, 1898, regarding the establishment of separate wards for accommodation of both moribund and pauper patients, have been acted upon?

If not, will the Government be pleased to draw the attention of local bodies and managing committees of dispensaries to give effect to the proposals?

The Hon'ble Mr. McINTOSH replied :—

"The orders in question have not been lost sight of. They are gradually being acted upon as funds permit. It has been ascertained that since they were issued, pauper and moribund wards have been provided in 48 dispensaries. Government attaches much importance to the provision of such wards, and a Circular will be issued to local bodies again drawing their attention to the matter."

COTTON CULTIVATION.

The Hon'ble ASIF KADR SAIYID WASIF ALI MIRZA, of Murshidabad, asked:—

Will the Government be pleased to state what, if any, steps are being taken by it for the development of cotton growing in this Province, in accordance with any scheme that might have been suggested by any experts?

The Hon'ble MR. CARLYLE replied:—

"In this connection the Hon'ble Member is referred to the answers given to the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar at the Council Meeting of the 2nd December, 1905, and to the Hon'ble Babu Jogendra Nath Mukherjee at the Council Meeting of the 17th February, 1906.

"No scheme for the development of cotton cultivation in this Province has yet been drawn up by an expert.

"During the current season the Director of Agriculture has arranged for the cultivation of about 100 acres in the Sonthal Parganas and Singhbhum districts with Buri cotton, a variety which has given considerable promise, with a view to making it known among cultivators who understand how to grow cotton, and with a view to the production of a quantity of reliable seed for distribution next year. Plant selection is now being carried out at both centres with a view to ultimate improvement.

"Brief instructions for the cultivation of cotton have also been circulated by the Agricultural Department, and seed distributed from the Departmental seed-store."

VILLAGE ROADS.

The Hon'ble ASIF KADR SAIYID WASIF ALI MIRZA, of Murshidabad, asked:—

Has the Government received any complaints regarding the condition of village roads in Bengal? If so, will the Government be pleased to draw the attention of District and Local Boards to the need of keeping them in proper repairs?

The Hon'ble MR. McINTOSH replied:—

"No complaints of a general nature have been received by Government. District Boards are only responsible for the up-keep of such 'village roads' as are vested in them or have been placed under their administration and control. Their obligations in this respect are well known to the District Boards, and the issue of special instructions to them is not considered necessary."

CHARITABLE DISPENSARIES.

The Hon'ble ASIF KADR SAIYID WASIF ALI MIRZA, of Murshidabad, asked:—

Is it a fact that in some Charitable Dispensaries under the management of Government or Local Bodies, during hospital hours and in the absence of the Medical Officer in charge, prescriptions are prepared and medicines dispensed by compounders, and the cases subsequently entered in the dispensary Attendance Register by the Medical Officer from memoranda kept by the compounder? If so, will the Government be pleased to take necessary steps to prevent such practice?

The Hon'ble MR. McINTOSH replied:—

"No instance of patients being treated or prescribed for by a compounder otherwise than as laid down by the rules has been brought to the notice of Government or the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals. Compounders are forbidden to prescribe for patients on their own responsibility. The only exception to this rule is, when the Medical Officer in charge is unavoidably absent for a brief period owing to sickness or other cause, and on such occasions a compounder is only permitted to render first aid for the immediate relief of a patient, or to dispense stock medicines, or to repeat medicines previously prescribed by the Medical Officer in charge."

INCREASE OF INTOXICANTS.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU asked:—

Will the Government state what steps are being taken to check the alarming increase in the consumption of intoxicants in Bengal, as shown in the Report of the Commissioner of Excise for 1905-1906?

The Hon'ble MR. MCINTOSH replied:—

"The Committee appointed by the Government of India to examine the systems of Excise administration in the different provinces has recently submitted its report to the Government of India. When the Local Government receives the Committee's report, it will consider what changes are required in the system in force in this province."

EXCISE INQUIRY COMMITTEE.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU asked:—

Can any information be furnished regarding the recommendations of the Excise Inquiry Committee of the Government of India added to in the Report of the Commissioner of Excise, so far as they apply to Bengal?

The Hon'ble MR. MCINTOSH replied:—

"The report of the Excise Committee has not been published yet, and Government is unable to give any information about it at present."

DRAINAGE OF THE CALCUTTA FRINGE AREA.

The Hon'ble BABU RADHA CHARAN PAL asked:—

(a) Is the Government aware of the insanitary and water-logged condition of the area, between the Circular Road and the canal on the east of Calcutta, known as the fringe area, and of the repeated complaints, since its amalgamation with Calcutta proper in 1888, of the rate-payers residing in that area, who pay the same rates with their fellow-rate-payers of the Town proper, without receiving the same advantages?

(b) In view of the urgency of effective drainage of the above area, has the Government come to any decision as to whether it should permit the storm-water from that area to flow into the canal, as it used to do before canalization by Government of the channel?

(c) If no decision has yet been arrived at, will the Government be pleased to state when it is likely to come to a decision on the subject?

(d) Considering that considerable difficulties have arisen in draining the area in question owing to the stoppage of the flow of storm-water into the canal and the present unsuitability of the intercepting sewer, which was built at the instance of the Government, will the Government be pleased to make a substantial contribution to the funds of the Corporation to enable that body to relieve the aggrieved rate-payers by constructing suitable drainage works?

The Hon'ble MR. MCINTOSH replied:—

"Government is aware of the unsatisfactory state of the drainage of the area referred to. The proposal to permit the discharge of the surface water of this area into the Circular Canal was referred to a Committee, of which the Hon'ble Mr. Collin was the President, and the Sanitary Commissioner, Bengal, and the Health Officer of the Corporation were the members. The Report of the Committee has lately been received and is adverse to the proposal on sanitary grounds. The surface storm water cannot be permitted to enter the canal, as Government is advised that this would be dangerous to health.

"It is not proposed that Government should contribute towards the cost of the drainage operations."

INFANT MORTALITY IN BENGAL.

The Hon'ble BABU RADHA CHARAN PAL asked:—

(a) As a means to prevent the yearly increasing waste of infant life in Bengal, it is said in the Report of the Sanitary Commissioner for Bengal, for 1905, that Government caused two leaflets, containing simple instructions about the feeding and the rearing up of children and prescribing the diet of Indian mothers after child-birth, to be prepared and distributed broadcast for the education of the general public in these matters.

Have similar leaflets been circulated in the present year, and is the Government in a position to say how far these leaflets have produced the desired effect?

(b) May I ask what other measures the Government have taken or intend to take for the reduction of the percentage of infant mortality in Bengal?

The Hon'ble MR. MCINTOSH replied:—

"The leaflets were distributed towards the close of last year and in the earlier part of this year. Government is not in a position to say what effect, if any, they have had, but the subject will again doubtless be dealt with by the Sanitary Commissioner in his next Annual Report. It cannot be expected that they will have an immediate effect, though in time they may do some good by helping to remove old prejudices."

CHOLERA AND SEPTIC TANKS.

The Hon'ble BABU RADHA CHARAN PAL asked:—

Considering that there has been an abnormal rise in cholera mortality, has the Government ascertained how far this is due to the rapidly increasing number of septic tanks in Bengal?

The Hon'ble MR. MCINTOSH replied:—

"The Hon'ble Member has not mentioned the localities in which he believes there has been an abnormal rise in cholera mortality. Government is not aware that there has been any rise in the mortality from cholera which could in any way be due to septic tank installations."

LOWIS JUBILEE SANITARIUM.

The Hon'ble BABU RADHA CHARAN PAL asked:—

(a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the paragraphs published in the "Bengalee" of the 27th ultimo, on the proposed Phthisical Ward at the Lowis Jubilee Sanitarium?

(b) Is it not a fact that three eminent medical authorities and two experienced Divisional Commissioners, consulted by Government, were in favour of the construction of this ward?

(c) Did not the Government also approve of the construction of this ward on its present site?

(d) Now that the ward has neared its completion, and as the abandonment of the design at the present juncture will mean the throwing away of so much money and labour, will the Government be pleased to state what final decision it has arrived at in regard to this matter?

The Hon'ble MR. MCINTOSH replied:—

"The attention of the Government has been drawn by the Hon'ble Member to the article in the Bengalee to which he refers. That article contains a very misleading statement of the history of the case regarding this proposal to have a phthisical ward at the Lowis Jubilee Sanitarium at Darjeeling."

"The question is one of very great importance to the patients themselves and to the public. An endeavour is being made, in consultation with the Committee of the Sanitarium and with medical officers, to arrive at a decision which will be in the interests of the patients and of the public. But the Government has not arrived at a final decision in regard to it; and the matter is still under consideration."

PRESIDENCY COLLEGE.

The Hon'ble BABU RADHA CHARAN PAL asked:—

Will the Government be pleased to state whether it is in its contemplation to remove the Presidency College from its present site to a place outside Calcutta?

The Hon'ble MR. RICHARDSON replied:—

"The Government has no intention whatever of removing the Presidency College from Calcutta. That was decided long ago; and the Government has since been considering, in consultation with Educational Officers and others interested in the Presidency College, the question of improving that institution. It has been strongly urged by some, that the college should be removed from its present site to one of the suburbs of Calcutta. The main object of this proposal is to obtain more room for extension of the college buildings and for hostels. The Government, however, as at present advised, is in favour of retaining the present site, and gradually acquiring land, as funds permit, for the improvement of the college. At the same time the Lieutenant-Governor has thought it right to hear any arguments that might be advanced in favour of a change of site within Calcutta or its suburbs. He has invited opinions, and will decide the question when these opinions have been considered."

THE BENGAL TENANCY (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1906.

The Hon'ble MR. CARLYLE moved that the Bill to amend and supplement the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Mr. Slacke, the Hon'ble Mr. Gordon, the Hon'ble Asif Kadr Saiyid Wasif Ali Mirza, the Hon'ble Raja Ban Behari Kapur, the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu and the Mover.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

THE BENGAL LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT (AMENDMENT) BILL,

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

A.—The Presidency of Madras.

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 14th December, 1906 :—

NO. 7 OF 1906.

A Bill to repeal and amend certain Enactments relating to abolished rates and cesses.

WHEREAS certain rates and cesses leviable in the territories specified in the Schedule have been abolished and it is therefore expedient to repeal or amend the enactments specified in the said Schedule; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

1. This Act may be called the Repealing and Amending (Rates and Cesses) Act, 1906.
2. The enactments specified in the Schedule shall be repealed or modified to the extent and in the manner mentioned in the third column thereof.

Madras Act IV of 1893 (The Madras Village Cess Act, 1893)		The whole Act to be repealed.
Madras Act III of 1895 (The Madras Hereditary Village-offices Act, 1895).		For clause (1) the following to be substituted :— “(1) hereditary village offices existing in ryotwari villages or inam villages which for the purpose of village administration are grouped with ryotwari villages and belonging to the following six classes, by whatever designation they may be locally known, namely :— (i) village-munsifs, (ii) potels, monigars and peddakapus, (iii) karnams, (iv) nirgantis, (v) vettis, totis, and fandalgars, (vi) talayaris. The Local Government shall have power to decide what officers come under any of the above classes.”

THE SCHEDULE—concl'd.

Number, year and short title.	Sections.	Extent of repeal or modification.	Number, year and short title.	Sections.	Extent of repeal or modification.
Regulation I of 1899— cont'd.	145	In clause (xvi) the words "or arising out of the liability of an assignee to pay out of assigned land-revenue or of a person who would be liable for land-revenue, if it had not been realised, compounded for or redeemed, to pay on the land-revenue for which he would but for such release, composition or redemption be liable, such a percentage for the remuneration of a village-officer as may be prescribed by rules for the time being in force under this Regulation" to be omitted.	G.—The Chief Commissionership of Ajmere-Merwara.
			Regulation III of 1895 (The Ajmere Patwari Regulation).		The whole Regulation to be repealed.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE levy of certain provincial rates and cesses, such as the patwari-cess, the village-service-cess, the famine-cess, and the like, has been already abolished by executive orders in accordance with the announcements made in the Financial Statements for 1905-1906 and for 1906-1907, but the enactments under which these rates and cesses were imposed are still on the Statute-book, and the object of this Bill is simply to repeal these enactments and carry out certain consequential amendments in other enactments referring to the same.

The 12th December, 1906.

DENZIL IBBETSON.

J. M. MACPHERSON,
Secretary to the Government of India.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 14th December 1906.

No. 8 OF 1906.

A Bill further to amend the Local Authorities Loan Act, 1879.

XI of 1879. WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Local Authorities Loan Act, 1879; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. This Act may be called the Local Authorities Loan (Amendment) Act, 1906.

Short title.

2. In section 4 of the said Act, for the words "for the carrying out of any works which it is legally authorised to carry out" the words "for any purpose to which its funds can legally be applied" shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 4, Act XI, 1879.

3. In section 5, sub-section (2), of the same Act, for the word "work" the word "purposes" shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 5.

4. In section 7 of the same Act, for the word "work", in both places where it occurs, the word "purpose" shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 7.

5. In section 8, clause (b), of the same Act, the words "other than the carrying out of works" shall be omitted.

Amendment of section 8.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE Local Authorities Loan Act, 1879 (XI of 1879), provides for local authorities borrowing money for the carrying out of works. It has been held that the provision in question limits the powers of these authorities to borrowing for objects which can be strictly described as works, and does not empower them to contract loans for the purposes of carrying out other objects of public utility. The Bill accordingly proposes to legalise the borrowing of money by local authorities for any purpose to which their funds can legally be applied; subject always, under section 5 (2) of the Act, to the definition by rule of the purposes for which loans may be raised.

DONATIONS AND ENDOWMENTS MADE BY PRIVATE INDIVIDUALS FOR PUBLIC PURPOSES DURING THE YEAR 1905.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—LOCAL SELF-GOVT.

RESOLUTION No. 2849M.

THE Lieutenant-Governor has much pleasure in publishing for general information the customary statement showing the donations made by private individuals for public purposes during the year 1905. The sums contributed are shown against the names of the donors, and His Honour avails himself of this opportunity to express his appreciation of the liberality and public spirit which they have displayed.

2. The following gifts received during the year deserve special mention. A munificent donation of Rs. 1,00,000 for famine-relief in Bengal was made by the late Babu Jay Gobinda Laha, C.I.R., of Calcutta. Raja Narendra Lal Khan of Narajole contributed Rs. 35,000 towards the creation of an endowment fund for the maintenance of the "Raja Mohendra Lall Khan's Zenana Hospital" in the town of Midnapore; and Babu Harakh Chand Nahatta gave Rs. 11,500 for a High English School building at Kishenganj in the district of Purnea. Babu Nanda Lal Gossain and his brothers jointly contributed Rs. 11,000 for the construction and maintenance of an out-door dispensary attached to the Serampore Hospital in the Hooghly district, which has been named after their deceased mother, Gobinda Sundari Debi; small contributions aggregating Rs. 7,000 for the dispensary building were also collected from other subscribers in the locality.

3. The Lieutenant-Governor is also pleased to notice the following instances of liberality:—

Babu Ram Chandra Thirani made a gift of Rs. 9,000 for a hospital building at Kishenganj. Maharaja Manindra Chandra Nandi of Cossimbazar spent Rs. 8,000 on the construction of an embankment extending from Mohota Bazar to Katiakeria at Saktipur in the Kandi subdivision of the Murshidabad district. A sum of Rs. 7,000 was contributed by Rai Sitab Chand Nahar Bahadur for the Azimganj Protective Works on the river bank. Raja Jogendra Narain Ray of Lalgola gave Rs. 6,000 for an operation ward in the Berhampore Hospital to be named after his late wife, Rani Manindra Mohini Debi. The Burdwan Vidyasagar Datavya Samiti contributed Rs. 6,000 for the creation of a Trust Fund to relieve the distressed in that town. The late Babu Bolye Chand Datta made a gift of Rs. 5,000 for the creation of a monthly scholarship to be called the "Dutt Scholarship" tenable for one year by the student who may secure the highest number of marks in literature at the Calcutta University Entrance Examination. Babu Rajaram, a banker of Patna, gave Rs. 5,000 for the provision of accommodation for witnesses and others attending the Civil Courts in that station.

Other donations are mentioned in detail in the statement; and while space prevents him from reviewing them individually, the Lieutenant-Governor desires to express no less his appreciation of the liberality displayed by the donors.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution and of the statement be forwarded to the Revenue, Political, Appointment, Judicial, General, Financial, Legislative, Marine and Public Works Departments of this Government, for information.

Ordered—Also that a copy of the Resolution and of the statement be forwarded to the Board of Revenue, the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, the Sanitary Commissioner and the Sanitary Board, and to all Commissioners of Divisions, for information.

Ordered—Also that the Resolution and the statement be published in the Supplement to the Calcutta Gazette, and also in the Government Vernacular Gazette, for general information.

FINAL FORECAST OF THE BHADOI CROP OF BENGAL, 1906.

The following note is published for general information.

R. W. CARLYLE,
Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The 17th December 1906.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

FINAL FORECAST OF THE BHADOI CROPS OF BENGAL, 1906.

(On an average of the five years ending 1904-05, the area under autumn rice in the territory to which this forecast relates has represented some 6·4 per cent. of the total area under this crop in British India.)

Character of the season.—The month of April was dry, and so was the first portion of May. Sowings in consequence were delayed in the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions, where the sowing season commences earlier than in other parts of the Province. In June, the rainfall was again generally deficient. In July and August, rain was general, but it was not equally distributed. In September, it was deficient in most districts, the only exceptions being Nadia, Jessore, Gaya, Balasore and Singhbhum where it was in slight excess. In Bihar, the crops were seriously damaged by floods. Midnapore, Hooghly, Nadia, Murshidabad and Jessore also suffered from floods. Insect pests injured the crops to some extent in Khulna and the 24-Parganas. On the whole, the season has been unfavourable for the bhadoi crops.

Area sown.—The total area sown this year with the various bhadoi crops of the Province, exclusive of cotton, jute, and bhadoi til, for which separate forecasts are prepared, amounts to 8,869,800 acres against 9,054,800 acres of last year, and a normal area of 9,731,200 acres. Since the publication of the preliminary report, this year's areas have been revised in the 24-Parganas, Murshidabad, Champaran, Darbhanga and the Sonthal Parganas.

Outturn.—Only three districts, namely, Gaya, Ranchi and Manbhum now return a normal crop. Five districts show crops from 90 to 99 per cent.; three from 80 to 89 per cent.; 9 from 70 to 79, and 5 from 60 to 69 per cent.; Nadia, Champaran and Purnea return 51 to 59 per cent. crops, while Murshidabad, Saran, Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga and Monghyr return crops under 50 per cent. After the issue of the last forecast, prospects have become better in 7 districts and worse in 14 districts.

According to the estimates received in this office, the average outturn of the different bhadoi crops dealt with in this report works out to 68 per cent. of a normal crop, or in round numbers 70 percent. From what I have seen of the bhadoi crops in the Province when on tour, I think this is most probably an under estimate. The outturn last year was estimated at 72 per cent. Accepting a 70 per cent. crop for bhadoi paddy also, the outturn of cleaned autumn rice may be estimated at 22,160,600 cwts., against 27,013,000 cwts. of last year.

C. A. OLDHAM,

Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

CALCUTTA;

The 7th December 1906.

				Aufama rice	74,600	62,500	50,100	87	77			The figures in column 7 have been further revised after the submission of the preliminary forecast. The slight decrease in the estimated areas under the different bhados crops is attributed to the fact of more lands having been cultivated with jute. The weather was on the whole unfavourable this year. The recent rains have, however, done some good to the crops and a better outturn is now expected than that shown in the preliminary forecast.

FINAL FORECAST OF THE WINTER RICE CROP OF BENGAL, 1906.

The following note is published for general information.

R. W. CARLYLE,

Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The 17th December 1906.

DÉPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

FINAL FORECAST OF THE WINTER RICE CROP OF BENGAL, 1906.

[On an average of five years ending 1904-1906, the area under winter rice in the territory, to which this forecast relates, has represented some 28·1 per cent. of the total area under this crop in British India.]

Character of the season.—It was mentioned in the preliminary forecast of the winter rice crop issued in October last, that the ante-monsoon showers were generally defective throughout the Province. April and the early portion of May were dry, and sowings were late in consequence in many districts. In June, the rainfall was below the normal almost everywhere. In July and August, the fall was general, but very unequally distributed. Considerable damage was done by floods in North Bihar, and also in most districts of the Presidency Division. In September, the rainfall was general, but it was below the normal everywhere except in Nadia, Jessore, Gaya, Balasore and Singhbhum, where it was slightly in excess. It was most deficient in all the northern districts of Bihar. In October again, all the districts of Bihar, except the Sonthal Parganas, suffered severely from drought. Except for a few districts, the rest of the Province had good rain. In November, there was no rain in the Patna Division or in Purnea, while a few scattered showers fell elsewhere.

2. Area cultivated.—The area sown this year is reported to be 20,033,600 acres, as against 20,605,500 acres of last year, and a normal area of 21,301,700 acres. Since the issue of the preliminary forecast, the estimates of this year's areas have been revised in the Burdwan, 24-Parganas, Khulna, Darbhanga and Puri districts. Last year's area has also been revised by the Collector of Balasore.

3. Outturn.—Out of the 33 districts in the Province, three districts only, viz., Sambalpur, Ranchi, and Singhbhum return a 100 per cent. or over a 100 per cent. crop. In the 24-Parganas and the Sonthal Parganas a 98 per cent. crop is expected. Bankura and Palamau return a 95 per cent. crop and Howrah a 90 per cent. crop. Seven districts show an outturn of between 80 and 89 per cent., and eight districts between 70 and 79 per cent. In Murshidabad, Cuttack and Darjeeling, the crops are estimated at 69, 65, and 63 per cent., respectively. Jessore, Purnea, and Monghyr show crops between 51 per cent. and 58 per cent., while Saran, Champaran, Muzaffarpur and Darbhanga, which have suffered both from floods in July—August, and from drought towards the end of the season, return crops ranging between 29 and 42 per cent. It is reported from Saran that in many places the crop has been an absolute failure. Since the issue of the preliminary forecast, prospects have, according to the returns received, improved in 8 and become worse in 19 districts.

In a few cases, I have revised the figures given in the district returns. In Bankura, for instance, where the general condition of the crop is said to be good, a normal crop has been taken; looking to the seasonable weather in the Hooghly district since the preliminary forecast was issued, there seems no reason to reduce that estimate. I have taken 90 per cent. in this case. In the case of Gaya, the Collector himself would raise the estimate from 87 to 95 per cent. I agree that at least a 95 per cent. crop will be harvested. In Purnea, a 9 annas outturn has been taken as suggested by the Collector. Coming to the Orissa Division, it is difficult to understand the marked differences in the estimates. Sambalpur returns a 105 per cent. crop, Cuttack, on the other hand, where, as far as rainfall statistics show, conditions have not been very dissimilar, shows only 65 per cent., while the Collectors of Puri and Balasore districts, which lie on either side of Cuttack, reports the condition of the crop to be good. I think the Cuttack figure might be raised to 75 per cent. In Balasore, where the weather is reported to have been favourable, the rainfall sufficient and timely, and the general condition of the crop good, an average crop has been taken. In Puri also, the description of the weather and the condition of the crop seems to justify a 90 per cent. return.

In regard to Angul, no reason has been assigned for reducing the preliminary forecast figure, which has therefore been retained. In all other cases the district estimates have been accepted. The percentage of outturn for the whole Province in this way comes to 78, against 82 shown in the preliminary forecasts. The unseasonable weather that has occurred over a great part of the Province since the returns for the preliminary forecast were received fully accounts for this decrease. With a 78 per cent. estimate, the total outturn of the Province would amount to 172,207,200 cwts. of cleaned rice, as compared with 199,831,300 cwts. in 1905.

Murahidabad.	Sadar ..	67,600	392,500	481,230	68,000	50,000	70	60	Sowings were generally late this year for want of rain during the sowing season. The crops have been damaged by the floods, but the rainfall in September and October has improved its condition to some extent. The increase in the area sown this year as compared with that of the normal may be attributed partly to the fact that the figures have been reported by the Police on enquiry through the daffadars and panchayats , and partly to the high price of rice this year. The normal price is under revision.

The outturn has been almost normal in some of the tracts, while in a few others (e.g. Haldibari) it has been below the normal for several years. However, at the time of transmigration, the average has been a little below normal.

The rains throughout the year were local, and transmigration in many places was delayed. The September rain was also short in the Sagar subdivision and the outturn was thus slightly below the average.

During the latter part of the season, there was sufficient rain, and the general condition of the crop was good.

- (2) Letter to the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, No. 2712T.—G., dated the 16th October 1905, and the replies thereto.
- (3) Letters from the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam, No. 4448C., No. 4458C., dated the 4th May 1906, and No. 9300C., dated the 11th September 1906.
- (4) Memorandum by the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, No. 212T., dated the 1st June 1906.
- (5) Letters to the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam, No. 247T.—G., dated the 19th May 1906, No. 1832 and No. 1833, dated the 11th July 1906, and No. 1524T.—G., dated the 25th August 1906.

THE scheme for reorganizing the Provincial and Subordinate Educational Services and constituting a Lower Subordinate Educational Service received the sanction of His Majesty's Secretary of State for India in August 1905, and the necessary arrangements have now been made to give effect to it from the 10th September 1905, the date on which the orders of the Secretary of State were received in India.

2. The constitution of the Provincial Educational Service before and after reorganization is shown below:—

Class.		Pay.	Number of appointments.
		Rs.
I	...	700	2
II	...	600	4
III	...	500	5
IV	...	400	9

After Reorganization.

Class.		Pay. Rs.	Number of appointments.
I	...	700	4
II	...	600	6
III	...	500	8
IV	...	400	11
V	...	350	12
VI	...	300	17
VII	...	250	24
VIII	...	200	29 + 1
Total			111 + 1

NOTE (1).—The minimum pay of the service has been increased from Rs. 150 a month to Rs. 200 a month. At the same time officers newly appointed will in future be required to undergo a period of probation of one year, at the end of which recruits will be liable to lose their posts or to be reverted to the Subordinate Service, as the case may be, if found unsatisfactory. This period of probation may be dispensed with in the case of officers who have passed through a course in the Training Colleges, the establishment of which is now under consideration.

NOTE (2).—Posts have been included in the service as above shown for the Bengali, Hindi and Uriya Translators and for the Bengal Librarian, officers who formerly held related appointments. One of the higher grade appointments will be reserved for the Head Master of the Apprentice Department of the Sibpur College.

NOTE (3).—The additional post in Class VIII has been created for the Inspector of Hostels and Students' Messes in Calcutta.

3. Particulars of the constitution of the Subordinate Educational Service before and after reorganization are given below:—

Before Reorganization.

Class.		Pay. Rs.	Number of appointments.
I	...	250	10
II	...	200	29
III	...	150	47
IV	...	125	63

VI	...	75	93 + 1
VII	...	60	114 + 1
VIII	...	50	130 + 9
Total			603 + 12

NOTE (1).—One hundred and sixty-three posts formerly ungraded have been added to the service as above shown.

NOTE (2).—The service as above shown includes provision for the more highly-paid posts held by the staff employed under the three translators and the Bengal Librarian.

NOTE (3).—Twelve additional appointments have been created by this Government. These appointments were originally as follows:—

1 in Class III.	1 in Class VI.
1 in „ V.	9 in „ VIII.

The appointment, however, in Class III was of a temporary character and has since been absorbed and replaced by an appointment in Class VII.

4. The Lower Subordinate Educational Service as reorganized under the scheme sanctioned by the Secretary of State, included the majority of the posts, formerly ungraded, which were not transferred to the Subordinate Educational Service. The scheme contemplated that the pay in this service should be progressive. The reorganized service consists of five grades as follows:—

Class.		Pay. Rs.	Number of appointments.
I	...	35—2—45	77
II	...	30—1—35	110 + 4
III	...	25—1—30	163 + 2
IV	...	20—1—25	220 + 2
V	...	15—1—20	382
Total		...	942 + 8

NOTE (1).—The service includes provision for the less highly-paid posts on the establishments of the three translators and the Bengal Librarian.

NOTE (2).—The eight additional posts in Classes II, III and IV have been created by this Government.

5. The following nominal rolls of officers in the Provincial Educational Service and Classes I and II of the Subordinate Educational Service are issued with the concurrence of the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam.

6. A nominal roll of officers in the lower classes (Classes III to VIII) of the Subordinate Educational Service has been prepared in communication with the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam, and will be published by the Director of Public Instruction.

7. A nominal roll of the officers in the Lower Subordinate Educational Service in Bengal will be published by the Director of Public Instruction in due course.

8. Unless otherwise specified in the nominal rolls which have now been issued, or which may subsequently be issued, the promotion of officers will take effect from the 10th September 1905, as indicated in paragraph 1 above.

9. This Government has been in correspondence with the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam, regarding the distribution of the services as reconstituted under the scheme of reorganization between the Province of Bengal and the Province of Eastern Bengal and Assam. As a result of this correspondence it has been arranged between the two Governments that 26 appointments in the Provincial Educational Service, 151 appointments in the Subordinate Educational Service and 314 appointments in the Lower Subordinate Educational Service should be transferred to Eastern Bengal and Assam. In accordance with this arrangement, the Provincial Educational Service in this Province will comprise 86 officers, the Subordinate Educational Service 464 officers and the Lower Subordinate Educational Service 636 officers.

The grading of the officers of the Provincial Educational Service now serving in Bengal is shown in the following table:—

Class.	Pay. Rs.	Number of officers.
II	600	5
III	500	6
IV	400	8
V	350	10
VI	300	15
VII	250	20
VIII	200	18
Total		86

The grading, however, above shown will be of a temporary character. It is proposed that as soon as the necessary readjustments can be effected the Provincial Educational Service in Bengal should be constituted as follows:—

Class.	Number of officers.
I	3
II	5
III	6
IV	9
V	9
VI	13
VII	18
VIII	23
Total	86

In the case of the Subordinate Educational Service, the appointments now held in Bengal are as follows:—

Subordinate Educational Service.

Class.	Pay. Rs.	Number of appointments.
I	250	15
II	200	29
III	150	41
IV	125	55
V	100	64
VI	75	71
VII	60
VIII	50
Total		464

The permanent constitution of the service has not been finally decided. this Government being still in communication with the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam in regard to the distribution of the total number of appointments between the two Provinces.

The Lower Subordinate Educational Service will be constituted in Bengal until further orders, as follows:—

Class.	Pay.	Number of appointments.
	Rs.
I	35—2—45	52
II	30—1—35	72 + 4
III	25—1—30	102 + 2
IV	20—1—25	147 + 2
V	15—1—20	255
Total		628 + 8

10. In the cases of the Provincial and Subordinate Educational Services it has not yet been decided from what date the separation of the services as regards personnel between this Province and the Province of Eastern Bengal and Assam should take effect. The arrangement in force is that officers serving in Eastern Bengal and Assam should be regarded as lent to that Province. In the case of the Lower Subordinate Educational Service it has been agreed that officers of this service serving in Eastern Bengal and Assam should be regarded as having been finally transferred to that Province with effect from the 1st November 1905. It follows therefore that this Government has no further concern with the personnel or constitution of the last-named service in Eastern Bengal and Assam.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be submitted to the Government of India, and that copies be also forwarded to the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam, the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, and the Appointment Department of this Government for information, and to the Financial Department for information and communication to the Accountant-General, Bengal.

Ordered also that the Resolution be published in the Supplement to the Calcutta Gazette.

Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 8758-8765—56, dated Calcutta, the 29th November 1906.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Dept. of Commerce and Industry.

IN July 1905, the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India, acting at the instance of certain Flour Millers' Associations in the United Kingdom, asked the Government of India to consider whether any measures could be devised, with the co-operation of the commercial community, for the improvement of the purity of Indian wheat exported to foreign countries by sea. Though this question of the adulteration of Indian wheat had on several previous occasions received the careful consideration of the Government of India, it was decided, in view of the rapidly growing importance of the export trade, to consult the leading Indian Chambers of Commerce on the subject.

2. The Government of India were then disposed to think that the rigid adherence of English buyers to the system of purchase on a fixed basis of refraction was to a great extent responsible for the systematic adulteration—as opposed to the addition of impurities owing to the system of cultivation and the methods of preparation for the market—of wheat before it left India; and they therefore suggested that considerable improvement might be effected if Home dealers were authoritatively informed that there would be no difficulty in supplying clean wheat on a basis of two per cent. refraction, which would cover the maximum amount of impurities due to natural causes and would preclude deliberate adulteration. The replies received from the Chambers of Commerce were, however, not sufficiently explicit on this point, and it was necessary again to consult them and the local millers in regard to this matter. It appeared to the Government of India that, if the existing system under which the grain is sold was altered, no action on their part would be necessary, and they therefore again proposed, with the object of strengthening the position of a certain section of English buyers who were known to be in favour of procuring cleaner wheat, to state authoritatively that wheat could be regularly supplied from India containing not more than 2 per cent. of impurities. The point specifically referred for opinion was whether this announcement could safely be made.

3. The replies received have been considered, and the Government of India now feel justified in announcing for general information that, if buyers of Indian wheat desire to obtain regular supplies containing not more than 2 per cent. of impurities (that term covering all foreign matter other than food-grains), the mass of Indian shipments can be made on that basis.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the Resolution be forwarded to the Government of Bombay, Revenue Department, Madras, Revenue Department, Bengal, Revenue Department, the Punjab, Revenue Department, the United Provinces, Revenue Department, for information, in continuation of the

LIBERALITY OF SRIMATI KADAMBINI DEVI OF PARULIA IN THE DISTRICT OF BIRBHUM IN REGARD TO THE CREATION OF AN ENDOWMENT FUND FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE POOR.

No. 3066F., dated the 7th August 1906.

From—H. J. McIntosh, Esq., I.C.S., Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal Financial Department,

To—The Commissioner of the Burdwan Division. . .

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. ^{2713.G.}_{XVII-2}, dated the 31st May 1906, with which you forward an Indenture duly executed by Srimati Kadambini Devi of Parulia in the district of Birbhum in connection with a donation of Rs. 10,000 in Government Securities made by her with the object of creating an Endowment Fund for the benefit of the poor. The Indenture provides that the net proceeds of the Securities will be devoted to the purchase of blankets, sheets, dhutis and other articles of clothing for distribution to persons who are blind, lame, deaf and dumb or otherwise unfit to earn their livelihood at the discretion of the Collector of Birbhum, subject, however, to the reservation that during the lifetime of the donor one-half of the proceeds will be paid to her for her own support.

2. The liberality and public spirit of the donor have already been acknowledged in Government order No. 897T.—F.. dated the 29th June 1905.

GENERAL SUMMARY.—There was no rain during the week. Harvesting operations of the winter rice crop are still in progress. Rabi sowings are almost over in Bihar. They still continue in some places in Lower Bengal. Rain is needed for these crops in Gaya, Saran, Champaran, Bhagalpur and Purnea. The prospects of the rabi are reported to be unfavourable in Darbhanga, where some damage has also been done by insects. Elsewhere the condition of the standing crops is generally favourable. The number of persons receiving gratuitous relief is—Muzaffarpur 2,105, Darbhanga 18,87. The number on test-works is—Muzaffarpur 81, Darbhanga 16. The number of persons on relief works in Darbhanga is 15,070. Cattle-disease prevails in eight districts. Fodder and water-supply are sufficient everywhere. Cholera continues in parts of Burdwan and Jessore. Small-pox is also reported from the former district. The price of common rice has risen in six and fallen in ten districts.

C. A. OLDHAM,

Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

DEPT. OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL

The 18th December 1906.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL AND IN EASTERN BENGAL AND ASSAM FOR THE MONTH OF NOVEMBER 1906.

At the end of October a depression, which formed over the Andamans, advanced towards the Circars and was in the neighbourhood of Cocanada on the morning of the 20th. It passed inland on the morning of the 30th, giving abundant rain over the Circars coast. The rainfall initiated by this depression continued for the first three days of the month, but gradually diminished, and was confined chiefly to the south-eastern districts of Eastern Bengal and Assam, Bengal, Orissa and Chota Nagpur. On the 4th Dibrugarh reported rain, but over the rest of the area no precipitation occurred during the remainder of the first week. During the second week, with the exception of a few showers in Assam, no rain fell over the reporting area. In the Bay a low pressure area appeared on the 9th of the month over the south-east of the Bay. This subsequently extended, and, becoming better defined, reached its greatest development on the 14th, and was then situated over the sea area in close proximity to the land. The weather was consequently somewhat disturbed during this period in the south-west of the Bay, but over the remaining area was very little affected. During the third week of the month Shillong was the only station that reported rain, and skies were generally clear, except for a little cloud in Bihar, Chota Nagpur and the Coast districts. In the south-west of the Bay conditions remained somewhat unsettled. Towards the end of the week, however, the pressure distribution became practically normal. During the last week of the month practically no rain fell. Light cloud occurred on most days in Orissa, and towards the close of the month it extended into Bengal and Assam. In the Bay weather was again somewhat disturbed owing to the formation of a low pressure area over the south, giving heavy rain on the Coromandel coast and in the Bay Islands.

Summary of temperature.—Weather was unusually warm over the whole of the reporting area. The highest temperature recorded during the month was 90°·6 at Angul and the lowest 47° at Palamau.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature of each of the seven Meteorological Divisions of the Provinces of Bengal and of Eastern Bengal and Assam for the month of November 1906:—

Assam	87·5	52·2	80·7	62·2	71·5	+ 0·1

* Purnalla not included.

Summary of rainfall—The rainfall work of the Province has been placed in the hands of the Director of Agriculture, Bengal, and the usual data regarding the actual and normal rainfall during the month are published by that Department. A short table, however, is attached to this report giving the rainfall recorded during the month at the head-quarters of the various districts of the Province.

Rainfall fell short of the small amount usually expected during this month everywhere, except in the southern districts of Eastern Bengal, where a slight excess was recorded.

The average fall of the corresponding period for 24 years, Surveyor-General's Office	65.34

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The month of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. The rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

Particulars thereof.

2. Every such application shall contain the following particulars, namely:—

- (a) the name, residence and profession of the applicant;
- (b) a description, as accurate as possible and illustrated by a rough sketch, of the land, whether in Government Estate or Protected or Reserved forest or in other waste lands not included in the above, with respect to which the lease is required;
- (c) a statement showing particulars as to the licenses or leases already held by the applicant from Government under these or other rules.

3. The area of limestone quarries shall ordinarily be limited to half a square mile.

Area of block to be leased.

When any applicant, Company or Association applies for more than this area, special grounds shall be given in the application. The sanction of the Board of Revenue, as a special case, shall be necessary to the lease of more than one block to one applicant or the lease of a second block to an applicant who already holds one.

Note 1.—The right of an applicant in respect of a lease for quarrying limestones is limited to one block of half a square mile. The number of blocks which may properly be granted under any one lease is a matter of importance. The object of Government is not only to secure a rent for its quarries, but also to develop the resources of the country, and it is much more likely that a monopoly will hinder development than promote it. The position in practice is that if a lessee could succeed in taking up all the available quarries, he might block out all legitimate competition and extension of the business. This should be carefully guarded against, as it is certain that efforts will be made to take up all workable quarries in one interest and actually to work only one or two quarries. A lease should be restricted to such area as is reasonably required for bond fide quarrying of limestone. It should be such as would be sufficient to prevent disturbance of any sort by another lessee quarrying in the immediate neighbourhood of the quarry and sufficient to give full scope to all the work contemplated by the lessee. It is not enough to consider the resources at the command of the applicant, but also and not less the possibility of other capitalists being likely to engage in the same industry.

Note 2.—The right should be reserved to Government to make surface roads over any block.

4. The term for which a lease for quarrying limestone may be granted may be 20 years or such shorter term as the applicant may desire, and every lease granted under these rules shall be duly registered.

Term of lease.

5. (1) All operations conducted within a Reserved forest shall be subject to such conditions as the Government may by general or special order from time to time prescribe.

(2) It shall be a condition of every lease granted under these rules that before the commencement of operations within a Reserved forest, notice shall be given to the District Forest Officer of the intention to commence work and that the operations shall be conducted subject to any rules regarding the use of fire he may prescribe.

(3) Every quarrying lease which includes any portion of a Reserved forest shall, if it authorises the lessee to fell timber for quarrying purposes, specify the area within which, or the quantity up to which, and the terms and conditions upon which, he may exercise that authority.

6. Every such lease shall contain such conditions and stipulations as the Collector or Deputy Commissioner may in each case consider necessary; but shall in every case contain the following conditions:—

Its condition.

(i) Limestone shall be charged at the following rates, or at rates sanctioned by the Board on a report of the Commissioner.

Payment of royalty.

Rs. A. P.

(a) For a quarry within 5 miles of a public railway station—

Stone	0	6	6	per ton.
Lime	0	9	0	"

(b) For a quarry more than 5 miles, but not more than 15 miles, from a public railway station—

Stone	0	4	4	"
Lime	0	6	0	"

(c) For a quarry more than 15 miles from a public railway station—

Stone	0	3	3	per ton.
Lime	0	4	6	"

(d) For limestone quarried for ballast purposes ...

Provided that if the Commissioner proposes to fix lower rates in the case of a new applicant than those fixed for adjacent quarries, he shall give notice to the lessees of the adjacent quarries, calling upon them to show cause why such lower rates should not be fixed in the lease to be granted to the new applicant. In submitting his recommendation to the board, the Commissioner shall forward the objections (if any) of the adjacent lessees together with his own opinion.

N. B.—I.—The above rates are liable to alteration from time to time.

II.—No royalty shall be charged for limestone used for buildings at the site.

(ii) The lessee shall also pay for all land he may take up, use or occupy for the purpose of the quarry, an annual rent not exceeding Rs. 100, to be fixed by the Commissioner on the report of the Collector or Deputy Commissioner.

Rent for occupancy of land.

- (iv) The lessee shall commence operations within a year from the date of execution of the lease and shall thereafter carry them on effectually in a proper and skilful manner unless prevented by unavoidable cause. The Commissioner, with the consent of the Public Works Department, shall depute an officer of that Department, on the requisition of the Collector or Deputy Commissioner, to report if the work is properly and skilfully done. If that officer reports that the work is not being done properly and skilfully or that the operations were not commenced within a year from the date of execution of the lease, the lease shall be subject to forfeiture.
- Commencement of operations.*
- (v) Neither the lessee nor any person claiming through or under him shall assign the lease or transfer any right or interest thereunder, or underlet the whole or any portion of the premises comprised in such lease, without the assent of the Board of Revenue first obtained. The penalty for the infraction of this condition shall be the forfeiture of the lease.
- Assignment of lease or transfer of right or interest thereunder.*
- (vi) (a) The lease may, at the request of the lessee, be terminated at any time on six months' notice being given by the lessee to the Collector or Deputy Commissioner, provided that the date of the termination of the lease shall run from the date on which all outstanding dues on account of the property leased have been paid, and that the lessee has removed all plant and stock of limestone, including limestone used for buildings at the site.
- Determination of lease.*
- (b) All plant, limestone, and lime not removed by a date to be fixed by the Collector or Deputy Commissioner before the termination of the lease shall become the absolute property of Government.
- Removal of plant, &c.*
- (vii) The lessee shall keep correct accounts showing the quantity and particulars of limestone and lime, and submit them to the Collector or Deputy Commissioner of the district quarterly, and all stone and lime shall be exported from certain public railway stations to be specified on the lease on pain of forfeiture of the lease, except with the permission of the Collector or Deputy Commissioner of the district.
- Keeping of accounts and export of limestone or lime.*
- (viii) The lessee shall allow any officer appointed by Government or deputed by the Collector to enter upon the premises in the lease for the purpose of inspecting the same. On proof of any obstruction to such entry the lease shall be liable to be forfeited.
- Inspection of premises.*
- (ix) The rent and royalty shall be paid according to fixed instalments, to be entered in the lease, to the Collector or Deputy Commissioner of the district, and on failure of payment of any instalment, the arrears shall be recoverable by the Certificate Procedure under the Public Demands Recovery Act, I (U. C.) of 1895. If any instalment of rent remain unpaid for the period of three months after due date, the lease may be cancelled by the Collector or Deputy Commissioner with the consent of the Commissioner.
- Instalment.*
- (x) The lessee shall pay any cesses, such as Road and Public Works cess of any other which may hereafter be imposed by law, in addition to the rent and royalty to be paid.
- Liability to cess.*
- (xi) The land shall be subject to all existing rights-of-way and water and other easements to be specified in the lease, so far as possible, and to any exceptions and reservations which may be specified in the lease.
- Land to be subject to rights-of-way, &c.*
- (xii) If any boundary dispute or disputes regarding right-of-way or any other dispute whatsoever regarding the construction of any term or condition in the lease arises between the lessee and the lessee of any adjoining block already leased under these rules or which may subsequently be leased, the lessee shall be bound to submit such dispute to the decision of the Collector or Deputy Commissioner. The decision of such officer shall be appealable to the superior revenue authorities in due course, and the decision of the Board of Revenue shall be final and binding on the lessees.
- Boundary dispute.*
- (xiii) The lessee shall have no claim against Government for compensation or damages in respect of land having been included in his lease which has already been included in some previous lease, but the lessee shall be entitled to proportionate reduction of the assessment in respect of any land covered by the lease which may subsequently be discovered not to have been available for lease.

- (viii) The lessee in the event of any accident occurring in the area under lease shall forthwith report the same to the Collector or Deputy Commissioner of the district in the form prescribed by Government for the purpose. The Collector or Deputy Commissioner as the case may be shall supply copies of the forms at the time of execution of the lease.
- Report of accident.
- (ix) The lease shall be subject to all rules and regulations which may from time to time be issued by the Local Government regulating the working of the quarries and other matters affecting the safety, health and convenience of the lessees, employés or of the public whether under the Indian Mines Act or otherwise.
- Lease subject to rules.
- (x) The lessee shall furnish such reports and returns relating to output, labourers employed and other matters as the Local Government may prescribe.
- Submission of reports.
- (xi) The lessee may, on the expiration of the term, have a renewal of the lease on terms to be agreed upon by the Collector or Deputy Commissioner and lessee, subject to the approval of the Commissioner.
- Renewal of lease.
- (xii) The lessee shall, before beginning operations, demarcate the area leased to him with boundary marks of stone or puka masonry and keep these boundary marks always in proper repair. If within six months of the date of the execution of the lease, the lands have not, in the opinion of the Collector or Deputy Commissioner, been properly demarcated, the lease shall be liable to be forfeited.
- Demarcation of area and boundary marks.
- (xiii) In the event of breach of any of the conditions specified in these rules, the lessee shall be liable to a fine representing liquidated damages to be imposed by the Collector or Deputy Commissioner, which shall not exceed half the yearly rental and shall be recoverable under section 7 (1) (i) of the Public Demands Recovery Act, I (B. O.) of 1895, and shall also be liable to ejectment for any breach of the conditions specified in (iii), (iv) (v), (vi) (vii) and (xiii) above.
- Penalty for breach of conditions.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Department of Commerce and Industry.

HIS MAJESTY'S Secretary of State for India has communicated to the Government of India a request from the Governor-General of Canada that emigration from India to Canada should be discouraged, and that intending emigrants should be warned that there is no probability of their obtaining employment in that country and that in the event of their destitution, they are liable to deportation under the law of Canada.

2. The Governor-General in Council accordingly requests all Local Governments and Administrations to make the above intimation generally known, particularly in places from which emigration to Canada is believed to be most common, and also to warn intending emigrants at the ports of embarkation of the risks they run in proceeding to that Colony.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1. The opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.
2. The opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which, provision is made by clause 13 of these conditions of sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3. The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M., but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4. Each lot shall contain five chests.

5. A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale, noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this office by Bank of Bengal receipts or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M., in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M., or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots

DEPOSIT.

When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,500 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,500 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional to the extent of Rs. 400.

for which no Bank of Bengal receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale, as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

6. The said Promissory Notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7. The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale or 1-30 P.M., if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8. No tender of money, Bank of Bengal receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payee thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9. The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and, in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between the amount obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10. Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lot or chests ordinarily required to be included in each certificate or order.

11. No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12. The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand render at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal receipts, or Government securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13. With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually by Rs 5 at a time until a bid is obtained; and the first bond fide bidder for a lot, after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described, shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14. The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remains a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15. In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16. The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—

No. 1, Certificate of the opium advertised for sale;

No. 2, Report of the examination of such opium.

17. The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna Factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazipur Factory for the year 1905-1906, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug, when packed at the Patna and Ghazipur Factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the office of the Board of Revenue.

18. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised or sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, betrayal of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.*

Advertisement of Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below, to the undermentioned estates, situate in the district of Nadia, will be put up to sale at the Nadia Collectorate on Friday, the 4th January 1907, corresponding to 1313 (B.S.).

Conditions of Sale.

- 1st.—The estates to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price, which will be fixed by the Collector at the time of sale. The purchaser of the estate will be considered as the proprietor of the estates and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estates will be transferred to him, subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity.
- 2nd.—The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings, and by the laws in force; and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the revenue authorities.
- 3rd.—If the amount of purchase-money does not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.
- 4th.—If the amount of purchase-money exceeds Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale is to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement as in the case of original sale.

EXECUTIVE ENGINEER'S OFFICE,

THIRD CALCUTTA DIVISION.

Notice.

THE public are hereby informed that 600 feet roadway of the 3rd mile, 3rd furlong, Grand Trunk Road, Howrah (i.e., 350 feet on the North and 250 feet on the South of the Punjab Line Level Crossing) will be closed to all traffic from the 24th December 1906 to 8th January 1907 (both days inclusive) for making improvements to the approaches.

L. D. CROSS,

Executive Engineer, Third Calcutta Division.
Calcutta, the 19th December 1906.

Notice.

THE annual mela at Daltonganj, in the district of Palamau, commences from the 18th January 1907 corresponding with 4th Magh 1318 B.S., and will last for about a month. An agriculture and cattle show will also be held in connection with it during the first week of February.

Traders and dealers in plough and milk cattle, horses and ponies, and other traders and merchants excepting those from plague-infected areas are invited to attend. No tax is levied. The comfort of strangers is looked after. The mela is held on the bank of the River Koel, so there is no difficulty for drinking water for men and cattle. Fodder will be available at reasonable rates. Bamboos and posts are supplied to traders free of cost for making booths. Police and conservancy arrangements are made.

S. R. HIGNELL,

Deputy Commissioner.

THE INDIAN LAW REPORTS

Published in FOUR SERIES, viz.

CALCUTTA, MADRAS, BOMBAY AND ALLAHABAD

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Government General in Council, are printed in monthly Parts, which are issued, as soon as possible after the first of each month, at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

The Reports comprise four Series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court.

The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat Book Depot; and the Madras, Bombay and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

Persons desiring to subscribe for or purchase the Reports should apply to—the Officer in charge, Bengal Secretariat Book Depot, Calcutta, or the Superintendent, Government Press, Madras, or

the Superintendent, Government Central Press, Bombay, or the Curator of Government Books, United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, Allahabad.

Karachi harbour—Removal of Deep Water Point mooring buoy.

No. 469 (third publication).—The Bombay Government has given notice (No. 125, dated 28th November), that the Deep Water Point Mooring Buoy, Karachi Harbour, has been removed and will not be replaced until further notice.

This notice affects the following Admiralty Chart:—Karachi Harbour, No. 40; also West Coast of Hindustan Pilot, 1898, page 304, and Supplement 1903, page 19.

EASTERN ARCHIPELAGO—BORNEO, SOUTH-EAST COAST.

Pulo Laut strait—Light-buoy established.

No. 70 (third publication).—With reference to Notice to Mariners No. 226, dated 26th June 1906, issued by this office, the British Admiralty has given further notice (No. 1271 of 1906) that a light-buoy exhibiting a white occulting light, every twenty seconds, thus:—light, ten seconds; eclipse, ten seconds, has been established in a position situated about one mile S. 75° E. from Petang point, in the southern entrance to Pulo Laut strait.

Approximate position, lat. 3° 37' S., long. 115° 57½' E.

(Variation 2° Easterly in 1906.)

This Notice affects the following Admiralty Charts:—Makassar strait, No. 2637; plan of Pulo Laut strait on chart No. 2662; Also Eastern Archipelago, part II, 1904, page 277.

CHINA, NORTH—MANCHURIA, SOUTH COAST.

Cambrian or Lakhutan cove.—Non-existence of shoal.

No. 471 (third publication).—With reference to notice to Mariners No. 498, dated 12th December 1905, issued by this Office, the British Admiralty has given further notice (No. 1272 of 1906) that the rock reported by the S.S. Ishibashi Maru off Cambrian cove, as situated in a position 12 cables S. 73° W. from the rock off the south-eastern extremity of South Entry point, in the approach to Talien hwan bay, has been repeatedly and carefully searched for at a distance of 2 cables in all directions around the assigned position without any indication being found of its existence, the general depths in the locality being 17 fathoms over mud, sand, and shells bottom. This rock has therefore been erased from the charts.

Approximate position, lat. 38° 51' N., long. 121° 40½' E.

NOTE.—The Japanese name for the Talien islands to the westward of Cambrian cove is Dairen, and this has now been adopted on chart No. 1798.

(Variation 4° Westerly in 1906.)

This Notice affects the following Admiralty Chart:—Kwang tung peninsula, No. 1797: Also, China Sea Directory, vol. III, 1904, page 590.

Goh Tapaunoi light—Temporary alterations.

No. 472 (third publication).—The British Admiralty has given notice (No. 1273 of 1906) that Goh Tapaunoi white flashing light, Tongka harbour, will be temporarily replaced by a white fixed light whilst undergoing repairs.

Approximate position, lat. $7^{\circ} 50\frac{1}{2}'$ N., long. $98^{\circ} 25\frac{1}{2}'$ E.

Further Notice will be given as necessary.

This notice temporarily affects the following Admiralty Chart:—Puket or Tongka harbour, No. 843: Also, List of Lights, part VI, 1906, No. 383; Bay of Bengal Pilot, 1901, page 434; and China Sea Directory, vol. I, 1896, page 117.

PACIFIC OCEAN—SULU SEA—THE PHILIPPINE ISLANDS.

Basilan strait—Shoal inserted on Charts.

No. 473 (third publication).—The British Admiralty has given notice (No. 1274 of 1906) that as a shoal with a depth of $3\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms over it appears on the United States Government chart of Basilan strait, situated on chart No. 961 in approximately lat. $6^{\circ} 46' 0''$ N., long. $122^{\circ} 4' 20''$ E., it has been inserted on the Admiralty charts in this position.

NOTE.—The authority for this danger is a Spanish chart corrected to 1895.

This Notice affects the following Admiralty Charts:—Sulu Archipelago, Nos. 2516, 928; Basilan strait, No. 961: Also, Eastern Archipelago, part I, 1890, page 99.

EASTERN ARCHIPELAGO—JAVA, NORTH COAST.

Pamanukan rock—Buoy replaced by light-buoy.

No. 474 (third publication).—With reference to Notice to Mariners No. 226, dated 26th June 1906, issued by this office, the British Admiralty has given further notice (No. 1275 of 1906) that the black bell buoy surmounted by a ball marking Pamanukan rock, has been replaced by a light-buoy painted black, exhibiting a white occulting light every twenty seconds, thus:—light, ten seconds; eclipse, ten seconds.

Approximate position, lat. $6^{\circ} 1'$ S., long. $107^{\circ} 52\frac{1}{2}'$ E.

This Notice affects the following Admiralty Chart:—Java, No. 1653: Also Eastern Archipelago, part II, 1904, page 97.

EASTERN ARCHIPELAGO—JAVA ISLAND, EAST COAST—SURABAYA STRAIT

Kleta reef.—Beacon erected.

No. 475 (third publication).—The British Admiralty has given notice (No. 1292 of 1906) that an iron screwpile beacon, painted in black and red horizontal bands, with a truncated cone as a topmark, has been erected in a depth of 2 feet on Kleta reef, in the eastern entrance to Surabaya strait, in a position situated at a distance of $6\frac{1}{8}$ miles S. 42° E. from Larangan mosque.

Approximate position on chart No. 934 lat. $7^{\circ} 19\frac{1}{2}'$ S., long $112^{\circ} 52'$ E.

Variation 2° Easterly in 1906.

This notice affects the following Admiralty Charts:—Java, No. 1654, Surabaya strait, on chart No. 934: Also, Eastern Archipelago, part II 1904, page 127; and Supplement, 1906, page 11.

JAPAN SEA—PETER THE GREAT BAY—VLADIVOSTOK APPROACH.

Cape Gamova light—Further particulars given, Askold island—Pilot station.

No. 476 (third publication).—With reference to Notice to Mariners No. 402, dated 20th October, issued by this office, the British Admiralty has given further notice (No. 1293 of 1906) that a white group flashing light showing groups of two flashes, each group being of about two seconds' duration, every ten seconds, elevated 210 feet above high water, and visible from a distance of 16 miles, has been established on cape Gamova, Vladivostok approach. The light, which is of the 2nd order, is shown from a lighthouse 48 feet high.

A siren worked by compressed air and a bell have been established on the southern end of the cape; during thick or foggy weather the siren will give one blast of four seconds' duration every minute, and the bell probably worked in accordance with the Russian uniform system.

Approximate position, lat. $42^{\circ} 33\frac{1}{2}'$ N., long. $131^{\circ} 12\frac{1}{2}'$ E.

Also, that it is no longer now requisite to make cape Gamova when approaching Vladivostok, but it is equally safe to make Askold island, and, obtaining a pilot from thence, to approach Vladivostok by the eastern entrance to the Eastern Bosphorus strait.

Approximate position, Askold light. lat. $42^{\circ} 44'$ N., long. $132^{\circ} 22'$ E.

This Notice affects the following Admiralty Charts:—Kuril islands, No. 2405; Tumen Ula to Strelak bay, No. 2432; Trinity bay to the Eastern Bosphorus, No. 511: Also List of Lights, part VI, 1906, page 189, No. 1156; and Sailing Directions for Japan, &c., 1904, page 162, 191.

AUSTRALIA, SOUTH—GULF OF ST. VINCENT—BACKSTAIRS PASSAGE.

Yatala shoal—Buoy established.

No. 477 (third publication).—The British Admiralty has given notice (No. 1298 of 1906) that, on or about the 24th of that month, a spherical buoy, painted in red and white horizontal bands, and surmounted by a half globe, base downwards, would be moored in a depth of 5 fathoms on the north-western side of Yatala shoal, Backstairs passage. The exact position of this buoy is not given, but it has been placed on the chart at a distance of $4\frac{1}{2}$ miles N. 19° E. from cape St. Alban.

Approximate position, lat. $35^{\circ} 44\frac{1}{2}'$ S., long. $138^{\circ} 9\frac{1}{2}'$ E.

(Variation 5° Easterly in 1906.)

This Notice affects the following Admiralty Charts:—Gulf of St. Vincent, &c., No. 2389a; Backstairs passage, No. 25: Also Australia Directory, vol. I, 1897, page 308.

AUSTRALIA—NEW SOUTH WALES.

Port Jackson—Fog Signals altered.

No. 478 (third publication).—With reference to Notice to Mariners No. 286, dated 29th July 1905, issued by this office, the British Admiralty has given further notice (No. 1299 of 1906) that the fog bells at Bradley head, fort Denison, and Dawes point, in port Jackson, will in future be sounded continuously during thick or foggy weather, and not as described in the above-mentioned Notice.

Approximate position, fort Denison, lat. $33^{\circ} 51\frac{1}{2}'$ S., long. $151^{\circ} 13\frac{1}{2}'$ E.

This Notice affects the following Admiralty Charts:—Port Jackson, No. 1069; Woolloomooloo, &c., No. 1890: Also List of Lights, part VI, 1906, Nos. 1364, 1365, 1365a; Australia Directory, vol. I, 1897, pages 824, 829; vol. II, 1898, pages 59, 62, 63.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON PUBLIC INSTRUCTION IN BENGAL FOR 1905-1906.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—EDUCATION.

Calcutta, the 15th December 1906.

RESOLUTION—No. 3119.

READ—

The Report on Public Instruction in Bengal for the year 1905-06.

1. Sir Alexander Pedler, K.T., F.R.S., C.I.E., was in charge of the Department as Director of Public Instruction throughout the year. Mr. A. Earle, I.C.S., was placed on special duty in the office of the Director and was associated with Sir Alexander Pedler in the control of the Department with effect from the 15th January, 1906. Mr. Earle, by whom the Report has been submitted, assumed sole charge of the Department on the 31st March, 1906, the date on which Sir Alexander Pedler retired.

2. The introductory chapter contains a brief general review of the year's work throughout the whole field of educational endeavour, while in the chapters which follow details are separately supplied in reference to each of the customary divisions of the subject. The Report exceeds the prescribed length by eleven pages. This is attributed partly to the fact that an attempt has been made to write for the first time a complete introductory summary in accordance with standing orders, and to give, in the chapters which follow, a collected and readable narrative of the operations of the year. This renders any further review of the events of the year unnecessary. The length of the Report is also due to the fact that numerous schemes of educational reform are at the present time in process of development, and that more space than usual has therefore been required for their discussion. These schemes and the important questions raised in the Report are under the consideration of Government.

3. In publishing the Report the Lieutenant-Governor desires to thank Mr. Earle for the care and thoroughness with which it has been prepared and for the interesting account which it gives of the working of the Educational Department in Bengal during the year 1905-06. His Honour has had opportunities in reviewing the Reports of the two previous years, of acknowledging the services rendered by Sir Alexander Pedler to the cause of education during his tenure of office.

ORDER—Ordered that the Report be published in the Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

REPORT

PUBLIC INSTRUCTION IN BENGAL

FOR 1905-06.

CHAPTER I.

GENERAL REVIEW OF THE YEAR'S WORKING.

Introductory Remarks.

1. This chapter attempts to give a bird's-eye but a complete view of the salient features of educational progress in the Province during the year 1905-1906. If any reader is sufficiently interested in any branch of education to wish to learn about it more in detail, I would ask him to refer to the particular chapter which deals with that phase of education which he seeks to investigate. This chapter is intended for the ordinary busy man, who is interested in a general way in the progress of education, but has neither the time nor the inclination to make a special study of the various problems involved.

Controlling Agencies.

2. Educational work has increased so rapidly of recent years without a corresponding increase to the staff that at the present time we are found to be attempting the impossible task of making bricks without straw. To begin with, the directing staff is inadequate. The work required to be done by the Director and the Assistant Director is considerably more than two men, even working under excessive strain, can accomplish. Proposals are under consideration for the appointment of a Deputy Director to take charge of technical and industrial education, and I am of opinion that the time is not far distant when it will be generally recognised that the Director also requires further assistants, possibly a Deputy Director for secondary, and another for primary, education.

3. A scheme was sanctioned by His Majesty's Secretary of State during the year for considerably strengthening the inspecting agency. When funds permit of the scheme being brought into operation, a much needed relief will be afforded. There remains however the equally important need of a large increase to the professorial staff of the colleges. This is a subject on which the Commission recently appointed by the Calcutta University to inspect colleges has laid special stress. At present we are so short-handed that it is scarcely possible to carry on the administration, and the break-down of a single officer causes great dislocation of work. This matter will shortly be made the subject of a representation to Government. More female inspecting agents also are required. The staff has lately been increased by the appointment of three additional Assistant Inspectresses, but more are urgently required. The appointment of an additional Inspectress is also under consideration. I foresee the need, before many years are passed, of an Inspectress for every Division in which there is at present an Inspector of Schools.

Provincial, Subordinate and Lower Subordinate Educational Services.

4. The sanction of His Majesty's Secretary of State was received during the year to a scheme for the reorganisation of the Provincial and Subordinate Educational Services and the creation of a Lower Subordinate Educational Service. The pay and prospects of all officers of these services have been considerably improved by this measure, which will undoubtedly make for greater efficiency.

The Calcutta University and Collegiate Education.

The new University regulations.

5. The preparation of the new regulations under the Indian Universities' Act, 1904, and the inspection of arts colleges by the Commission referred to above were the two most important events of the year. Inasmuch as the University was unable to submit the new regulations to the Government of India in a complete form before the close of the year, the final stages of the work were entrusted to a special committee appointed by that Government. The regulations were approved by the Government of India on the 11th August 1906. They will doubtless make greater demands upon students than those previously in force. Hence it is, in my opinion, essential that the interests of poor scholars should be safe-guarded by the provision of an adequate number of scholarships of a sufficient value. This subject will be carefully borne in mind.

Report of the Commission.

6. I have referred above to the Commission appointed by the University to inspect colleges throughout this Province. The report submitted by it has brought to light numerous defects in the administration of colleges, and in particular has laid stress on the inadequacy of the professorial staff and the insufficiency in many cases of the accommodation and equipment. The Commission's report will be of great value when steps are taken to enforce the new regulations. As regards Government colleges, Government will no doubt do all that is required in order to carry out the necessary improvements; but the private colleges, if left to themselves, would indeed be in bad case. Fortunately the Government of India have foreseen the difficulty and are giving annual grants of money for the express purpose of enabling these colleges to comply with the regulations. That they will be able to do so in a short time is out of the question: progress will necessarily be gradual. One of the most pressing of all needs is the provision of hostels or messes under proper supervision for students who do not reside with their parents or other legal guardians. The Local Government has done its best to assist the University in this respect by inaugurating a system of college messes under supervision; but the work is only in the initial stage and the co-operation of the University is required in order to bring the scheme to a satisfactory issue.

The Presidency College.

7. The Presidency College, which is considerably the largest, and, according to the Commission referred to in the last paragraph, in certain respects by far the best equipped college in Calcutta, is seriously overcrowded; and in the opinion of the Commission either the numbers must be reduced or the college must be enlarged or rebuilt on a more open site. The scientific departments of this college suffer in particular owing to the want of space, while the department of chemistry is also reported to suffer from the dust and dirt of the neighbourhood. It is further reported that important groups of magnetic and electrical measurements cannot be made within an area surrounded by electric trams, and that therefore the use of such instruments cannot be taught to students. Proposals are now under consideration either for largely extending the college on its present site or removing it to another site in the neighbourhood of Calcutta. This is a question in which the public is interested and in regard to which it will, no doubt, be fully consulted.

General statistics of colleges.

8. The results of the last Entrance Examination were very disappointing, the percentage of success being only 26.4. The subject is now under the consideration of a special committee appointed by the Senate. Probably no great improvement in respect of the teaching given in High schools can be effected until the training colleges referred to in the chapter on Training Colleges and Schools are established. There has been but little variation as regards expenditure. Of the total expenditure amounting to

Rs. 7,65,695, Rs. 2,77,480 were derived from public, and Rs. 4,88,215 from private funds. The cost per annum of educating a student is rising considerably. It was Rs. 110. only two years ago; while in the year under review it was Rs. 136.

Secondary Education for Indian Boys.

9. The number of secondary schools declined by 8, while that of pupils attending them increased by 2,422. The decline in the number of schools chiefly concerns Middle Vernacular Schools, and is mainly to be ascribed to the smaller value which attaches year by year to a purely vernacular education. In years gone by a Middle Vernacular pass qualified a student for admission to Medical and Survey Schools and to the Mukhtiyarship examination. This is no longer the case. The steady decline in the popularity of these schools must, in my opinion, culminate in their abolition as a separate class of schools. They more naturally fall under the head of primary schools, and they are so classified in the Bombay Presidency.

10. As indicated later in this chapter, the revision of the vernacular scheme of education is in progress. The courses are at present too advanced and too diversified and the text-books are not written in language commonly used by the people, but in an unfamiliar literary style. The teaching of English in secondary schools also requires amendment. The result at present is that a great number of boys leave High Schools with an inadequate knowledge of that language, and that when they go to college they cannot understand their lecturers. The question will shortly come under review. Lastly, the training colleges for teachers in High and other secondary schools, which will shortly be opened, should work a revolution in the methods of teaching in secondary schools.

11. Special instruction is given at selected secondary schools in subjects leading up to an industrial, commercial or agricultural career. These classes are still in the experimental stage and have not hitherto proved successful. They require careful fostering. Special arrangements are being made for their supervision by persons who have some special knowledge of these subjects, and it is hoped that in this way these classes will receive a fresh impetus.

Primary Education for Indian Boys.

12. The increase in the number of schools and scholars by 1.1 per cent. and 2.1 per cent. respectively is undoubtedly a matter for congratulation. Such a result could scarcely be looked for in view of the fact that the policy, very properly followed in recent years, has been to demand an increased standard of efficiency before putting a school on the aided or stipendiary list. Further advance may now be reasonably anticipated, and, if we are able to remove certain hindrances which are at present operating to retard progress, the future may be considered to be hopeful. The first of the drawbacks referred to is the present system of vernacular instruction with courses which are too advanced and too diversified, and with text-books not written in language commonly used by the people but in an unfamiliar literary style. Much progress has been made in the work of revision, and it is hoped that by the close of the current year it will be completed. Another cause which has had a distinctly depressing effect on primary education has been the abolition of the public examinations which were previously held at the close of the lower primary and upper primary stages. I have no wish to suggest a revival of the examinations as previously held with all their attendant evils; but I recognise that a stimulus which existed has been withdrawn and that nothing has been put in its place. Boys when they leave school want some form of certificate that they have passed through a given course. I think that it would be desirable to organise a system of leaving certificates based on the reports of the school authorities and a private examination conducted in the school itself by the inspecting officer. Such a system could very well be arranged as soon as the inspecting staff is strengthened.

pupils in the primary stage of instruction.

13. The most correct view of public primary instruction is obtained by a consideration of the number of boys reading in the primary stage, whether in primary or secondary schools. Inclusive of pupils reading in the primary stage in secondary schools the total number of pupils under primary instruction was 1,011,290, as against 1,001,324 in the previous year. One boy in every 4 boys of a school-going age was under primary instruction.

school buildings.

14. Bengal has hitherto had the unenviable reputation of being the most backward of all the Provinces in the matter of buildings for primary schools. Substantial progress was however made in the year under review, the Local Government assigning a sum of Rs. 5,03,598 towards the construction of suitable buildings on condition that a reasonable proportion should be contributed from local sources. During the current year and in future years very little expenditure in this direction will, I anticipate, be possible owing to the urgent calls for money in numerous other directions; nor am I personally of opinion that further money should be expended in this way. Government has set an example in the matter, and I consider that the most advantageous procedure to follow in future will be to promise specially favourable grants-in-aid where the residents of any locality are prepared to supply the funds necessary for building a school-house and to undertake to keep it in repair. I propose to work out a scheme on these lines as soon as practicable and to submit it for the consideration of Government.

Training Colleges and Schools for Indian Teachers.

Training colleges for teachers in secondary schools.

15. During the year under review His Majesty's Secretary of State accorded his approval to a scheme for the training of teachers who impart instruction through the medium of English. The establishment of training colleges for such teachers is one of the prime needs of the Province. Many—I might say a large majority—of the present staff of teachers are well educated men interested in their work, while many are devoted labourers. What is wanted however is that teachers should not only be well educated, but also be properly trained before they are allowed to take up the important work of secondary education.

Training schools for teachers in primary schools.

16. Most interesting is the experiment now being made as regards the training of the lowest grades of teachers of the country, that is to say, the teachers of the ordinary village schools. The work is a gigantic one, not only on account of the large number of teachers who require training—some thirty to forty thousand—but also on account of the very poor attainments of the men to be trained. Real progress has however been made, and a satisfactory scheme for gradually bringing all these teachers under training has been evolved. There will be two schools of this kind in each subdivision and such schools will be provided with suitable accommodation for the students and also for at any rate one member of the staff.

Proposed training colleges for female teachers.

17. As pointed out later when the subject of the education of women is dealt with, everything points to the fact that we have reached a stage where a very considerable expansion of this branch of education is likely to take place. In order to meet this we must however have respectable and properly qualified female teachers and inspecting agents. The prime need therefore, as regards this branch of education at the present time, is the establishment of training colleges for women teachers. It is a subject which is engaging the earnest attention of the Education Department and Government. In the meantime a decided step in advance has recently been taken in the sending to England of two Indian ladies to be trained at an English training college. If the proposed colleges for women teachers are established these ladies will be invaluable as members of the staff.

Statistics in respect of training schools for teachers, male and female, taken together.

18. The total expenditure under this head increased in the year under report by Rs. 31,903. The number of schools for male pupils and of male pupils has increased by 8 and 206 respectively; while, though schools for females have declined by 1, the number of female pupils has increased by 74. The year has been one of progress, but the progress can only be considered as an instalment towards what is to come.

Professional and Technical Education.

The Sibpur Engineering College.

19. The most important development made at the College during the year under review was the inauguration of classes for students who intend to take up mining as a profession. These classes have already been opened under a Professor of Mining recruited from the University of Birmingham, which is considered to be one of the best, if not the best, centre of mining instruction in England. Further, another Professor has been appointed to instruct persons actually engaged in the mining industry; and four centres of instruction have been selected—two in the Raniganj, and two in the Jheria, coalfield. It may also be mentioned that in addition to the schemes referred to above, a certain number of students from Bengal are each year being sent by the Government of India to go through a course of mining instruction at the Birmingham University. Four such students were sent home in the year 1904 and two in the year 1905. Mining instruction.

20. A question of considerable importance was under discussion during the year under review in connection with the establishment at the College of a laboratory for mechanical testing. Work of this nature has been carried on at the College on a small scale for some time past; but the amount of work to be disposed of has increased so largely that a proposal to appoint a whole-time officer to deal with it is now under consideration. It is expected that the chief volume of work will come from Departments of Government; but it is proposed to make the laboratory available to the public, subject to the payment of fees according to a scale to be approved by Government. Mechanical testing.

21. The results of the B. E. and F. E. examinations were satisfactory. In the former the percentage of success was 34·8, as compared with 25·9 and 46·1 in the two preceding years (1904-1905 and 1903-1904); while in the latter it was 53·3, as against 25 and 60·8 in the same years. The attendance at the College (82·2 per cent.) was not as good as in the previous year, when it was 92 per cent. This was owing to the fact that the year under review was a very unhealthy one at Sibpur; the daily average number of students under treatment, chiefly on account of malaria, being 22. The total expenditure of the College was Rs. 1,57,916, of which Rs. 1,29,249 were contributed from Provincial revenues, Rs. 22,405 from fees and Rs. 6,262 from other sources. Results of examinations.

Draftsman Classes.

22. A strong need having been felt for the establishment of classes for draftsmen, steps were taken during the year under review, with the help of representatives of leading Railway Companies and Engineering firms, to establish such a class; and it is hoped that the scheme will be brought into operation during the current year.

Motor Car Driver Class.

23. At the instance of the Automobile Association of Bengal a scheme is under the consideration of Government for the establishment of a class at the Sibpur Engineering College with the object of giving to men intending to become drivers of motor cars a mechanical training such as will enable them to execute all ordinary repairs.

Industrial Chemistry.

24. In order to meet the growing industrial needs of the Province a scheme is under consideration for the establishment of Industrial Chemistry classes at the Sibpur College. The details of the scheme have still to be worked out.

Commercial Classes.

of two years and the other a series of evening lectures on certain subjects, any one or more of which may be selected at option. It is too early yet to judge how far this scheme will prove effective and adequate. The day course is the principal one; and, as stated above, it extends over two years. The first examination of students under the new scheme for the day course will therefore not take place till April 1907. The evening classes have hitherto not proved a success, and in fact it is doubtful whether in this climate such classes can be expected to achieve results such as are obtained in Europe. The immediate need in respect of these classes is to remove them from the Presidency College, where they are cramped for room, to the business part of the city. It is unreasonable to expect business men after a long day's work to travel any considerable distance for the purpose of attending the evening classes.

26. The commercial education provided at the Presidency College aims only at turning out men qualified to be good clerks. If the present scheme proves a success, it will obviously be necessary to provide before long for a superior commercial education such as will fit a man to conduct a business on his own account. Meantime, the proposal recently made by the Government of India to send scholars to England for an advanced course of commercial education will meet a distinct want in this Province.

Industry.

27. The Government of India have sanctioned the opening of a Weaving School at Serampore, and it is hoped that it will be possible to commence work in the coming cold weather. The object of the scheme is, firstly, to bring home to the ordinary artisans the latest improvements in respect of weaving apparatus, and, after supplying them with the necessary instruction, to give them advances of money in order to enable them to purchase the necessary apparatus; and, secondly, to train up higher class students with the object of enabling them to become teachers of improved methods in outlying centres or to start businesses of their own in the weaving line.

28. These schools increased during the year from 30 to 41. There is a great opening here for development, but no substantial results can be expected until a special officer is appointed to have charge of all the technical and industrial schools. These schools at present languish for want of encouragement. As indicated above, a proposal is now under consideration for the appointment of a special officer for the purpose.

Education of Indian girls in secondary and primary schools, and zanana education.

29. As I stated above in connection with the urgent need for respectable and well qualified women teachers and inspecting agents and the proposal to establish training colleges in order to meet that need, everything points to the fact that we are on the eve of a large expansion of education for women and girls. The people are willing to welcome such an expansion provided that progress proceeds on lines that are not antagonistic to their conservative instincts, with which sympathy should be shown. The policy must not be destructively radical, but progressively conservative. We can only advance by devising measures which are not inconsistent with prescription, to which in the past insufficient concessions have been made. We must not run amuck against tradition, but must carry tradition with us on the lines of progress. The recent history of this branch of education in Egypt throws a vivid light on the question as it affects India. There, as the report of His Majesty's Agent and Consul-General for the year 1905 tells us, the reluctance of parents to send their daughters to school has already been largely overcome. I quote the following passage from the report:—

"It is to be observed that the steady output of boys from Secondary Schools and Higher Colleges has distinctly stimulated the movement for female education, for the younger generation are beginning to demand that their wives should possess some qualifications other than those which can be secured in the seclusion of the harem. The interaction of the two branches of education does not stop here, for not only has the growth of education among boys stimulated the desire for instruction to girls, but it has also tended to improve the quality of education given to the girls by prolonging the period of instruction. There appears good reason for supposing that, where education has made progress, the age of marriage has risen, and that, in consequence, the girls are allowed to remain longer than heretofore at school."

May we not hope that progress will follow the same lines in this country? Signs are not wanting that the advance in this Province will be general and not merely confined to the Bengali-speaking districts. In fact some of the most progressive districts in this respect are in Bihar, which is usually considered a backward part of the Province from an educational point of view.

30. During the year under review secondary and primary schools for girls increased from 2,563 to 2,877 and female students in such schools from 59,034 to 65,632, that is to say, by 12·3 and 11·15 per cent.; respectively; while the total number of girls under instruction in primary and secondary schools for girls and boys increased from 102,546 to 109,078, or by 6·37 per cent. Simultaneously, expenditure in connection with secondary and primary girls' schools has increased by Rs. 42,731. Statistics.

European education.

31. Last year when reporting on the general condition of European education in Bengal the Inspector spoke in no doubtful terms of its unsoundness and urged the unwisdom from a political point of view of allowing this unsoundness to continue. In reviewing these remarks the Government of Bengal stated in its Resolution that the political consequence of such a state of things could not be regarded with indifference, because, restricted as Europeans and Eurasians are in their choice of the means of livelihood, their educational fitness is a matter of great importance. Judged by the results of the year under review European education in the Province, except in the case of a few superior schools, cannot be considered to be satisfactory. Of the 74 candidates who entered for the High School Examination, 20, or 27 per cent. only, passed. Of 81 candidates who entered for the Middle School Examination 14, or 17·2 per cent. only, were successful. Still more significant perhaps is it that out of 49 boys who, having completed their school education, were sent up for the Middle School examination before being sent out into the world, only 5, or 10·2 per cent., were able to pass. The Inspector of European Schools remarked in his report for 1904-1905 "that a certain amount of proficiency was obtained by boys in elementary arithmetic, but that, with this exception, the work was poor and slovenly to a degree." His criticism still holds good. The picture presented is, as far as the past is concerned, indeed gloomy from every point of view. Some of the leading schools of the Province are still struggling under a burden of debt which makes any real progress impossible. Many are working in buildings which are admittedly quite unsuitable, while all practically are striving to accomplish tasks for the performance of which their resources are inadequate. Inspectors have told us that the work of the schools is bad, and employers of labour have testified to the truth of this criticism. Backward condition.

32. The question therefore to be answered is what is to be done. The reply seems to me to be that we must have a better scheme of work and better teachers. Dark as the past has been, I am thankful to say that the future is not without hope. Proposals for revised courses of study, approved by a representative conference of school managers, teachers and others interested in European education, have already been submitted to Government, and, when these are approved, we shall at least know that the system upon which we are working is sound. In order however to give a sound education on the revised lines we must have better qualified teachers, and in this respect we should indeed have been in bad case had not the Government of India come to our rescue and begun to make special provision for European education. Gradually the circumstances of each school will be systematically overhauled, and such assistance as is required will be given in order to enable it to work up to a higher standard. The work has already begun, and, slow though the progress may be at first, I am full of hope that the corner has been turned and that a new era has begun. The Hope for future.

Muhammadan Education.

33. It is very satisfactory that the reaction reported last year has been arrested. In the years 1902-1903 and 1903-1904 the increase in the number of Muhammadans attending all classes of educational institutions was 5·8 and 11·7 per cent. respectively, and a hope was expressed that a real and lasting awakening had occurred on the part of the Muhammadan community to the advantages of education. In the year 1904-1905 however there was a sudden decline of 3·1 per cent. The increase in the year under review of 3·0 per cent. is therefore encouraging. A further impetus may also be anticipated in the near future because a scheme for bringing under the grant-in-aid system the indigenous Muhammadan primary schools which exist throughout the Province is now being brought into full operation. These schools will be aided on condition that they conform to simple departmental standards.

Education of Special Classes.

34. There is a wide field awaiting exploration in connection with aboriginal and backward races and tribes, and indigent Muhammadans and Hindus. These people can only be reached by an extensive development of primary education, and this can only be done as a result of considerable expenditure. We have already reached the better classes and the more accessible tracts of country, and any step now taken in advance will, for obvious reasons, be more costly. At present, if we had the money, the experiment would be of doubtful value, for we have not the necessary supervising staff. As soon however as that staff has been strengthened, the time will have arrived for a forward move.

35. The most satisfactory feature of the year's working was the marked improvement in respect of discipline and conduct in the reformatory schools. There is no doubt that this result is due to the policy laid down by Government that the boys are to be treated as if they were at school and not as if they were in jail. In pursuance of this humane and civilising policy, many important reforms are now in process of development. The chief of these are:—

- (1) the project for the removal of the Alipore Reformatory School from its present site near the Alipore Jail to a site in the suburbs, where there will be no jail associations and where there will be plenty of room for play-grounds;
- (2) the development of the industrial training given at the schools, and especially at the Alipore School, on more advanced and scientific lines;
- (3) an improved and more conciliatory system of watch over discharged boys; and
- (4) last, but certainly not least, a proposal to replace, as far as possible, the present illiterate guards by resident teachers qualified to influence the lives of the boys for good.

Hostels and Messes for Indian students.

36. A strong forward movement is being made in regard to the provision of hostel and mess accommodation for students of all classes. Both in Calcutta and in the Mufassal steps have been taken by Government to provide students, who do not live with their parents or guardians, with some kind of residence under supervision. The project is in an experimental stage at present and it would be rash to pronounce upon it. There is good reason however to believe that it will gradually develop into an orderly scheme, which will be of the greatest benefit to students. The new Calcutta University regulations make residence in either a hostel or mess under supervision compulsory and so set the seal to a scheme which was initiated in anticipation of their enactment. The next step to be taken will be to inaugurate a scheme of residence for school boys who do not reside with their parents or guardians. This will be an easier matter, because in the case of such students a large proportion come from the immediate neighbourhood of the schools and hence do not require provision to be made for them. In some places what is chiefly required in regard to schools is the provision of hostels so as to enable boys from the interior of the districts to take advantage of higher education. This they are at present unable to do owing to the absence of the necessary facilities.

37. The number of hostels increased from 310 to 377, the number of inmates from 9,478 to 11,424 and the expenditure from Rs. 3,24,457 to Rs. 3,77,403. All this is satisfactory, and it is also satisfactory that the bulk of the money expended, viz. Rs. 3,36,122, came from private sources.

The Central Text-Book Committee and the Calcutta School Book Society.

38. The working of the Central Text-Book Committee has recently been adversely criticised, the main objections raised being:—

- (1) that the preliminary examination of text-books which is required under standing orders before their submission to the Text-Book Committee should not, as heretofore, be conducted in a confidential manner, but that the names of the persons consulted should be made public,
- (2) that members of the Text-Book Committee should be remunerated for their work, and
- (3) that the exclusion from the Text-Book Committee of persons who are authors or who have any interest in the production of text-books has the effect of depriving the Committee of the services of the very persons whose services would be of real use.

These questions are now under consideration in connection with a proposal which has been made by certain publishing firms in Calcutta that the School Book Society should be abolished on the ground that it interferes with private trade. The functions of the School Book Society and the Text-Book Committee are interconnected, and the questions raised will be dealt with together.

CHAPTER II.

Managing Agencies.

39. Of the 38,781 institutions for public instruction which were in existence during the year under review, 950 were under public, and 37,831 under private, management. Of the 37,831 institutions under private management, 30,472 were aided by Government and 7,359 unaided. The bulk of the primary schools of the Province were under private management. Thus, of a total number of 36,533 primary schools, as many as 35,961 were under such management, 29,193 of these being aided by Government and 6,768 unaided. The proportions were very similar in regard to secondary schools. The total number of such schools was 1,534. Of these 1,314 were under private management, 987 being aided by Government and 327 unaided. Again, as regards colleges, although in this case the proportion under public management was greater, more were under private, than were under public, management. Thus, of 49 colleges, 18 were under public, and 31 under private, management; while no less than 25 of the colleges privately managed were unaided. It is only as regards training schools that Government took the lead, managing 112 such schools, as against 26 which were under private management.

The appointment of an Assistant Director of Public Instruction.

40. The appointment of an Assistant Director of Public Instruction was sanctioned in the year 1902-1903 with the object of enabling the Director to devote more attention to important cases and to enable him to carry out better his duties of inspection. The work to be done has however increased so largely in recent years, owing to the much greater amount of attention that is being paid to education and the enhanced expenditure incurred thereon, that this appointment is not at the present time, I consider, sufficient. As indicated in the chapter on Professional and Technical Education, the appointment of a tion; and I am of opinion that the time is not yet recognised that the Director requires other officers to assist him, possibly a Deputy Director for secondary, and another for primary, education. At the present time it is only by excessive strain upon the Director and Assistant Director that the work is done at all, and I am fully conscious that even in this way it is not done as it should be. To take one branch of the duties of the Director as an example, the Director has only been able to absent himself from Calcutta on inspection duty, since the date of the appointment of an Assistant Director, for, on an average, 41 days a year. This is, I consider, quite insufficient; but the explanation lies in the fact that the work to be done by him is excessive.

The Reorganisation Scheme.

41. The sanction of His Majesty's Secretary of State was received during the year under review to the scheme of reorganisation of the Provincial and Subordinate Educational Services, and for the creation of a Lower Subordinate Educational Service to include the large majority of the ungraded educational appointments. The lowest grade in the Provincial Educational Service has been raised from Rs. 150 to Rs. 200, the number of appointments in the higher grades has been increased, and a new grade on Rs. 350 has been created. In the Subordinate Educational Service 163 appointments have been added, 163 ungraded men being included in that service. Lastly, a Lower Subordinate Educational Service has been created with five grades, carrying incremental salaries, for men who hitherto have been on fixed salaries outside any graded service. The cost of the scheme, as regards this Province, comes to Rs. 1,41,147 a year. The scheme, which will take effect from the 10th September 1905, will shortly be promulgated by Government. The distribution of the staff between Eastern Bengal and Assam and this Province, and the consequent necessity of making references to the former Government, has been the cause of the delay in the publication of the project.

Increase of the inspecting agency.

42. The Indian and Provincial Educational Services are at the present time undermanned and unable to cope satisfactorily with the work to be done. The pay and prospects of the men in the Provincial Educational Service have been improved by the reorganisation scheme above referred to, but the number of appointments in that service has not been enhanced. The numerous educational reforms which have been initiated in recent years have entailed upon these services a large amount of additional work; but the additional appointments made to the services in question have not been by any means commensurate with the increased responsibilities involved. A scheme for increasing the inspecting agency has recently been sanctioned by His Majesty's Secretary of State, and, when it is brought into operation, a much needed relief will be afforded in one branch of work. The scheme provides, subject to the allotment of the necessary funds by the Local Government, for the appointment of 9 Inspectors, 14 Assistant Inspectors, 50 Deputy Inspectors, 160 Sub-Inspectors, and 100 Assistant Sub-Inspectors, of Schools. Inasmuch however as the scheme was proposed with reference to the needs of Bengal prior to the Partition, the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam is entitled to a share of these appointments, which may roughly be taken at one-third. The cost of the scheme, as regards this Province, is Rs. 4,00,750 a year.

Inadequacy of the professorial staff.

43. The question of the adequacy of the professorial staff has still to be considered. The Commission appointed by the University of Calcutta to inspect Calcutta and mufassal colleges has recently reported that the professorial staff is decidedly undermanned. The Commission has thus expressed itself at page 22 of its Report on Mufassal Colleges:—

"It follows that if we are convinced of the expediency of changing the type of education given we must greatly strengthen the teaching staff. For the adequate carrying out of the new type of instruction the staff needs almost everywhere to be increased in number.

"If we now bring forward the other claims of the new ideal and lay down that in addition to more exacting forms of class work the staff of a college is also to be responsible for the general, physical and moral well-being of all its students, the inconformity between aspiration and resources is pushed still further. We have very greatly increased the load of work and responsibility on our staff by introducing new conceptions of duty; we have done nothing to lighten the burden. It becomes still clearer that the old scale of staff is no longer adequate."

The Commission then goes on to recommend that for the present a proportion of 1 to 15 between the staff and students should be regarded as the lowest proportion of teachers that is compatible with efficiency. Definite proposals have been called for by me from Principals of colleges, and a report will shortly be submitted to Government making suggestions as to the increase which is required in the Indian and Provincial Educational Services.

The transfer of Sub-Inspectors of Schools from the control of the District Boards and Municipalities.

44. During the year under review Sub-Inspectors of Schools in the employ of District Boards and Municipalities were transferred to the Department. Great difficulties were experienced as regards the transfer and promotion of Sub-Inspectors of Schools as long as their appointment rested with the local authorities. Invidious distinctions were also created under the old system between the pay and the prospects of departmental and non-departmental Sub-Inspectors. Further, it was felt that the responsibility for inspecting schools should, as in other Provinces, rest with the Department and not with the local authorities which were charged with the duties of maintaining and aiding schools. The prospects of the Sub-Inspectors have been materially improved by the change.

Female Inspecting Agency.

45. In a recent report to Government I pointed out the very rapid increase in the number of girls' schools, and that, owing to the inadequacy of the inspecting agency, many schools and much zanana teaching work went altogether uninspected. I stated that in my opinion at least thirteen additional Assistant Inspectresses were required; but that I was constrained, owing to lack of funds, to limit my application to the immediate appointment of three such officers. I also shewed the necessity of appointing an additional Inspectress of Schools and foreshadowed the probable need, before many years had elapsed, for an Inspectress of Schools in each Division in which there is an Inspector of Schools. Government has since sanctioned the appointment of the three additional Assistant Inspectresses, while the question of appointing an additional Inspectress is under consideration. I have in the chapter on the Education of Indian Girls commented on the pressing need of more well-qualified female inspecting agents, and, as soon as funds are available, I shall submit a further representation to Government on the subject.

Functions of District Officers and their Assistants.

46. Important circulars were issued during the year under review both to educational and executive officers inviting their attention to the instructions which had been issued from time to time by the Government of India and the Local Government concerning the duties of executive officers in regard to educational work and reminding them of the necessity for mutual co-operation in all branches of education, and specially in the matter of primary and secondary education. These instructions were in certain quarters regarded as likely to cause undue interference by executive officers in educational matters. The misconception, where it existed, was, I think, due to a want of appreciation of the fact that the special knowledge of a district which an executive officer possesses is indispensable to the organisation of school education. In this connection it may be observed that in the Resolution of the 28th October, 1899 on Mr. Cotton's Review, the Government of India observed:—

"Revenue officers are in no way relieved of that duty (i.e., inspection) by the transfer of schools from their charge to the charge of Local Boards. The District Officer has made a burden laid on him, but village schools' inspection is a very necessary duty and must be insisted on. Where Revenue Officers cease to interest themselves in the cause of ld specially observe how far it is performed."

That a great improvement has been effected in this respect is clear from the fact that I am able to record my marked appreciation of the very valuable services which are being rendered to the Education Department by executive officers of all ranks.

District Board and Municipal Management.

47. It has been generally reported that District Boards and Municipal Committees have worked harmoniously with educational officers during the year under review. There was a larger expenditure on education from both District and Municipal funds—in the case of the former the increase has been from Rs. 11,50,315 to Rs. 11,77,325, or by 2·35 per cent., and in that of the latter from Rs. 1,01,831 to Rs. 1,05,520, or by 3·6 per cent. In not a few cases, however, it is reported that Municipal Committees failed to expend the prescribed proportion of their income, viz., 3·2 per cent., on primary education. The necessary explanations are being called for.

Inspection Work.

48. The late Director was only able to spend 35 days on tour during the year under review. This was presumably owing to the fact that he was much detained in Calcutta during the cold weather in connection with the framing of the new regulations of the Calcutta University. I spent 17 days on tour after joining the office of Director towards the end of the year and before taking over formal charge on the 31st March 1906. The work of inspecting officers of all grades was generally very satisfactory. Explanations are being called for from certain Sub-Inspectors who failed to conform to the standing orders as regards the amount of touring required of them, and due notice will be taken in cases in which the explanations submitted are unsatisfactory.

CHAPTER III.

THE CALCUTTA UNIVERSITY AND COLLEGIATE EDUCATION.

The Calcutta University.

49. The University was unable to finish its work in connection with the new regulations under the Universities Act, 1904, before the close of the year under review. The completion of the work was therefore assigned to a special committee appointed by the Government of India. The new regulations were approved by that Government on the 11th August 1906.

50. A very important event of the year as regards collegiate education was the systematic inspection of colleges by a Commission appointed by the Senate of the University. The report submitted by the Commission has brought to light numerous defects in the administration of colleges, and in particular has laid stress on the inadequacy of the professorial staff and the insufficiency in many cases of the accommodation and equipment. The Commission's report will be of great value when steps are taken to enforce the new University regulations.

51. During the year under review a grant of Rs. 30,000 was made by the Government of India to the University for the purpose of improvements to privately managed Colleges. In making the grant the Government of India observed that it was important that adequate arrangements should be made for the residence of students who do not lodge with their parents, guardians or relations and for the supervision of resident students. Mention was also made of improvement in teaching as a proper object of expenditure. Pending the receipt of the report of the Commission referred to in the last paragraph, the Syndicate was unable to submit its recommendations on the subject, and hence no expenditure was incurred during the year under review. The sum referred to has however been regranted, and will, with a further sum of Rs. 80,000 granted for the current year, shortly be distributed among the colleges by the Local Government after consideration of the recommendations of the Syndicate on the subject. I have expressed a hope elsewhere in this report that these grants may chiefly be utilised in making a beginning towards the provision of hostel accommodation for students. I know of no more urgent need.

General Statistics of Arts Colleges.

52. The total number of Arts colleges during the year under review was 34. The Doveton College has submitted no returns and apparently has no collegiate classes at present. Of the 34 colleges, 10 were under public, and 24 under private, management. Of the 10 colleges under public management, 8 were Government colleges and 2 were managed by local authorities. Of the 24 colleges under private management, 6 were aided and 18 unaided. Of the 34 colleges, as many as 17 are in Calcutta, 4 being Government, 4 aided, and 9 unaided, colleges.

53. There has been but little change as regards expenditure. Of the total expenditure of Rs. 7,65,695, Rs. 2,77,480 were derived from public, and Rs. 4,88,215 from private, funds, i.e., 36 and 64 per cent., respectively. The large proportion of the cost of higher education paid from private sources is very noteworthy.

54. The cost per annum of educating a student is rising considerably. It was Rs. 110 in 1903-1904, Rs. 124 in 1904-1905 and Rs. 136 in the year under review. The difference in the cost at the several colleges is most striking, the highest rates being Rs. 458, Rs. 304, and Rs. 264 at the Sanskrit, Patna, and the Presidency Colleges, respectively, and Rs. 31 at the Ripon College and the Church Missionary Society's College. At the Bethune Ladies' College, where the number of students is small, the cost rises as high as to Rs. 608.

Attendance.

55. The total attendance at colleges has declined from 6,400 to 5,675. The decline occurred chiefly at aided and unaided colleges. Of the number of boys of a school-going age, 1 in every 695 was in an arts college during the year under review, as against 1 in every 711 when the Fourth Quinquennial Review was written. Of the total number of students, 1,413 were in colleges under public management; of these again, 1,334 were in Government colleges, a small balance of 79 being in colleges managed by local authorities. Of the 4,262 students in privately managed colleges, 1,381 were in aided, and 2,881 in unaided, colleges.

The Presidency College.

56. The Presidency College had 698 students on its rolls on the 31st March 1906. The Principal reports that the class rooms are seriously overcrowded and that the college is not capable of accommodating with advantage more than 400 to 500 students. I cite below what the Commission referred to above has said on the subject:—

"The Presidency College is considerably the largest, and, in certain respects, by far the best equipped college in Calcutta. The class-room accommodation is not, however, enough for the great number of students attending the college, and the rooms are faulty in arrangement. The numbers in the Arts classes have greatly increased since the college was built, and latterly the numbers have been further swelled by the addition of commercial classes. The class-room accommodation remains unaltered, and consequently there are not class-rooms enough for all purposes, and some classes are so large as to overcrowd the existing class-rooms. Classes that were formerly divided into sections are now kept undivided, and as the size of the class-rooms has not expanded, the inevitable result has been overcrowding. This overcrowding is an evil in two ways. Students have to sit so close together that they cannot write with any comfort or ease. The classes are too large for satisfactory teaching, and even the maintenance of order is made difficult. The present congestion of numbers is a grave defect and calls for immediate remedy.

Either the numbers must be reduced, or the college must be enlarged and extended or rebuilt on a more open site."

Proposals for improvement.

Accommodation at Government colleges generally.

The Principalship of the Presidency College.

57. Proposals are now under consideration either for largely extending the college on its present site or removing it to another site in the neighbourhood of Calcutta. This is a question in which the public is interested and in regard to which it will, no doubt, be fully consulted.

58. The general subject of accommodation at Government colleges will also be considered together with that of strengthening the professorial staff. The first question to be decided in each case will be how many students each college is, or should be made to be, able to accommodate with advantage, and then what staff is required in order to give that number effective teaching.

59. Closely connected with the working of the Presidency College is the question of the Principalship. This is what the Commission referred to above says on the subject:—

“The Principal's position is most unsatisfactory, if he may be regarded as the head of a learned society, and as invested with the control and management of the largest and most advanced body of students in the Presidency. He is over-burdened with routine work of a multifarious description, which leaves him little leisure for the consideration of questions truly educational and the adequate discharge of his responsibility for the intellectual and moral welfare of seven or eight hundred students.

This is at once evident if the position and duties of the Principal of the Presidency College are compared with those of the head of an educational institution on the same scale and of the same character out of India. Until this anomaly is altered, it is idle to look for a really satisfactory carrying on of the Presidency College as an educational institution. To effect a change for the better the Principal must be relieved, wholly or in part, of his grave financial responsibilities and of the bulk of that routine office work which consists of signing his name and checking items of expenditure. However great may be the departmental convenience of the present arrangement, it is fatal to real educational efficiency, and the Presidency College is first and foremost an educational institution. A separate (fully responsible) officer is needed for the purely business work of the College. The Principal of the Presidency College is also at present, quite unaccountably, President of a Reformatory. The connection between this responsibility and the management of a great college is difficult to understand. In all these respects the position of the Principal of the Presidency College contrasts unfavourably with the position of the Principal of every other college affiliated to the University.”

In my opinion not only should the views of the Commission be adopted—and their views are receiving my attention—but the Principal of this college should be given an allowance over and above his ordinary pay. We want one of the best men in the service for this post, but at present we penalise him (1) by giving him exceptional responsibilities and (2) by making him live in the most expensive place in Bengal. This aspect of the question will also receive my consideration when I submit proposals as regards increasing the professorial staff.

The Patna College.

60. Extensive improvements are in process of development in respect of this college. In the first place, a considerable area of land in the neighbourhood of the college is being acquired in order to make the college premises more compact and to provide room for additional buildings. Secondly, arrangements are almost complete for the construction of a hostel for Hindu students to be called the “Minto Hindu Hostel,” to be built with money subscribed by the Maharajas of Darbhanga, Gidhour and Sonbarsa, the Raja of Khairā and the Maharajas of Bettiah, Dumraon and Hatwa in honour of the visit to Bankipore of His Excellency the Viceroy during the year under review. Further plans involve the construction of a hostel for Muhammadans, new Science Laboratories, houses for the Principal and for one of the professors of the college, and a gymnasium.

Examinations.

61. The Entrance Examination results were exceptionally bad, the percentage of success in regard to this Province being 26.4 only; and a cry has been raised that innocents have been massacred. A special committee of the Senate has been appointed to investigate the subject. Unaided colleges did much better both in the F.A. and B.A. examinations, the percentages of success being 31.29 as against 23.76 in the year 1904-1905 in the former, and 20.8 as against 15.8 in the latter, case.

Collegiate Education for Women.

62. The Bethune College, Calcutta, is the only college for ladies in Bengal. There are however University classes attached to Loreto House, Calcutta. The number of students from these institutions fell off during the year under review from 32 to 19. The examination results of the Bethune College are however strikingly good. Out of 7 candidates sent up for the F.A. examination 6 passed; while out of 4 candidates sent up for the B.A. examination 2 passed.

Residence, Common-rooms, Games and Discipline.

63. I am recording what I have to say under these heads in the chapter on "Physical and Moral Training."

Laboratories and Accommodation for Scientific Departments.

64. Mr. Cunningham, Professor of Chemistry, Presidency College, strongly urges the claims of his department to radical reform. He lays special stress on the want of accommodation, the interruption of lectures caused by the noise from the surrounding streets and bazaar, the dirty state of the chemical laboratory owing to the dust and dirt of the neighbourhood, the inadequacy of the funds supplied for carrying on the work of the laboratory, and the insufficient pay of the menial staff. He also reports that important groups of magnetic and electrical measurements cannot be made within an area surrounded by electric trams, and that therefore the use of such instruments cannot be taught to students. The want of accommodation for the Science Departments of this college has been amply demonstrated by the Commission which recently inspected colleges. As indicated above, proposals are under consideration either for largely extending this college on its present site or removing it to another site in the neighbourhood of Calcutta. The urgency of this matter will be at once apparent when it is remembered that the Intermediate examination in Science will be held for the first time in accordance with the new regulations in 1909. The regulations include an insistence that all students presenting themselves for this examination shall produce a certificate stating that they have completed a course of practical work in each science. The teaching for this examination will begin in July 1907. The first batch of students will have to be satisfied with beginning their practical work in July 1908; but in subsequent years it will be necessary to get through some of their laboratory work in their first year. Thus, entirely new practical classes will have to be provided for in addition to a much more thorough training during subsequent years in remodelled or newly constructed laboratories. The other questions raised by Professor Cunningham are, I hope, capable of easy solution: they are receiving my attention. Professor Cunningham also makes serious complaint as regards the delay caused by the present system of indenting for apparatus for the laboratory. In this connection I may mention that the Commission has pointed out how seriously Government colleges are handicapped in this respect as compared with private colleges. I have discussed this matter in the chapter on "Professional and Technical Education," and stated that I would make a representation on the subject to Government.

Scholarships.

65. The Education Commission of 1882 recommended that Local Governments should be asked "to consider whether it was necessary to assign for scholarships tenable in Arts Colleges a larger proportion of the Provincial grant for education than 2 per cent." This proposal was confirmed by the Government of India in their Resolution on the report of the Education Commission, and orders to the same effect were reiterated by that Government in their Resolution on Mr. Cotton's Third Quinquennial Review of Education, in which it was pointed out that the 2 per cent. limit had been considerably exceeded in Bengal. Accordingly, in the year 1900 the Bengal Government reduced the value of both the Senior and Junior Scholarships so as to conform to the orders of the Government of India. The reduction gave rise to much discontent, and in the year 1904 the whole question was again discussed. It was then found that, owing to the increase in the amount of the Provincial grant for education, the values of the scholarships could be raised to their former amounts, and also that the number of the scholarships could be increased without infringing the prescribed limit of expenditure. A scheme submitted to that effect by the Director was therefore approved, subject to the allotment of the necessary funds. Hitherto it has been found impracticable to give effect to the proposal owing to numerous calls upon available funds. I am however now referring the matter to Government, and at the same time am suggesting that a reference on the subject should be made to the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam, so that both the Provinces may take similar action in the matter. I am of opinion that there is urgent need that the scheme provisionally sanctioned in the year 1904 should be given effect to as soon as possible. The new regulations of the University make greater demands upon students than those previously in force, and I consider it essential that poor scholars should have the fullest measure of consideration meted out to them.

Oriental Colleges.

66. Indigenous institutions for the study of Sanskrit and Arabic are dealt with in the chapter on "Private Institutions." I now deal with those oriental colleges which are returned as public institutions. These are the Sanskrit College, Calcutta, and the Arabic Department of the Calcutta Madrassah.

67. It is satisfactory to note that students are now beginning to take up for the Sanskrit Title Examination the more difficult and abstruse subjects, such as law and philosophy, instead of the easier subjects, such as literature and grammar.

68. The Principal of the Sanskrit College is charged with the duty of supervising the examination of candidates sent up, on the recommendation of certain recognised Associations, from institutions for advanced Sanskrit learning which conform to approved methods of teaching. These examinations lead up to the Title Examination referred to in the last paragraph. A question has recently been raised whether representative persons should not be associated with the Principal of the Sanskrit College in the superintendence of the several Sanskrit examinations. This matter is now under consideration.

69. The Calcutta Madrassah and private Madrassahs are mentioned in the chapter on Muhammadan Education.

CHAPTER IV.

SECONDARY EDUCATION FOR INDIAN BOYS.

70. As stated in the Fourth Quinquennial Review, the secondary stage of general education extends from the end of the primary stage, that is to say, the upper primary stage, to the end of the school course. In this Province it is a simple prolongation of the primary stage, and the pupil proceeds to the secondary course after traversing the full primary course, and often without change of school.

71. The middle school has all the primary classes, and merely carries the pupil two classes beyond the primary stage. Middle schools may however at option teach English as a language in the four top classes. A high school has all the classes of a middle school, but carries the pupil four classes higher, teaching through the medium of English in those classes. Boys studying in these four classes are considered to be in the high school stage.

Scope of the Chapter.

72. Following the method adopted in the Fourth Quinquennial Review, I deal in this chapter chiefly with the secondary stage of education, leaving the primary stage, even when the instruction is given in secondary schools, to the next chapter. Similarly, I relegate the secondary education of girls to the chapter on the Education of Indian Girls. Three hundred and sixty girls were reading in secondary schools for boys during the year under review.

These are included in the statements which purport to deal with the number of pupils in boys' schools. In other respects, this chapter deals only with schools for boys and boys in secondary schools.

Secondary Schools.

73. The total number of secondary schools declined from 1,464 to 1,456, General stati- or by 8, in the year under review. The number of Middle English schools of English a- remained stationary, that of High schools increased by 2, and that of Vernacular: Middle Vernacular schools declined by 10. The decline in the number of for boys. Middle Vernacular schools is the inevitable outcome of the small value which attaches to a purely vernacular education. In years gone by a Middle Vernacular pass qualified a student for admission to Medical and Survey schools and to the Mukhtiyarship examination. This is no longer the case. The steady decline in the popularity of these schools must, in my opinion, culminate in their abolition as a separate class of schools. As indicated in the next chapter, there is only one examination held in this Province, that is to say, that held at the end of the middle vernacular course. It is however termed the "Primary Examination." It would be consistent therefore to consider all Middle Vernacular schools as Primary schools, as in the Bombay Presidency. This is a subject which is engaging my attention, and I shall, if necessary, make a reference to Government in regard to it.

74. In paragraph 316 of the Fourth Quinquennial Review the cheapness Cost of Engli- of an English Secondary school is commented upon. It is stated that schools. the cost of such a school in the year 1901-1902 was Rs. 191 a month. This calculation evidently proceeds on the assumption that all Middle English schools should be classed as Secondary English schools. It has to be borne in mind however that no subjects are taught through the medium of English in these schools, but that English is taught merely as a language in the four top classes. These schools are really therefore Vernacular to a much larger extent than they are English. The monthly cost of a High school in the year under review was Rs. 362, and that of a Middle English school Rs. 67. On the other hand, if both these classes of schools be considered as English Secondary schools, as in the Fourth Quinquennial Review, the cost was Rs. 178, as against Rs. 191 in the last year of the last quinquennial period.

75. If we reckon Middle English schools as Secondary English schools, Management o- we find that of 1,029 such schools, 73 were under public, and 956 under English Secon- private, management. Of the 73 schools under public management, Govern- schools. ment itself only maintained 41, the rest being managed by the District Boards and Municipal Committees. The bulk of the schools maintained by Government are High schools, in pursuance of the established policy that there should be one Government High school in each district.

76. Of the 427 Middle Vernacular schools, 121 were under public, and Management o- 306 under private, management. Of the 121 schools under public manage- Middle Vernac- ment Government itself however maintained only 17. schools.

77. Of 956 privately managed English Secondary schools, 655 were Aid to privatel- aided, and 301 unaided. The proportion of aided schools was much greater in managed Engli- respect of Middle Vernacular schools. Thus, of 306 such schools, 263 were and Vernacule- aided and 43 only unaided. The inference is obvious. People want schools Secondary schools. where English is taught, and therefore contribute readily enough towards that form of education.

Statistics of Pupils.

78. Pupils in secondary schools increased from 145,094 to 147,516, or by Pupils in Sec- 66 per cent. Of the 147,516 pupils in secondary schools, 65,385 were in the dary schools and secondary, and 82,131 in the primary, stage of education. The primary of education. stage pupils are included in the statistics given in the chapter on Primary Education and are not taken into account in this paragraph. Of the 65,385 pupils in the secondary stage of education, 61,254 were in English, and 4,131 in Vernacular, Secondary schools. Again, of the 61,254 pupils in the secondary stage in English schools, 33,805 were in the high, and 27,449 in the middle, stage of instruction. One pupil was in the secondary stage of instruction in an English Secondary school to every 63 pupils of a school-going age, as against 1 to every 71 at the close of the last quinquennial period. On the other hand, 1 pupil was in the secondary stage of instruction in Vernacular schools to every 949, as against 1 to every 830 at the close of the last quinquennial period. The falling off in the latter case is due to the unpopularity of Vernacular schools noticed above.

Expenditure.

General statistics of expenditure.

79. There was very little change as regards either the expenditure on Secondary schools for boys or the sources from which that expenditure was derived. The total expenditure increased from Rs. 23,90,040 to Rs. 24,29,130. Of the last-named sum, Rs. 4,43,970 were contributed from public, and Rs. 19,85,160 from private, funds.

Cost of educating a boy.

80. The average annual cost of educating a boy in a High, Middle English and Middle Vernacular, School respectively during the year under review was Rs. 22, Rs. 12, and Rs. 9.

Subjects and methods of teaching.

Revision of the vernacular scheme of education as touching the lower classes of High schools.

81. I deal in the next chapter with the question of the revision of the vernacular scheme of education which was sanctioned by Government in 1901. As there stated, that scheme has resulted in comparatively empty lower classes in Government and aided High schools. Parents are anxious enough to send their boys to these schools as soon as they are fit for entry into the classes where the medium of instruction is English, because in general the teaching is better at such schools; but they not infrequently get them educated up to that stage in privately managed schools which are not subject to the vernacular system of education. It is hoped that the revision of the courses which is now to be taken in hand will result in modifying this anomalous state of affairs.

The teaching of English in the lower classes of High schools.

82. There is another reason for the preference for the teaching as given in privately managed schools. This is because in such schools more importance is attached to the teaching of English in the lower classes. It is true that in a Government or aided High school English is taught as a language in four classes below the fourth class, in which teaching through the medium of English begins. The transition from the fifth to the fourth class is however too abrupt, and it is long before the student begins to have any idea of what is being taught him through the medium of a foreign tongue. In fact, I am afraid that the teaching through the medium of English in this class is often a mere sham. As indicated in the next chapter, a revision of the courses of studies in the classes below the high school stage is under consideration, and this question will then be carefully considered. Possibly some system of oral instruction in English in the lower classes will be suggested, which will not at the same time cause undue interference with the main course of instruction, which is rightly given through the medium of the vernacular.

The teaching of English in the four top classes of High schools.

83. I comment in the chapter on Training Colleges and Schools on the urgent need for the training of teachers for High and other secondary schools, and allude to the steps that are being taken for the opening of training colleges for such teachers. The wonder seems to me to be not that so few students pass the Entrance examination as in the present year, but that so many are usually able to do so. I have in the last paragraph observed that it takes a boy a long time after entry into class IV of a High school to understand at all the instruction given through the medium of English. I fear that in a similar way boys who have passed the Entrance examination often have so little real knowledge of English as to make it impossible for them to understand their college lecturers when they first join a college. This is a complaint which I have frequently heard made. If, however, as may be hoped, the proposed Training Colleges are a success, there should before long be a great improvement in this respect.

Special instruction at selected Government High schools.

Industrial classes in High schools.

84. Under a scheme sanctioned by the Government of Bengal in the year 1900, boys who wish to enter an industrial career may, at certain selected High schools, instead of following the ordinary literary course up to the end of their school life, specialise during their last two years at school. Such students take up as their subjects (1) Modern English, (2) Mathematics, (3) Drawing and practical geometry, mensuration, elementary engineering and surveying, and (4) Manual training. Those who are successful pass on to either a technical school affiliated to the Sibpur Engineering College or to the Apprentice Department of that college. Seven out of the ten High schools in which this system prevails are now in the Province of Eastern Bengal and Assam, but the Principal of the Sibpur Engineering College, in accordance with the wishes of the Lieutenant-Governor of that Province, still supervises the working of these classes. On the whole the classes have not been a success, especially in the schools which now remain in Bengal. These classes require very careful fostering, and in present circumstances they do not receive the attention which they require. If however a special officer, is appointed, as suggested in the chapter on Professional and Technical Education, to supervise technical and industrial schools, these classes will come under more effective control and there should be a decided improvement.

85. In accordance with the scheme referred to in the last paragraph, boys who wish to enter a commercial career may, at certain selected High schools, instead of continuing the ordinary literary course up to the end of their school life, specialise during their last two years at school. The course has recently been revised, and comprises at present the following subjects:—

- (1) Mathematics,
- (2) Modern English,
- (3) History and geography,
- (4) Drawing and practical geometry, and
- (5) A vernacular.

These classes have hitherto not proved successful. I have lately placed them under the general supervision of the Professor in charge of the Presidency College classes, and it is hoped that this measure may tend to increase their efficiency. As explained however in the chapter on Professional and Technical Education, the classes at the Presidency College, up to which they lead, are themselves in the experimental stage.

86. At certain selected High schools provision has similarly been made for specialisation as regards agriculture during the last two years of the school course; practical training being given at the neighbouring experimental farms which are under the control of the Director of Agriculture. These classes have hitherto not been under expert supervision, and it is impossible therefore to say what success has attended them. The Director of Agriculture has kindly consented to supervise them in future, and the question of the instruction to be imparted at them is under his present consideration.

Examinations.

87. I have in the last chapter commented on the results of the Entrance examination. The percentage of success for the year under review was 26.4 only. At the Middle School examination, out of 10,248 candidates, 7,761, or 75.7 per cent., passed. The popularity of this examination has been enhanced by the decision to grant leaving certificates as a result of success at it. As indicated in the next chapter, no public examinations are held at the upper and lower primary stages, and the figures given in General Table VI against these examinations represent merely the results of class examinations.

CHAPTER V.

PRIMARY EDUCATION FOR INDIAN BOYS.

Scope of the Chapter.

88. As stated in the Fourth Quinquennial Review, primary education may be regarded in either of two aspects, in the first place as the education given in primary schools, and in the second place as the primary stage of instruction, in whatever grade of institution that instruction may be received. This chapter is generally concerned with primary schools only; but, when the courses of instruction in primary schools are discussed, the remarks made apply generally in regard to the lower classes of secondary schools in which primary instruction is imparted.

Primary schools for boys and girls.

89. There were 33,665 primary schools for boys and 2,843 primary schools for girls in the year under review. Over 24·7 per cent. of the male, and nearly 2·7 per cent. of the female, population of a school-going age are in the primary stage of education. Following the procedure adopted in the Fourth Quinquennial Review, I have relegated the subject of the primary education of girls to the chapter on Female Education; on the ground that it would mislead and confuse to amalgamate statistics for boys and girls. Owing however to the system of co-education which prevails in this Province, the figures for the pupils in boys' schools include a certain percentage of girls studying in such schools. The total number of such girls in the year under review was 43,086. This number is comparatively small and is included in statements which purport to deal with the number of pupils in boys' schools.

Primary Schools.

General statistics.

90. The number of public primary schools for boys rose from 33,298 to 33,665 and the pupils attending them from 909,971 to 929,163, or by 1·1 per cent. and 2·1 per cent., respectively. In the Government Resolution on last year's annual report, it was remarked, in connection with the decrease that had occurred in that year in the number of primary schools and pupils attending them, that the policy, introduced within the last few years, of insisting on a certain degree of efficiency before putting a school on the aided or stipendiary list, had no doubt resulted in a considerable decrease in the number of schools and of boys attending them. Later on in this chapter I discuss at some length removeable causes which, I think, are operating to retard the progress of primary education both in primary schools and in the primary departments of secondary schools. I think it is a sign of the vitality of these schools that, notwithstanding our insistence on a higher standard of efficiency and the existence of the drawbacks to which I allude, their number and the number of pupils attending them now show a tendency to rise. The increase in schools and pupils is generally shared by all Divisions, except the Burdwan and Chota Nagpur Divisions. In the former the loss of schools amounted to 2·6 per cent. and that of pupils to 1·1 per cent. In the latter the number of schools decreased by 1·7 per cent., while that of pupils attending them increased by 2 per cent.

Upper and lower primary schools.

91. The bulk of pupils do not study beyond the primary stage and are taught in primary schools. Of the 33,665 primary schools of this Province, 2,867 are upper primary, and 30,798 lower primary, schools. Both classes of schools have increased, and with the increase in the number of schools, there has been a corresponding increase in the number of pupils attending them. Thus, upper primary schools have increased from 2,747 to 2,867 and the number of pupils attending them from 122,624 to 133,639; while lower primary schools have increased from 30,551 to 30,798 and the number of pupils attending them from 787,347 to 795,524.

Schools according to management.

92. Of the 33,665 primary schools which existed in the year under review, 204, or 6 per cent., were under public management. Of the 33,461 privately managed schools, 26,760 were aided by Government and 6,701 were unaided.

Statistics of pupils in the primary stage of instruction, whether in Primary or Secondary Schools.

General statistics.

93. As explained above the statistics of pupils may be regarded in either of two ways; firstly, with respect to pupils in primary schools and, secondly, with reference to pupils in the primary stage of instruction whether in primary or secondary schools. The number of pupils in the primary stage in primary and secondary schools in the year under review was 1,011,290, as against 1,001,324 in the previous year. This figure gives the most correct view of the general condition of public primary instruction. If the number of girls studying in boys' schools is excluded, 1 in every 4 boys of a school-going age is in the primary stage of instruction.

94. In the year under review 246 boys per thousand of a school-going age were in the primary stage of instruction in public schools. The figures for male literacy, estimated according to the present population, works out however to 107 per thousand only. As explained in the Fourth Quinquennial Review, the rudimentary character of the instruction given in many of the Bengal village schools may have some bearing on this circumstance.

Finance.

95. The total expenditure on boys' primary schools shews but a slight increase, the figures being Rs. 23,63,767 for 1904-1905 and Rs. 24,09,456 for 1905-1906. The last-named sum does not however take into consideration the expenditure incurred on the construction of buildings for primary schools referred to in the next paragraph.

96. A large grant for primary education was made in the year under review by the Government of India. Out of this grant Rs. 5,03,598 were assigned towards the construction of suitable buildings for primary schools. Further sums, amounting in all to Rs. 75,381, were expended on various improvements connected with primary education, the chief of which was the development of indigenous Muhammadan schools (maktabs). A balance of Rs. 88,021 was not utilised during the year; but this sum will be available for expenditure in future years.

97. Of the total expenditure of Rs. 24,09,456 on primary schools for boys Rs. 8,45,663 were derived from public, and Rs. 15,63,793 from private sources. Of the expenditure from public funds, Rs. 1,54,257 were derived from Provincial Revenues, Rs. 6,34,414 from District Funds, and Rs. 56,992 from Municipal Funds. The bulk of the money allotted to aided primary schools is given by District Boards. Thus, of Rs. 7,98,048 distributed by way of grants-in-aid to these schools, Rs. 1,33,976 were contributed by Provincial Revenues, Rs. 6,08,413 by District Funds, and Rs. 55,659 by Municipal Funds.

98. A rule still exists that District Boards are required to spend not less than 10 per cent. of their ordinary income on primary education. Inasmuch however as the amounts which District Boards must spend on education have recently been fixed by orders of Government, the question whether this rule should be retained or be replaced by some other rule is now under consideration. Municipal Committees are required to spend 3.2 per cent. of their income on primary education, and, until this condition is fulfilled, they may not devote their funds to the aid of secondary schools.

99. Reporting officers are unanimous that the present system of payment of teachers of primary schools, partly by a subsistence allowance and partly by subsequent annual lump payments, is working as well as it can be expected to do in present circumstances. The system will however work much more effectively when the inspecting staff is strengthened.

100. The average cost of educating a pupil in a boys' primary school amounted, as in the previous year, to Rs. 2.9 a year.

101. The extraordinary cheapness of Indian primary schools has often been made the subject of remark. The average cost of a primary school in this Province for the year 1905-1906 was Rs. 6 a month, while the average cost of an unaided primary school was Rs. 3 a month. It is essential to bear the cheapness of these schools in mind when treating of problems concerning them and the teachers employed in them.

Primary Education in the Darjeeling Hills.

102. At an important conference of officials and representatives of the planting community held in Darjeeling after the close of the year, the question of extending elementary education among the hill population was discussed, and it was decided that steps should be taken in that direction; the understanding being that Government should give liberal grants-in-aid, and that tea garden managers on the other hand should provide the sites and the school buildings and keep the latter in repair. The matter has since been discussed by the Darjeeling Planters' Association, and the conclusions arrived at by the conference have been endorsed. Steps are therefore being taken to provide for the training of teachers for the proposed new schools, and it is hoped that the current year will see a commencement of a forward movement.

Night and Continuation schools.

Night schools.

103. As will appear from the Fourth Quinquennial Review the night school system has never had much success in this country, and the number of schools and pupils in the three Presidencies (Madras, Bombay and Bengal) in which the system referred to has been tried, has gradually been declining. The decline still continues in Bengal, the number of schools and pupils having fallen from 784 and 16,081 to 773 and 15,873, respectively. Circumstances are altogether against the system in India. Owing to climatic conditions the very people who would derive benefit from these schools, if they were able to attend them, are fatigued at the end of a day's work, and have no inclination to study at night. Then there is the difficulty about lighting. The ordinary Indian country lamp gives a very bad light, and it is doubtful whether it is wise to encourage schools of this kind, except in big towns, where proper lighting arrangements can be made.

Continuation schools.

104. A real attempt is, however, being made in the Presidency Division, in which the town population is large, to develop continuation schools with classes held either by day or night, the subjects to be taught being chiefly book-keeping, correspondence, mathematics and science. The number of such schools increased during the year under review from 19 to 31, and I have recently sanctioned the opening of 24 more schools of this type. I have at the same time circulated copies of the correspondence on this subject to the Commissioner of the Presidency Division and the District Officers of the Division soliciting their co-operation in working out this important experiment.

School Buildings.

105. Bengal has hitherto had the unenviable reputation of being the most backward of all the Provinces in the matter of school buildings. Substantial progress was however made in the year under review, the Local Government assigning a sum of Rs. 5,03,598 towards the construction of suitable buildings on condition that a reasonable proportion should be contributed from local sources. During the current year and in future years very little expenditure in this direction will, I anticipate, be possible owing to the urgent calls for money in numerous other directions; nor am I personally of opinion that further money should be expended in this way. Government has set an example in the matter, and I consider that the most advantageous procedure to follow in future will be to promise specially favourable grants-in-aid where the residents of any locality are prepared to supply the funds necessary for building a school-house and to undertake to keep it in repair. I propose to work out a scheme on these lines as soon as practicable and to submit it for the consideration of Government.

Subjects and the methods of teaching.

General scope of the changes proposed.

106. As stated in the chapter on "Educational Conferences," much progress has been made with the revision of the vernacular scheme of education, as sanctioned by Government in the year 1901, in so far as it concerns lower primary schools. The system, as hitherto in force, is one of the causes to which I have alluded above as operating to retard the progress of primary education both in primary schools and in the primary departments of secondary schools. The effect of the system has been particularly noticeable in high schools. The four highest classes of these schools, in which instruction is imparted through the medium of English, are generally crowded; whereas the attendance in the lower classes, in which the vernacular is taught, is comparatively small. What happens not infrequently is that the pupils in the higher classes of a high school, after having completed their course in the vernacular, leave the school and join the vernacular schools in private schools, in force, and then join the higher classes of a high school. This is one of the commonest ways in which the scheme is evaded.

107. The first measure to be taken is to produce proper text-books. Loud complaints have been made that the present text-books are not written in simple language, commonly used by the people, but in an unfamiliar literary style. The subject-matter of these books also is not free from criticism. Steps are accordingly being taken to bring out, at the expense of Government, text-books in which, it is hoped, these defects will not be found. This does not of course mean that Government intends to monopolise the production of text-books. It will merely give the lead by showing the kind of books which are required; and if private enterprise can produce equally good or better books these will be accepted. The next point is that the existing courses, as far as lower primary schools in rural areas are concerned, are too long, too advanced and too diversified, and that for all classes of lower primary schools the present syllabus presents too many and too difficult subjects. As regards lower primary schools in rural areas, the compulsory course according to the revised syllabus will extend to three hours daily only; but instruction will be given in certain supplementary subjects, of which those who wish to do so may avail themselves. In lower primary schools in other than purely rural areas, the combined compulsory and optional subjects will constitute the prescribed course.

Simplification of the text-book courses & etc

108. At present there are three Infant classes in a lower primary school, in addition to the two classes which read the courses of study prescribed for standards I and II. It is considered that two Infant classes will be quite sufficient. Instead therefore of three Infant classes, as heretofore, for the ages of 5-6, 6-7, and 7-8, there will be two classes, the first for infants aged from 5-7 years and the second for those aged 6-8. The remaining two classes will, as heretofore, be termed standards I and II and be for children aged about 8 and 9, respectively. This reduction of the number of classes is not a matter of small importance in view of the fact that in the vast majority of these schools there is only one teacher. Even thus, each teacher will have to look after four classes; and it will more than tax his strength to do this even moderately well.

Reduction in number of classes

A brief account of the revised Syllabus.

109. In the preparation of the revised syllabus the instructions, as laid down by the Government of India in paragraphs 20, 21, and 25 of their Resolution, entitled "Indian Education Policy" of the 11th March 1904, have been carefully borne in mind. Full advantage has also been taken of that excellent publication entitled "Suggestions for the consideration of teachers and others concerned in the work of public elementary schools" which was issued by the Board of Education, London, in the year 1905. The syllabus opens with an Introduction on the function of education as regards the formation of character. Two typical paragraphs of this introduction are quoted in the chapter on Physical and Moral Training.

Introductory remarks.

110. Much attention is paid to observation and expression lessons. The former will take the place of the subjects which are set down in the present syllabus under the names of Botany, Natural History, Agriculture, Physics and Chemistry. The existing science primer, which condenses these subjects into a few pages, will be abolished; for it is believed that the result of this system has been rote teaching and mechanical learning, that is to say, teaching from treatises about objects and not from objects. Children of this age are incapable of learning science, for generalising from facts belongs to a later stage of mental discipline, and instruction with this aim can only be given if the power of intelligent and accurate observation has been first developed. The cultivation of this power, which is the chief aim of the revised syllabus, is impossible, unless children are taught to observe, compare and contrast the objects which are around them. This they can never do so long as they merely read about objects. The existence of the Science Primer and the use to which it has been put has defeated the whole object with which the vernacular scheme of education was introduced. The object was to discourage rote teaching and to develop faculties, other than those which are exercised by reading and learning by heart; but the faculty of observation is not developed by reading unintelligently and committing to memory for the sake of examinations pseudo-scientific treatises. The books have been bad and the result of teaching from them so disastrous that numerous schools have declined to teach the syllabus and have thus cut themselves off from the Government system; while many others, though nominally following the syllabus, have really ignored that part of it which was concerned with the so-called teaching of Science. In connection with the study of plant life, which will be one of the main features of the Nature observation work, especially in rural schools, an extract is given in the syllabus from Mr. Sly's valuable "Note on school gardens." In that note it is stated that the "real object of a school garden should be to supply materials for object lessons, in which pupils can study the growth of plants," and that "the garden should be one, where 'Nature is studied in its relations to the child, from the child's standpoint by the teacher with the children.'" It is true that the new system will make great demands upon the teachers. Lack of knowledge on the part of teachers, however, cannot be made good by putting into their hands a book dealing in a condensed manner with scientific subjects. To do this is to abandon the object which we have now set before us. Want of knowledge on the part of teachers can only be made good by careful and systematic training, and, as indicated in the chapter on Training Colleges and Schools, steps are being taken so that gradually all the teachers will come under such training. Meantime, although we must not expect too much from the teachers, we shall, however, have the satisfaction of knowing that the revised syllabus indicates to them the right lines on which to make a beginning.

111. I have mentioned the observation and expression lessons first, because they predominate in the infant stages. In standard I reading, writing and arithmetic, with oral composition, drawing, modelling, simple hygiene and elementary drill are added, while in standard II geography is first introduced.

112. To illustrate the character of the syllabus under the head of reading, I cannot do better than quote the instructions on the subject for standard I, which runs as follows:—

"The main purpose of teaching to read is to enable the pupils to master printed or written matter for their own information. Silent reading should, therefore, be practised from the first, and the teacher will soon get the children into the way of this, if, to begin with, he gives them short pieces to read and after a little time goes round to the children individually and asks for an account in their own words of what has been read. Such pieces should be full of incident and interest. As regards reading aloud clearness of utterance and fluency should always be kept in view, but it is also essential that children should be taught to read intelligently. The teacher should make the gist of the piece clear before it is read, so that the general meaning may be mastered before it is read out in the class. Without this the reading must be mechanical, because it is unintelligent. It is advisable that the teacher should occasionally read out a passage to the class by way of illustration; but in this case also the class should go through the piece beforehand. The reading material put into the hands of children is of the greatest importance. The Primer should contain nothing which is not written in good language, and in words which will be easily intelligible to all. The arrangement of each piece must be logical, and the language must be good in so far as each sentence must express clearly and straightforwardly the meaning which it is intended to convey. The Primer should contain stories which fall within the range of the children's comprehension and interest; descriptions of the various scenes, and episodes of rural life should also be included. Provision should also be made in the Primer for acquainting the children with some of the more impressive stories of English and Indian history. The whole should be written in an easy narrative style. A passage having been prepared beforehand and the difficulties elucidated, the actual reading lesson should be as little as possible interrupted by the teacher, and all long disquisitions on points suggested by the subject-matter should be avoided. At the end of every reading lesson the children should be questioned on the subject-matter individually, and should be trained to give individually in their own words an account of what has been read."

113. It is unnecessary to say much on the other subjects of the curriculum; but it may be mentioned that in standard II, that is to say, the standard at which the mass of pupils leave school, the object aimed at is to send away the pupils with their intelligence awakened, with a fair knowledge of the three "R's," and with some acquaintance with weights and measures, land measurements, the village accounts and the ordinary land-record documents with which they will be confronted in after-life.

114. After protracted discussion it has been decided that it is both impracticable and unnecessary to frame separate curricula for urban and rural schools. In rural areas only a short course of studies will be made compulsory, with optional supplementary courses for those who wish to take them; whereas in urban areas all the subjects will be compulsory. Generally speaking, it is not in respect of the subjects taught, but of the method of teaching these subjects that any distinction is possible in urban and rural areas. The teaching, in order to be effective, must have reference to the environment of the schools and the scholars. The syllabus makes due provision for this, and so will the text-books which are to be written in accordance with it. One of the great advantages to be gained by this decision will be that the duplication of text-books will be obviated. The enormous difficulty of securing suitable text-books is so well known that it is needless to dwell on the advantages of avoiding unnecessary duplication.

115. As soon as the revision of the vernacular scheme of education, as sanctioned by Government in the year 1901, has been carried into effect as far as the lower primary school courses are concerned, that is to say, up to standard II, similar steps will be taken as regards the courses in the higher standards (III to VI). A committee has already been appointed by Government to deal with this subject and to submit proposals. When the committee has submitted its report, the public will no doubt be consulted in regard to the proposals made, in the same manner as it was consulted concerning the courses of study for lower primary schools.

Upper and Lower Primary Examinations.

116. Another cause which has undoubtedly had a depressing effect on primary education has been the abolition of the public examinations held at the end of the lower primary and upper primary courses. I have no wish to suggest a revival of the examinations as previously held with all their attendant evils. I recognise however that the abolition has had at any rate temporarily a very discouraging effect on primary education. The orders of the Government of India, as contained in paragraph 12 of their Resolution, entitled "Indian Educational Policy," of the 11th March 1904, are that there are to be only two examinations preceding the University courses. The first of these, the primary examination, will mark the completion of the lowest stage of instruction, and will test the degree of proficiency attained in the highest classes of primary schools. But it will no longer be a public examination held at centres to which a number of schools are summoned. It will be conducted by the inspecting officer in the school itself. Now, in this Province the first examination is held, under orders passed by this Government in the year 1902, at the end of the middle course, which comprises two classes above the Upper Primary stage. Hence there is no examination of any kind, except the ordinary class examinations, for the mass of boys who do not go beyond the Lower Primary standard, nor even for those who proceed as far as the Upper Primary standard. I am looking into this question and propose to submit a report on the subject to Government. Whatever may be decided in this respect, I am satisfied from enquiries made that the abolition of the examinations for the Lower and Upper Primary standards has withdrawn a distinct stimulus which once existed. As stated above, I have no wish to suggest a revival of the examinations as previously held; but, as at present advised, I do think that it would be desirable to organise a system of leaving certificates for the lower and upper primary standards based on the reports of the school authorities and a private examination conducted in the school itself by the inspecting officer. Such a system could very well be arranged as soon as the inspecting staff is strengthened. Leaving certificates are at present only given at the end of the middle course as a result of the examination which is held at the end of that course.

The Teaching of English.

117. Instruction through the medium of English and the teaching of English as a language are prohibited in all primary schools; but the teaching of English as a second language is allowed in middle schools in the classes corresponding to the two top classes of an upper primary school. I have discussed certain important questions connected with the teaching of this language in the chapter on secondary education.

CHAPTER VI.

TRAINING COLLEGES AND SCHOOLS FOR INDIAN TEACHERS.

Training Colleges for Teachers in High and other Secondary Schools.

118. The prime need of the Province under this head is the establishment of training colleges for teachers who impart instruction through the medium of English. The deplorable results of the last Entrance examination have very naturally led to discussion, and a cry has been raised that innocents have been massacred. At the instance of the Principal of one of the colleges of Calcutta, the Senate of the Calcutta University has appointed a committee to examine this question. I cannot say that I anticipate that this enquiry will prove fruitful. The results of the Entrance examination must, for obvious reasons, vary considerably from year to year, and no one has thought it necessary to call in question the work of the examiners in years in which the results have been abnormally good. I do however anticipate good results when the University begin to overhaul High schools under the new regulations, because the investigation thus made must bring forcibly to notice the necessity of securing better teachers in these schools. It is not difficult for those who have personal knowledge of the working of such schools to understand why there are many failures at the Entrance examination. I lately visited an important High school, and found that the Head Master could with difficulty understand English when addressed in that language. This man had to teach the students through the medium of English. Comment is superfluous. If they do these things in a green tree what shall be done in the dry? In making the above remarks I do not wish it to be understood that I am decrying the masters in High and other secondary schools as a body of workers. Many—I might say a large majority—are well educated men interested in their work, while many are devoted labourers. What is wanted however is that teachers should not only be well educated but also be properly trained before they are allowed to take up the important work of secondary education. To this end the Secretary of State has already approved the establishment of a training college for graduates and a normal college for under-graduates for this Province, and it is hoped that this most important project will shortly be inaugurated.

Training Schools for Teachers in the higher classes of Vernacular Schools and the Vernacular classes of High Schools.

119. As regards the training of teachers for the higher classes of vernacular schools and the vernacular classes of High schools, we are in a far better position. We already have six excellent training schools for the purpose, and we are now establishing a model school of the same kind with provision for a Principal and a Master of Method, both of whom will be Europeans trained in the latest methods of teaching. In addition to his work at the school this officer will supervise the working of the six existing schools above referred to.

Training Schools for Teachers in Primary Schools.

120. Most interesting is the experiment now being made as regards the training of the lowest grades of teachers of the country, that is to say, the teachers of the ordinary village schools. The task is a gigantic one, not only on account of the large number of teachers who require training—some thirty to forty thousand—but also on account of the very poor attainments of the men to be trained. The subject has engaged a great deal of my attention, and I have the satisfaction of being able to say that Government has recently approved several important proposals for improving the training schools for these teachers. The fundamental idea underlying the system hitherto in vogue has been that the teachers of primary schools will not give up their school work during the period of their training and devote themselves exclusively to their training. Hence a system was elaborated according to which training schools were established in the neighbourhood of the teachers to be trained, the object in view being to attract teachers to the schools during the few spare hours when they were not engaged in their schools. The intention was that after the teachers of a given neighbourhood had been trained, the training school should be moved on to another area, and that the building thus vacated should then be utilised for the purpose of a primary school. The defects of such a scheme are apparent. The teacher, poorly endowed by nature and with the slenderest educational equipment, was expected not only to keep his school going during the period of his training, but also during his spare hours to improve his own general education and learn the art of teaching.

121. The next point in respect of which the scheme was open to criticism was that as long as these training schools were considered to be of a temporary character, it was impossible to spend money on building hostels for the students and quarters for the teachers or to organise any system of nature study in combination with school gardening. These defects will now be rectified. At the same time, in order to compensate teachers for the loss sustained by them in having to give up their school while under training, the amount of the stipend to be held by them during that period will be increased so as to give them a bare means of subsistence. There is ample evidence that the new scheme will be appreciated, and I regard it as one of the most hopeful and useful of the educational projects now in process of development. It is only necessary to add that these training schools will receive for instruction men who wish to become teachers of primary schools, as well as those who have already taken up the profession of teaching.

122. All classes of training institutions for male teachers being considered together, the total expenditure during the year under review amounted to Rs. 1,34,180, of which Rs. 1,19,229 were provided from Provincial Revenues, Rs. 949 from District Funds, Rs. 4,403 from fees and fines, and Rs. 9,599 from other sources. Eight new schools for the training of teachers for primary schools were opened during the year. Statistics in respect of schools for teachers.

Proposed Training Colleges for Female Teachers.

123. I now come to the momentous subject of the training of female teachers—a subject which has been engaging my assiduous attention since I joined the office of the Director of Public Instruction early in the year. There are at the present time in Bengal, as now constituted, more than four million girls of a school-going age. What are we doing to provide teachers for this vast number? Hitherto our work has practically been confined to aiding a few training classes, the best of which are concerned with the training of Christian girls. Now, good though the work done by the Christian Mission Training Schools is, these classes may practically be left out of account, because they provide teachers almost entirely for Christian girls' schools. Moreover, strenuous objection is raised nearly everywhere to Christian women teachers, while even Brahmo women teachers are not by any means universally welcome. The crying want is therefore for good Hindu and Muhammadan female teachers. Speaking of the training that is at present given in the aided training schools, Miss Brock, the Inspectress of Schools, has observed that the opening of proper training colleges in Bengal is, in her opinion, one of the most pressing educational needs of the Province. So strongly does she feel the necessity of such institutions that she does not believe that any material progress can be made until steps are taken in that direction. She adds that the training that is at present being given in the case of Hindu, Muhammadan and Brahmo female teachers is of the poorest description, and that there is extraordinary waste of time, teaching power and money in the process. She observes that Hindus are constantly imploring her to find well-trained teachers, and that the two branches of the Brahmo Samaj are constantly addressing her on the subject of efficient instruction for their women teachers. The great : trained tea

124. It is not too much to say that the need for properly trained women teachers has now become exceedingly acute. Government has sanctioned schemes for peripatetic teaching by lady teachers. It has also sanctioned a scheme by which girls in villages and towns can be instructed at central gatherings by lady teachers. The success, however, of these schemes and of numerous others, such as utilising the services of Muhammadan a'las (lady teachers), training the wives of school-masters as teachers, etc., depends upon the question whether the people who are training others to teach are themselves properly taught. At the present time not only are properly qualified teachers not available, but it is impossible to obtain the services of ladies even with the kind of qualifications which we are at present obliged to consider as passable. To cite an illustration of the seriousness of the situation, I may observe that Government lately sanctioned the opening of a Middle English School for girls at Bankipore in order to meet the urgent need felt by the Hindus of that place for the education of their female children. The whole scheme, however, is blocked, owing to the fact that suitable teachers cannot be procured either in Bengal or elsewhere. Again, the Board of Revenue have sanctioned the employment of governesses in Wards' Estates for parda-nashin ladies and children; but they are finding the greatest difficulty in supplying the need. In fact we have begun at the wrong end. We have started schemes for teaching without providing for qualified teachers, and we are wasting money and doing much harm to the cause of education by employing unqualified teachers. It is still, however, not too late to make amends for past neglect.

125. I will now endeavour to make clear what kind of training we wish to impart. The existing aided training classes for Hindu, Muhammadan and Brahmo girls are not even capable, under present conditions, of turning out teachers qualified to impart a good primary education to girls, while no attempt is being made to train teachers qualified to teach in secondary schools. We may leave alone for the present any attempt to train female teachers who will be able to teach English in high schools for girls. The number of such schools is at present very limited, and the English classes in them are at present mostly staffed by English women. In course of time we shall, no doubt, have to train Indian ladies to teach English; but, for the present, no attempt need be made in that direction. We shall have plenty to do for some time to come if we are to succeed in turning out properly qualified vernacular teachers.

126. Deeply impressed therefore with the urgent necessity of establishing thoroughly efficient Government training colleges for women teachers, I have endeavoured to develop, with the aid of influential Indian gentlemen and Government officials, a movement for the establishment of two training colleges, one in Calcutta and the other at Bankipore. The scheme has been provisionally approved by the Government of Bengal, but, owing to financial difficulties, has not yet been submitted by that Government for the approval of the Government of India. Convinced as I am that the future of female education in Bengal very largely depends on the success of this project, and knowing, as I do, that this belief is shared by many who have the cause of female education at heart, I am confident that the time is not far distant when these colleges will be opened. The first step in advance has already been taken, with the approval of the Government of India, in the sending to England of two Indian lady scholars to be trained for two years at an English training college. These ladies, it may be added, have been accompanied by a third Indian lady who intends to undergo a similar course of training at her own expense, so that, on her return to India, she may be able to undertake the training of women teachers for primary schools in Orissa.

Statistics in respect of Existing Training Classes for Female Teachers.

127. During the year under report there were 17 aided training schools with 806 pupils, and 1 unaided training school with 32 pupils; the total expenditure on all the schools being Rs. 68,972, of which Rs. 26,679 were contributed from Provincial Revenues, Rs. 56 from District Funds, Rs. 143 from Municipal Funds, Rs. 2,723 from fees and fines, and Rs. 39,171 from other sources. The comparatively large contribution from "other sources" is chiefly expenditure incurred by the Christian Missions, the good work of which has been mentioned above.

Statistics in respect of Training Schools for Teachers, Male and Female, taken together.

128. Training schools of all classes for teachers, both male and female being taken together, the total expenditure has increased in the year under report by Rs. 31,903. Schools for males, and male pupils, have increased by 8 and 206 respectively; while, though schools for females have declined by 1, the number of female pupils has increased by 74. The year has been one of progress, but the progress can only be considered as a mere instalment towards what is to come.

CHAPTER VII.

PROFESSIONAL AND TECHNICAL EDUCATION.

Law.

129. There is not much of interest to be said under this head. There is no central law college in this Province, but classes for the purpose of imparting legal instruction are attached to Arts colleges. The chief work in connection with legal instruction is done at the Ripon College, Metropolitan Institution, City College and the Bangabasi College, all of these institutions being in Calcutta. The official verdict hitherto has been that there is very little real teaching in these classes and that "the students rely solely on their own unaided efforts to pass the University examinations, and attend lectures merely for the purpose of obtaining the certificate of attendance which is required by the University." It may also be mentioned that hitherto the students have not usually had access to any law library. The new University regulations, in addition to raising the standard of the Bachelor of Law Degree, make provision for a Degree of Master of Law. They also make it incumbent on every college affiliated in Law to make suitable provision for a law library, so as to enable its students to have access to the reports or other books in which leading cases are to be found. The Law classes have hitherto usually been entirely self-supporting and in many cases have been regarded as valuable adjuncts to Arts Colleges because the receipts from them have exceeded the expenditure incurred on them. It remains to be seen how the position will be affected under the new conditions imposed by the regulations. The results of the B. L. examination during the year under review were very poor, only 86 out of 512 candidates or 16·7 per cent., being successful.

Medicine.

130. It is not clear why the Director of Public Instruction has hitherto included statistics in regard to the Medical College, Calcutta, and the Medical Schools in his reports and commented on the working of these institutions. He has no personal knowledge of the working of these institutions, and any remarks which he makes in regard to them can only be the result of second-hand information. Moreover, this very information, which consists of copies of the reports of the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals and the accompanying statistics, is, at the time when the Director writes his report, under the consideration of Government. Possibly the retention of these statistics in the Director's report is a survival of the time when he had control of the Medical College and Medical Schools; and in this connection it is interesting to note that lately when examining the old history of the Sanskrit College I found that the first medical teaching given in Bengal was given at that college. On the other hand, if it is considered desirable that the Director should include the statistics referred to in his report, it is not clear why he is not required to include the statistics relating to Veterinary Science, which is included under the head of Professional and Technical Education in the Fourth Quinquennial Review. A similar question will soon have to be considered in regard to Agriculture. At present an Agricultural Department is attached to the Sibpur Engineering College; but, as soon as the Bengal Provincial Agricultural College is opened, the Director of Public Instruction will no longer have any control, over Agricultural education. These questions will be made the subject of a reference to Government, and are only noticed on the present occasion, because I do not understand how I can with any advantage follow the practice hitherto followed in the Annual Report in respect of the Medical College and Schools.

The Sibpur Civil Engineering College.

University
affect engineering.

131. The recently published regulations of the Calcutta University have in view the following objects as regards Engineering:—

- (1) modernising the Engineering Course,
- (2) affording specialised instruction in
 - (a) Civil Engineering,
 - (b) Mechanical and Electrical Engineering, and
 - (c) Mining Engineering,
- (3) facilitating the affiliation of schools of Engineering up to the First (or Intermediate) Engineering Examination.

The Principal of the Sibpur College anticipates good results from these changes.

Mining instruction.

132. The most important development made at the College during the year under review was the inauguration of classes for students who intend to take up mining as a profession. These classes have already been opened under a Professor of Mining recruited from the University of Birmingham, which is considered to be one of the best, if not the best, centre of mining instruction in England. Further, another Professor has been appointed to instruct persons actually engaged in the mining industry; and four centres of instruction have been selected—two in the Kaniganj, and two in the Jheria, coalfield. It may also be mentioned that in addition to the schemes referred to above, a certain number of students from Bengal are each year being sent by the Government of India to go through a course of mining instruction at the Birmingham University. Four such students were sent home in the year 1904 and two in the year 1905.

testing.

133. A question of considerable importance was under discussion during the year under review in connection with the establishment at the College of a laboratory for mechanical testing. Work of this nature has been carried on at the College on a small scale for some time past; but the amount of work to be disposed of has increased so largely that a proposal to appoint a whole-time officer to deal with it is now under consideration. It is expected that the chief volume of work will come from Departments of Government; but it is proposed to make the laboratory available to the public, subject to the payment of fees according to a scale to be approved by Government.

Examiners for the College and its affiliated schools.

134. Another important question, which has been under discussion during the year, is a proposal to establish a Board of Examiners for the College and its affiliated schools. Hitherto this work has been done by the Principal of the College and his staff. It is felt that, now that the affiliated schools have increased both in number and importance, it is desirable that the control of the examinations should rest with an independent body of examiners specially selected for their interest in, and knowledge of, the problems with which these institutions have to deal.

Delays in the
apparatus.

135. The Principal (Mr. Heaton) deploras the delays which occur owing to the system in force as regards sending orders for apparatus to England. He observes that such delays hinder research work and often make it impossible; for, having conducted his research to a certain point, and finding a certain instrument indispensable, an officer not infrequently has to throw up his research, knowing that he is not likely to receive the instrument in time for it to be of any use. Similar complaints are also made by Dr. Bose, C. I. E., and Mr. Cunningham, Professors of the Presidency College, who carry on research work. I am decidedly of opinion that the rules are too stringent and that a relaxation is called for in favour of (a) officers engaged in research work and (b) selected officers in charge of important institutions, and I propose to make a reference to Government on the subject.

136. The results of the B. E. and F. E. examinations were satisfactory. In the former the percentage of success was 34.6, as compared with 25.9 and 48.1 in the two preceding years (1904-1905 and 1903-1904); while in the latter it was 53.8, as against 25 and 60.8, in the same years. The attendance at the College (82.2 per cent.) was not as good as in the previous year, when it was 92.5 per cent. This was owing to the fact that the year under review was a very unhealthy one at Sibpur; the daily average number of students under treatment, chiefly on account of malaria, being 22. The total expenditure of the College was Rs. 1,57,916, of which Rs. 1,29,249 were contributed from Provincial revenues, Rs. 22,405 from fees and Rs. 6,262 from other sources.

The Bihar School of Engineering.

137. This is an extremely important school, which teaches up to the Overseer standard. It had 171 students on the rolls at the commencement of the session. The Head Master reports that all the students who have passed out of the school in recent years have, as far as is known, easily obtained employment. The great success of this institution renders it likely that, before many years are past, this school will be raised to the status of a College. It is very satisfactory to notice that the establishment of a boarding-house attached to the school has developed in a marked degree a corporate and social life among the students; in this respect the school is a model which many colleges in Bengal could follow with great advantage. The results of the Overseer and Sub-Overseer examinations were satisfactory, 10 out of 13 students sent up passing by the former, and 20 out of 32 students sent up passing by the latter, examination. Expenditure increased from Rs. 27,613 in the year 1904-1905 to Rs. 34,311 in the year under review. Of the last-named sum Rs. 29,222 were contributed from Provincial revenues and Rs. 5,089 from private sources.

The Cuttack Survey School.

138. This school at present turns out Surveyors and men of the Amin class. It is in contemplation however to raise its status to the Overseer standard at an early date, and for this purpose a considerable sum of money has been raised locally.

Preliminary technical education in schools.

139. In certain selected High Schools the course of studies in the two highest classes is arranged so as to lead naturally to the instruction provided in technical schools which prepare students up to the Sub-Overseer standard. The results hitherto attained have been very disappointing. These classes, as well as all aided technical and industrial schools, are under the inspection of the Principal of the Sibpur Engineering College. It is generally thought that the time has now come when a special officer should be appointed to inspect, foster and develop technical and industrial education throughout the Province; and proposals to this effect are under discussion.

Draftsman Classes.

140. A strong need having been felt for the establishment of classes for draftsmen, steps were taken during the year under review, with the help of representatives of leading Railway Companies and Engineering firms, to establish such a class; and it is hoped that the scheme will be brought into operation during the current year.

Motor Car Driver Class.

141. At the instance of the Automobile Association of Bengal a scheme is under the consideration of Government for the establishment of a class at the Sibpur Engineering College with the object of giving to men intending to become drivers of motor cars a mechanical training such as will enable them to execute all ordinary repairs.

Industrial Chemistry.

142. In order to meet the growing industrial needs of the Province a scheme is under consideration for the establishment of classes for imparting instruction in Industrial Chemistry at the Sibpur College. The details of the scheme have still to be worked out.

Agriculture.

143. A class for instruction in Agriculture is attached to the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur. The course extends over a period of two years. Out of 11 students who were presented for the diploma examination, 7 were successful; while all obtained immediate employment under Government. This class will be transferred to the Provincial Agricultural College as soon as that institution is established.

Commercial Classes.

144. A new scheme of Commercial Education, which was elaborated in consultation with the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and the Bengal National Chamber of Commerce was inaugurated at the Presidency College on the 1st July 1905. The scheme consists of two parts, the one comprising a day course, every part of which is obligatory, extending over a period of two years, and the other a series of evening lectures on certain subjects, any one or more of which may be selected at option. The following are the subjects prescribed for the day course :—

- (i) English (modern), and especially English correspondence, including commercial correspondence, letter-drafting and précis-writing;
- (ii) arithmetic, including commercial and mental arithmetic;
- (iii) one of the following languages, namely, Bengali, Hindi, Urdu, Uriya, French, German or Latin;
- (iv) one of the following subjects, namely, book-keeping, shorthand-writing or type-writing; and
- (v) commercial history and geography.

The following are the subjects prescribed for the evening course :—

- (i) outlines of political economy;
- (ii) banking and currency;
- (iii) commercial and industrial law;
- (iv) annuities and insurance;
- (v) book-keeping;
- (vi) shorthand-writing;
- (vii) type-writing; and
- (viii) English (modern).

It is too early yet to judge how far this scheme will prove effective and adequate. The day course is the principal one; and, as stated above, it extends over two years. The first examination of students under the new scheme for the day course will therefore not take place till April 1907. The evening classes have hitherto not proved a success, and in fact it is doubtful whether in this climate such classes can be expected to achieve results such as are obtained in Europe. The immediate need in respect of these classes is to remove them from the Presidency College, where they are cramped for room, to the business part of the city. It is unreasonable to expect business men after a long day's work to travel any considerable distance for the purpose of attending the evening classes.

145. The commercial education provided at the Presidency College aims only at turning out men qualified to be good clerks. If the present scheme proves a success, it will obviously be necessary to provide before long for a superior commercial education such as will fit a man to conduct a business on his own account. Meantime, the proposal recently made by the Government of India to send scholars to England for an advanced course of commercial education will meet a distinct want in this Province.

146. Commercial education is also provided at the Kurseong Victoria Boys' school and at several Government and aided high schools. In the case of the latter schools the course of study leads up to the day course prescribed for the commercial classes at the Presidency College. Besides the above mentioned schools at which commercial instruction is given, there are three privately managed commercial schools, one aided and two unaided which teach shorthand and type-writing.

The Calcutta Art School and Art Gallery.

147. At the instance of Mr. Havell, the Principal of the School of Art, a Japanese artist of the Tokio Art School was engaged temporarily during the year under review to give lessons in the Japanese method of brush work and flower painting. The class in the school which gives the most promise is the Advanced Design Class. It is hoped that students from this class will be able to undertake the decoration of the new Art Gallery building which is now in process of construction. Pending the completion of the building referred to, the collection of Indian paintings belonging to the Art Gallery is stored in the Art School premises. These paintings were inspected during the year under review by a party of Japanese artists and Art experts, who declared them to be the best collection of Indian paintings to be seen in India. The increase of expenditure during the year under review (Rs. 21,464), shown under the head of "Schools of Art," was due to large purchases made for the Art Gallery of old Tibetan banner pictures, Buddhist statues, valuable textile fabrics, etc. Some of the inscriptions on the statues and paintings are said to be of considerable archæological interest.

The Serampore Weaving School.

148. The Government of India have sanctioned the opening of a Weaving School at Serampore, and it is hoped that it will be possible to commence work in the coming cold weather. The object of the scheme is, firstly, to bring home to the ordinary artisans the latest improvements in respect of weaving apparatus, and, after supplying them with the necessary instruction, to give them advances of money in order to enable them to purchase the necessary apparatus; and, secondly, to train a higher class of students with the object of enabling them to become teachers of improved methods in outlying centres or to start businesses of their own in the weaving line.

Industrial Schools.

149. These schools have increased in number from 30 to 41, chiefly owing to the activity displayed in this connection in the district of Hazaribagh by the present Deputy Commissioner, Mr. Radice. As stated above a special officer is required for the effective supervision of technical and industrial education. The example set by Mr. Radice in Hazaribagh shows how quickly this branch of education could be developed if there were an officer whose whole time could be devoted to the subject. I regard this as an essential step towards future progress. The total expenditure increased from Rs. 32,535 to Rs. 36,853. Of this latter sum, Rs. 7,954 were contributed from Provincial Revenues, Rs. 6,745 from District Funds, Rs. 314 from Municipal funds, and Rs. 21,840 from fees and fines and other sources.

CHAPTER VIII.

General Remarks.

150. So preponderating is the need for trained female teachers that though I have expressed my views on the subject at length in the chapter on Training Colleges and Schools, it is impossible to avoid a reference to the same subject when considering the question of the education of girls in secondary and primary schools and the zanana. It is very generally admitted that there is an urgent need for training colleges in Bengal. A criticism has however been made in this connection that "it is only in higher schools and in large towns that the need for well-qualified female teachers is so pressing, and that for many years to come such luxuries will have to be dispensed with in the upper and lower primary girls' schools, where use must yet be made of the local guru or pandit." Now, though it is undoubtedly true that we cannot for many years to come dispense with the local male teacher, and that a large extension of the system of mixed schools is very desirable, I cannot at all admit that the urgent need for well-qualified female teachers is by any means limited to the higher schools and to large towns. In the first place, there is a very general and marked aversion on the part of a large proportion of the population to sending girls to school at all, not because the people are indifferent to the education of their female children, but because they do not like sending them to schools where there are male teachers, that is to say, schools where the pardah is not observed. In the second place, even if girls are allowed to go to school, they are, for the reason just given, removed from it at a very early age. Thirdly, if we are to instruct girls only up to the age when they are removed from school, I fear that our efforts will be largely wasted: the little instruction thus given is soon forgotten. I hold that the education of girls should not be abandoned at this early age, but should be continued in the zanana. Here we are immediately met face to face by the most pressing need for female teachers; and, if good results are to be secured, these teachers must generally be neither Christians nor Brahmans, but Hindus and Muhammadans. Christian Missions have doubtless done much good work, and Government is greatly in their debt for what they have effected in the way of popularising female education and sending out Christian female teachers. The Missions themselves would, however, be the first to admit that their sphere of usefulness as regards the development of this branch of education is not unlimited.

151. Referring to the want of progress in respect of the education of women in Bengal in the last quinquennial period (1897-98—1901-02), Sir Alexander Pedler observed:—

"The chief causes for the slow progress of this branch of education in this country are:—(1) The conservatism of a great portion of the people; (2) the fact that the education of their female children is a matter of great indifference to a large proportion of parents and guardians, as they usually do not take the same amount of care and interest in the education of their female wards as they do in that of boys; (3) the system of early marriage which presents an almost insurmountable barrier to education beyond the primary stages; (4) the want of educated female teachers; (5) the want of a system for educating zanana ladies; and (6) the want of adequate State aid and aid from other public funds."

152. Without wishing to dispute the large measure of truth contained in these observations, I am distinctly of opinion that they do not constitute quite a complete, or in some respects fair, account of the position. I quote below what Miss Brock, the Inspectress of Schools, said in her report for the year 1904-1905:—

"I found from visiting zananas and from the expression of native opinion that there was no prejudice against the education of girls, but a strong feeling against any relaxation of the pardah system for higher caste girls. In support of this is the fact that recently a meeting was held at Muzaffarpur of the more educated classes, with a view to opening a strictly pardah school for Hindus. In some parts of Bihar education would be welcome did it not bring with it the presence of male officials. What is needed is a far greater extension of the zanana system of teaching for higher caste girls as a preliminary step to schools, and for lower class girls strictly pardah schools. These would of necessity have to be wholly inspected by women."

153. I also give below some very interesting extracts from that lady's report for the year 1905-1906:—

"The most important question in relation to female education still remains the problem of obtaining and adequately training teachers. Only as regards the staffing of Mission Schools is the outlook at all promising. As regards Hindu, Muhammadan and even Brahmo schools, the difficulty remains unsolved * * *."

"As regards zanana teaching I am obliged to draw a sharp distinction between Hindu and Muhammadan work. I am quite convinced that as soon as we can command trained female teachers, orthodox and of good family, education will make remarkable progress among Bengali Hindu pardah women. I am repeatedly struck by the fact that in large towns Hindu gentlemen are in the habit of trying to induce European ladies to give instruction, including teaching in English, to their girls, and are often willing to pay good fees. On the other hand, even entrance into Muhammadan zananas is very difficult, and the education of women is regarded with extreme suspicion * * *."

"In the immediate future, if adequate assistance is afforded, I anticipate a great increase in the number of girls' schools. From month to month it is increasingly impressed upon me that many of the supposed difficulties with regard to Hindu female education do not exist, and that the real obstacles we have to encounter might be overcome by a more intimate knowledge of Indian social life as it affects women. A very large number of Bengalis would not oppose female education were it offered in a form which would be acceptable. This was the opinion I stated a year ago. During this past year this view of the matter has been expressed to me again and again by Indian gentlemen. In the work of understanding local needs I consider the work of women assistant officials would be invaluable and can only be afforded by them. As regards higher caste girls the way to them lies through zanana teaching, and one of the most promising points of female educational work the impetus that is being given to this method of teaching * * *

"As regards primary schools under Mission management endeavour is being made to draft untrained members of teaching staffs into good training classes and to staff primary schools entirely with trained female teachers. I have good hopes that in Calcutta at all events before long both these objects will be attained in these schools. Primary schools under Hindu management still continue to be, for the most part, in the hands of pandits, but the request is everywhere being made by them for a competent female teacher to be added to the staff. The difficulty in meeting this demand is however very great, even when the teachers are forthcoming. Christian and Brahmo girls, where accepted, demand high salaries and for the most part will not work in the districts and in primary schools. Should the Government training colleges be started, one of the greatest difficulties will be to induce the girls after a training in Calcutta and Bankipore to return to the village primary school. If Hindu and Muhammadan women however are secured the difficulty will vanish. They will expect to return to their own villages or towns * * *"

"I have this year seen more of Muhammadan schools and come more into touch with Muhammadan zanana life. Education both in the schools and in the zanana is of the most meagre description. In the former this is undoubtedly due to the early age at which girls are withdrawn, not for marriage, but within the pardah: in the latter it is owing to the almost utter lack of training and education in the teachers. From what I have observed I consider that in the case of Muhammadans the work has not yet been attempted on the right lines for success. The majority of Muhammadans will no doubt for years to come view the movement for the education of women with dislike; but that will be no bar, if certain conditions are allowed, to the progress of education both in the zanana and the school. Muhammadan schools must be altogether pardah, and all local male officials entirely withdrawn from the schools. A conveyance grant for the schools is necessary if high class Muhammadan girls are to be secured. Women of good family must be obtained as teachers for the schools, but above all for the zanana. These teachers must be able to speak good Urdu. Lastly, one of the most important points is, I consider, the giving of certain concessions with regard to the curriculum. The text books above all should be such as are acceptable to the Muhammadans. I am convinced that if we could obtain teachers capable of giving an acceptable course of instruction, a large number of zananas would be at once accessible."

154. I think that Miss Brock's remarks throw a great deal of valuable light on a most difficult question. It seems to me that if the education of women is presented, as Miss Brock says, "in an acceptable form" "the conservatism of a great portion of the people" which was referred to by Sir Alexander Pedler as being the first cause of slow progress, would gradually be won over to the side of progress. Miss Brock's report also shows—and enquiries made by me corroborate her view—that the people are not so indifferent to the education of their female children as is usually supposed: there is a considerable awakening in this respect. This was the second cause referred to by Sir Alexander Pedler as hindering the progress of female education.

155. The third cause assigned by Sir Alexander Pedler for the want of progress was the system of early marriage, which he stated presented an almost insurmountable barrier to education beyond the primary stage. My reply to this is that the barrier itself will yield to the influence of education. It has already done so in the case of the Brahmo community, whose girls marry later in life and consequently attend school longer than Hindu and Muhammadan girls. Most instructive in this respect are the remarks made by His Majesty's Agent and Consul-General in Egypt in his Administration Report for the year 1905, from which I quote the following passage:—

The remarkable and continuous progress of female education in Egypt marks very clearly the changes of custom and alteration of ideas which are taking place in the country. When the first efforts to promote female education were made, they met with little sympathy from the population in general. Parents lent their daughters to school reluctantly, and took them away early. In order to encourage the education of girls, it was necessary to admit a large number of free pupils. Most of these came from the poorer classes, and left early, either to be married or because it was thought unbecoming for a girl to attend school after she had passed the earliest years of childhood. The reluctance of parents to send their daughters to school has now been largely overcome. Free education in the Government Primary Schools has been practically abolished. Demands are frequently made for the establishment of other schools in different parts of the country. The number of private schools for girls has also greatly increased of late years. Further, it is to be observed that the steady output of boys from the Secondary Schools and Higher Colleges has diminished stimulated the movement for female education, for the younger generation are beginning to demand that their wives should possess some qualification other than those which can be secured in the seclusion of the harem. The interaction of the two branches of education does not stop here, for not only has the growth of education among boys stimulated the desire for instruction to girls, but it has also tended to improve the quality of education given to the girls by prolonging the period of instruction. There appears good reason for supposing that, where education has made progress, the age of marriage has risen, and that, in consequence, the girls are allowed to remain longer than heretofore at school."

156. I invite particular attention to the last sentence of the quotation just given. Surely Egypt and India are not so different that it is unreasonable to expect that, where education makes progress, the age of marriage will rise, and that in consequence girls will be allowed to remain longer than heretofore at school.

157. Three further causes were given by Sir Alexander Pedler as presenting a hindrance to the progress of the education of women, viz., (1) the want of educated female teachers, (2) the want of a system of educating zanana ladies, and (3) the want of adequate State aid and aid from other public funds. Sir Alexander Pedler stated however that a considerable increase in the expenditure had been incurred in recent years, and that more energetic measures were being taken to foster the spread of female education. I have also shown in this report that active steps are being taken to supply the need of trained female teachers both for girls' schools and for the zanana.

158. To sum up the matters above discussed, I venture to say that, as far as Bengal is concerned, the chief cause at the present time operating to hinder the progress of the education of women is the want of qualified and respectable Hindu and Muhammadan female teachers and inspecting agents, and the consequent inability to organise the kind of schools or the type of zanana education which the people require. We still want money of course, but it is not immediately so much needed for increasing the number of schools for girls and zanana centres of instruction as for producing suitable teachers. Given these, I feel that a vast field lies ready for exploration. I have ample evidence of this in the various schemes for imparting instruction to females which are being put forward.

159. One of the most hopeful is a project which has been quite recently brought forward by Mrs. Roy, wife of Dr. P. K. Roy, late of the Indian Educational Service. This is a scheme for the award of scholarships and rewards with the object of encouraging instruction in the zanana. Committees of ladies, European and Indian, assisted by advisory Committees of men, are to be formed at suitable local centres. These Committees will work out syllabuses of instruction suitable to the various classes of the community and frame scales of scholarships and rewards. It is said that a system of this sort was widely in vogue and very popular some years ago in the Dacca Division, but that it eventually languished owing to want of encouragement by Government. An indirect, but very substantial, by-product of this project will be the formation of the committees referred to. Such committees will not only be useful for the purpose of the project above sketched, but will also be of great value in other directions, such as helping and advising in the work of local girls' schools, aiding and encouraging zanana instruction of all kinds, helping the female inspecting agency as regards their work in training classes and the selection of teachers for training, etc., etc. I regard this latest development as most hopeful.

160. In short, the direction which progress must take must not be antagonistic to the conservative instincts of the people with which sympathy must be shown. Our policy must not be destructively radical but progressively conservative. We can only advance by devising measures which are not inconsistent with prescription, to which in the past insufficient concessions have been made. We should not run amuck against tradition, but should carry tradition with us on the lines of progress.

Statistics in respect of secondary and primary schools.

161. During the year under review secondary and primary schools for girls taken together increased from 2,563 to 2,877, and students in such schools from 61,432 to 67,755, that is, by 12.3 and 10.3 per cent., respectively. If the number of boys in girls' schools be deducted, the actual figure as regards girls in girls' schools comes to 65,632, as against 59,034 in the previous year, the percentage of increase being 11.15. In addition to the 65,632 girls in girls' schools, there were 43,446 girls in boys' schools; the total of girls under instruction being 109,078, as against 102,546 in the previous year, and the percentage of increase being 6.37. One in every 36 girls of a school-going age, or 2.7 per cent., was under instruction, as against 1 in every 58, or 1.7 per cent., at the close of the last quinquennial period. It may be explained in this connection that each centre where zanana instruction is imparted is counted, for the purpose of the statistical returns, as a primary school and the girls under instruction as students in such schools. In future, however, I shall show figures for zanana education separately in the returns.

162. Almost all the girls under instruction were in the primary stage of instruction. Thus, of the total number of schools for girls (2,877) all except 34 were primary schools; and of the total number of girls under instruction (109,078) all except 402 were in the primary stage. D.....

163. Expenditure in connection with secondary and primary girls' schools increased by Rs. 42,791; and of the total expenditure incurred, viz., Rs. 3,99,837, Rs. 1,17,031 were contributed from Provincial Revenues, Rs. 69,753 from Local Funds, Rs. 46,440 from fees, and Rs. 1,66,613 from other sources. 164. The results of the examination held at the end of standard VI were satisfactory, 66 candidates appearing, of whom 52 passed, as against, in the previous year, 64 candidates, of whom 49 passed. There are no formal examinations at the end of the upper primary and lower primary courses, as explained in the chapter on "Primary Education for Indian Boys"; but the class examinations held at the end of these stages show a large falling off in the number of candidates appearing, with, however, a large increase in the percentage of successful candidates. The combined figures for these two stages show that, whereas in the year 1904-1905 of 2,098 candidates 1,378 were successful, in the year under review of 1,595 candidates 1,297 were successful. The general causes for the unpopularity of these examinations have been discussed in the chapter above quoted. Results of Technical and Industrial Training.

165. Very little technical and industrial work for women is at present aided by Government, but a comparatively large amount is being done in different parts of the Province, chiefly by Mission agencies. The lace-industry at Kalimpong, which is aided by Government, is already a success, and it is proposed to extend it to parts of the Chota Nagpur Division and the Sonthal Parganas. The work requires fostering, and when our female inspecting staff is increased, this will be possible.

CHAPTER IX.

• EUROPEAN EDUCATION.

Introductory.

166. The term "European," as used in this chapter, signifies any person of European descent, pure or mixed, who retains European habits and modes of life; and for the purpose of the grant-in-aid rules all except 15 per cent. must answer to the above definition. The term
"European."

167. Although the Partition was given effect to from the 16th October 1905, European education in the Divisions transferred to the new Province remained in charge of the Bengal Education Department till late in the year under review. As a result of the separation of these Divisions this Province has lost 6 schools. This report primarily concerns the schools which are left with this Province, but the statistics given in respect of the annual examinations concern candidates from Bengal and Eastern Bengal and Assam, inasmuch as these examinations were held for both Provinces by the Bengal Education Department. The Partition Collegiate Education.

168. Collegiate education for Europeans is practically non-existent. Loreto House, Calcutta, which has University classes attached to it, returned only one student. The Bethune College for ladies returned two European students.

Schools.

169. This report deals with 69 schools, of which 2 are managed by Government, 62 are aided and 5 are unaided. It is much to be regretted that the Inspector has failed to secure returns from the Armenian College, which is not included in the 5 unaided schools above referred to. The Armenians, though a small community, form an important element in the complex society of Calcutta, and the education given at the college is not a matter of indifference to Government. Of the 69 schools referred to, 44 were secondary, and 25 primary schools. Of the 44 secondary schools however only 14 taught up to the high school stage, the rest being middle schools.

Pupils.

kinds.

170. The total number of pupils in educational institutions of all kinds for Europeans was 7,925, of whom 301 were in institutions managed by Government, 6,782 in aided institutions and 842 in unaided institutions. In addition, there were 209 European pupils studying in institutions for Indians. These pupils are not however included in the statistics dealt with in this chapter, which refers solely to institutions for Europeans and pupils of such institutions.

primary schools.

171. The total number of pupils undergoing general education in secondary and primary schools on the 31st March 1906 was 7,803, as against 8,286 on the 31st March 1905. If however allowance is made for the transfer of 6 schools to the new Province and for the fact that the Armenian College has submitted no returns, there appears to have been no loss, but a gain of some hundred or more pupils. Of the 7,803 pupils referred to, 2,098 were in the secondary, and 5,705 in the primary, stage of education. Of the 7,803 pupils above referred to, 7,133 were of European, and 670 of Indian, parentage.

Secondary and primary schools and scholars according to management.

172. Of the 7,133 European pupils in secondary and primary schools 57.17 per cent. were in schools controlled by the Roman Catholic Church; while 28 out of the total number of 69 schools, or 40.6 per cent., were under the management of that Church. Next comes the Church of England with 17.28 per cent. of the total number of pupils and with 11 schools out of the total number of 69. It is interesting to note on the other hand that the census figures show that out of the total European population 51.4 per cent. belong to the Anglican Communion, and 36.2 per cent. only to the Roman Catholic Church. These figures are to some extent vitiated by the inclusion in the census figures of the British forces; but it is well known that a large number of Protestant children study in Roman Catholic schools.

Finance.

counts.

173. The total expenditure amounted to Rs. 14,15,562, of which, according to the returns submitted, Rs. 3,43,683 were derived from Provincial Revenues, Rs. 2,754 from the Calcutta Corporation, Rs. 6,80,325 from fees, Rs. 2,44,812 from subscriptions and donations, and Rs. 1,43,988 from endowments and other sources. I regret to say however that the figures returned for subscriptions and donations are totally unreliable. It is needless in this report to enter into details, but it may be stated that the amount reported under this head is probably at least a lakh of rupees in excess of the amount actually contributed. On the assumption that that is the case, it appears that not much more than about Rs. 1,00,000 were subscribed by the general public; for, included in the figures under this head, are sums of Rs. 30,451 received from the Bruce Institution for the maintenance and education of its wards and Rs. 9,230 paid by Railway Companies in grants to Railway schools. As an illustration of the general unreliability of the returns, I may mention that the expenditure returned under the head of "Boarding Charges" has declined by Rs. 1,59,302, whereas no material change of circumstances has in fact occurred. The decline is apparently to be accounted for by the vagueness of the information received from the schools and by the absence in the Inspector's office of any settled principle for the distribution of the expenditure among the various heads of the statistics. This unsatisfactory state of the returns will continue till all school accounts are kept in some rational way common to all and audited by some one who has an expert knowledge of account-keeping. This question, together with that of a proper system of auditing accounts, was discussed by the Hill Schools' Committee in their report, and the subject is engaging the attention of the Government of India. Meantime, I have with the assistance of Mr. Chapman, lecturer for the Commercial classes, Presidency College, had a modified form of return prepared, which is under consideration.

174. The total expenditure returned last year was Rs. 14,50,414. The Total expenditure for the year under review being Rs. 14,15,562, the decrease amounts to Rs. 34,852. This decline is attributable to the transfer of 6 schools to the new Province and to the fact that returns have not been received for the Armenian College this year.

Examinations.

175. The results of the examinations could scarcely be worse. Of 74 candidates that appeared at the High School and Scholarship Examination 20, or 27 per cent. only, passed. At the Middle School examination, of 81 candidates who appeared 14, or 17·2 per cent. only, passed. The position perhaps becomes still clearer when it is stated that of 49 boys who, having completed their education, were sent up for the Middle School examination before being sent out into the world, only 5, or 10·2 per cent., were able to pass. It is true that owing to the fact that several schools now take the Cambridge University Examinations, some of the best teachers in European schools are now available as examiners, and this circumstance may have led to a raising of the standard. The fact however to be faced is that the verdict of a specially able body of examiners has been most unfavourable. A certain amount of good work was shown in arithmetic, and this mostly by boys; otherwise the results of these examinations seem to bear out the truth of the following remark made by the Inspector in his report for 1904-1905:—"A certain amount of proficiency is obtained by boys in elementary arithmetic. With this exception the work is poor and slovenly to a degree." I reserve my remarks as to what can be done to set matters right to a later part of this chapter.

176. La Martinière College, Calcutta, for boys and girls, the Diocesan Girls' School, Darjeeling, and the Pratt Memorial School, Calcutta, did well at these examinations. La Martinière secured 2 passes at the Senior Local, 9 at the Junior Local, and 18 at the Preliminary Local, examination.

177. From Loreto House 2 candidates passed the Entrance Examination, while from St. Xavier's College 9 were successful.

The training of female teachers.

178. The attempt to train female teachers at Kurseong and at the Welland Memorial Kindergarten, Calcutta, has up to date been a dismal failure. The mistake has been made of endeavouring to train students as teachers with inadequate and insufficiently qualified staffs. At Kurseong the staff employed has been neither adequate nor sufficiently qualified, and at the Welland Memorial Kindergarten the conditions of work are quite unsuitable. The mistake is being rectified, but much valuable time has been lost. It is now proposed that a separate training college should be established at Kurseong with an adequate staff, and that in future the least qualifications that members of the teaching staff shall possess shall be those of a person who has not only had a secondary school education and secured a University degree, but who has in addition had some experience on the staff of a secondary school. As students have not hitherto had a fair chance, I refrain from giving details in regard to the depressing results hitherto obtained. We are, I believe, now upon the right path.

Professional and Technical Education.

The Sibpur Engineering College.

179. Engineering is one of the best openings for European boys. On the 31st March 1906 there were 47 such boys at the Sibpur Engineering College, viz: 4 in the Engineering, and 43 in the Apprentice Department. One European passed the B. E. Examination and two the First Examination in Engineering. Four Europeans passed the overseer, and 4 the sub-overseer, examination; while 2 passed the survey final examination.

Victoria Boys' School, Kurseong.

180. Twelve boys were under instruction in the technical classes which are attached to the Victoria Boys' School, Kurseong. Five boys were sent up for the last sub-overseer examination of the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, this being the first batch of candidates presented from this school. The result of the examination was satisfactory. Out of the 5 candidates sent up, 3 were successful, one obtaining the first place on the list, while the other two stood 7th and 16th respectively. The failure of the two remaining candidates was reported to have been due to their having contracted a severe type of the fever while going through their practical training in surveying in the Darjeeling Terai in November 1905. Orders have since been passed that in future the survey camp is not to be held in the Terai.

The East Indian Railway Technical School.

181. The East Indian Railway Technical Night School at Jamalpur continues to give instruction in steam engine and machine construction, applied mechanics, algebra and mensuration, and it is reported that it is proposed to extend the work of the school. The average nightly attendance at this institution during the year under review was 51.3.

St. Andrew's Colonial Homes, Kalimpong.

182. St. Andrew's Colonial Homes, Kalimpong, give a certain amount of training in carpentry and farm work. Both boys and girls are trained to domestic work by being made to do all the work which is required for the management of the Homes.

St. Helen's Convent, Kurseong.

183. At St. Helen's Convent, Kurseong, there is a well equipped department for instruction in cookery, needle-work, dress-making, sick-nursing and the compounding of medicines. It is to be regretted however that though girls are willing to join the Technical Department, they are not as a rule inclined to devote to it time or attention sufficient to enable them to master any single subject. In order to meet this defect orders have recently been issued that no Government grant will be paid on account of any student of this department who has not attended 75 per cent. of the total number of school meetings held during a school session.

Other schools for girls.

184. Some other schools for girls attempt a certain amount of instruction in cookery and dress-making, but in all this technical work for girls there is a lack of organisation and definiteness of aim which deprives it of a great deal of its value. In order to meet this evil it is proposed to open at the suggested Training College for female teachers at Kurseong a Technical Department for the training of a small number of teachers in Technical subjects.

185. A commercial class was opened at the Kurseong Victoria School for boys at the beginning of the current session (1906) with a master specially recruited from England for the purpose. Commercial education of an elementary character is also given at several other schools. The work suffers however from lack of organisation and supervision. I shall endeavour to arrange some system of general control, as I have already done in the case of commercial classes in Indian schools.

Volunteering.

186. Eleven hundred and fifty-four cadets became efficient during this year.

General Remarks.

187. Last year when reporting on the general condition of European education in Bengal the Inspector spoke in no doubtful terms of its unsoundness and urged the unwisdom from a political point of view of allowing this unsoundness to continue. In reviewing these remarks the Government of Bengal stated in its Resolution that the political consequences of such a state of things could not be regarded with indifference; because, restricted as Europeans and Eurasians are in their choice of the means of livelihood, their educational fitness is a matter of great importance. The picture presented by the various facts recorded in this report is, except in the case of a few superior schools, gloomy indeed from almost every point of view. Other features of the problem which have not been referred to are equally discouraging. Some of the leading schools of the Province are still struggling under a burden of debt which makes any real progress impossible. Many are working in buildings which are admittedly quite unsuitable, while all practically are striving to accomplish tasks for the performance of which their resources are inadequate. Inspectors have told us that the work of the schools is bad and employers of labour have testified to the truth of this criticism. Three years ago a partner of one of the leading Engineering firms of Calcutta stated before the Hill Schools Committee that in his opinion European boys educated in India never had more nor better opportunities of getting on if they would only apply themselves to work and take advantage of their opportunities. Then, after pointing out that an engineering firm most emphatically does not expect boys to come to it technically trained, he declared that, in spite of their opportunities, European boys educated in India did not get on in Engineering work owing mainly, he thought, to their total ignorance of elementary practical mathematics and geometry and their hopeless want of application.

188. The question is what is to be done. To my mind the answer is clear. We must have a better scheme of work and better teachers. I am thankful to be able to say that, dark as the past has been, the future is not without hope. We have now attained to a position from which, if we will use our eyes, we can see the goal which we wish to reach and at the same time make out the path which, if we follow them consistently, will lead us to it. Last year the Government of India, in returning to Local Governments the Revised Code of Regulations for European Schools, expressed themselves as dissatisfied with the curriculum laid down, and desired Local Governments to examine it with a view to its consolidation in the various classes of schools. This letter was sent to the Inspector of European Schools, who submitted in reply an exhaustive criticism of the present system, in which he pointed out that under present conditions only one class of school is recognised, and that the only difference between such divisions of schools as do exist lies in the fact that certain schools are permitted to take the whole of what purports to be a complete school course, whereas others are only allowed to take certain parts of it. Now, if only one class of schools is recognised, it is obviously futile to attempt to consolidate the courses in various classes of schools. Consequently, Mr. Hornell first of all suggested how in his opinion schools should be classified; and, having laid down the principle that, for the future, recognition should mean recognition as a school of a certain class, he proceeded to make proposals for the curriculum of each class. Mr. Hornell's proposals were then placed before a representative conference of school managers, teachers and others interested in European education. The classification proposed by him the conference was not prepared to accept; his criticisms it did not attempt to gainsay. It accepted the principle that European schools should be classified into elementary and secondary; and, having laid down two excellent curricula, one for elementary and the other for secondary schools, it proposed that under ordinary circumstances no school should be recognised either as an elementary or as a secondary school unless it could show that it could teach efficiently the whole of the curriculum prescribed. It further agreed that any school applying for recommendation as a secondary school should in the first instance be inspected by a board of three Inspectors, of whom the Inspector of European Schools should be one. The proposals put forward by the conference have since been referred to Government for orders.

189. In these resolutions of the conference, it appears to me, lies the hope of the future. We can make no advance until we know first of all what we desire to teach and secondly what schools there are which can impart this instruction. To the first stage we may claim to have attained when the conference unanimously proposed curricula for elementary and secondary schools which from an educational point of view leave practically nothing to be desired. To the second stage we cannot hope to attain until we learn from a competent authority what schools can teach the secondary, and what schools can teach the elementary, curriculum. This information we may hope to get when the proposed Board of Inspectors has done its work.

190. When the real facts are before us and when the defects are laid bare we cannot of course stop. On the contrary it is at this point that the work of reconstruction must begin, and the lines on which that work will have to proceed will be the raising of particular schools to a condition in which they will be able to undertake efficiently the work which in the interests of the community in general it is incumbent on them to attempt. The extra expenditure incurred will probably have to be borne very largely by the State, and it is fortunate that we have already begun to receive the necessary pecuniary assistance from the Government of India. It will obviously be impossible to raise at once all the schools which require assistance. This being so, complaints may perhaps arise that this policy is likely to prove in actual working both invidious and unfair. I have little doubt, however, that if the Education Department proceeds tactfully and fairly, with due regard to the needs of the community as a whole and to vested interests, the Managers of European schools in Bengal will gladly sink to some extent their individual ambitions for the good of the general cause. The Government of India have recognised the advisability of giving State assistance on the basis of the particular needs of individual schools. In Article 38 of the Revised Code they have empowered Local Governments to make supplementary grants to schools for the efficient maintenance of which the ordinary grants are not sufficient. No one who has followed the history of European education in India will question the justice or the wisdom of this principle. It must never be forgotten that though the responsibility of the British Government in the matter of the education of the domiciled European community is great, the resources which it can apply to this work are necessarily small; and that therefore while Government cannot allow the boys and girls of the European and Eurasian community to be educated in schools which are through lack of resources unable to undertake efficiently the work which they are attempting, it cannot afford to spend on any school a single rupee more than that school actually requires.

191. Having decided what secondary and what elementary schools we want, and having ascertained clearly how far and in what particulars the existing schools fall short of our requirements, we shall begin the work of reconstructing individual schools on the basis of these considerations. An efficient teaching staff will be everywhere the first consideration; and, as I fear that a sufficient number of efficient teachers will not at first be forthcoming, it will be necessary in not a few instances, for the present at any rate, to arrange that the managers of schools may be in a position to recruit from England. I recognise however that the necessity for this importation is not a healthy sign; for, though the occasional introduction of new blood from England will doubtless be always desirable, the bulk of the schools ought obviously be to be able to recruit the majority of their teachers in India. The Training College at Kurseong will supply us with the necessary number of female teachers; while, as regards the training of male teachers we must look to the establishment of the proposed Training College at Allahabad. We have ascertained by experiment that for the present at any rate there is no hope of such a college being successful if confined to this Province only.

192. On the whole therefore we may fairly say that, dark as the past history of European Education in Bengal has been, we are beginning to leave that past behind. The corner has been turned and we may hope that a new era has begun.

CHAPTER X.

General Remarks.

193. Owing to the Partition the proportion which the Muhammadan population bears to the general population has been considerably curtailed. The Muhammadan population of the Province is at present 9,034,949 and represents only 17·2 per cent. of the general population.

104. In the case of the general population 103 per mille of males and 5 per mille of females are literate. In the case of the Muhammadans the proportions are only 81 and 3 respectively. Present state of Muhammadan literacy.

195. As stated above, the Muhammadan population is 17·2 per cent. of the general population. On the other hand the percentage of Muhammadan pupils to pupils of all creeds is only 13·9, or if the figures returned by private institutions are, for the reasons given in Chapter XII, excluded as unreliable, the percentage is exactly 13. The percentage of Muhammadan pupils under instruction in public institutions in the year under review, to Muhammadan children of a school-going age was 11·2; while the corresponding percentage for the general population was 14·8. It is however when we come to analyse the figures as regards the higher stages of instruction that the backwardness of the Muhammadans comes out more clearly. Thus, though the percentage of Muhammadans in primary schools is 13·7, and though this figure bears a fair proportion to the percentage of the Muhammadan population (17·2), in the higher stages of instruction the percentages fall off in a striking manner. Thus, in secondary schools the percentage is 8·7 only, in professional colleges, 4·8 only, and in arts colleges, 6·3 only. From all points of view therefore the Muhammadans have much ground to make up. Pupils under instruction.

Progress.

196. The total number of Muhammadans attending all classes of educational institutions increased from 166,781 in the year 1904-1905 to 171,905 in the year under review, or by 3·0 per cent., as against an increase of 2·2 per cent. in the total number of pupils of all religions. On account however of the unreliability of the statistics returned by private institutions it is safer to make the comparison by reference only to pupils attending public institutions. In that case the increase in respect of Muhammadan pupils is 2·45 per cent., as against an increase of 2·16 per cent. in respect of the total number of pupils of all religions. The result is satisfactory so far as it goes. In the Government Resolutions on the Director's reports for the years 1902-1903 and 1903-1904 the hope was expressed that, in view of the increase in those years of 5·8 and 11·7 per cent. respectively in the number of Muhammadan pupils under instruction, a real and lasting awakening had occurred on the part of the Muhammadan community to the advantages of education. In the year 1904-1905 however the total number of Muhammadans attending educational institutions declined by 3·1 per cent., as against a decrease of 1·5 per cent. in the total number of pupils of all religions. It is not wise therefore to expect too much: on the whole there is a steady, though slow, improvement, and it is possible to hope that it may be maintained.

The Calcutta, Hooghly and Murshidabad Madrassahs.

197. A proposal is under consideration for the establishment of a Title Examination for Madrassahs on the lines of the Sanskrit Title Examination referred to in the chapter on University and Collegiate Education. A scheme to this effect was recently submitted by Dr. Ross, late Principal of the Calcutta Madrassah, and is now under consideration. The Sanskrit Title Examination has been so eminently successful in stimulating Sanskrit learning that it is not too much to hope that considerable enthusiasm will be evoked in regard to Muhammadan lore, if the examination referred to is established. I have already mentioned, in the chapter on "Education of Special Classes," that His Highness the Nawab of Murshidabad has submitted proposals for the amalgamation of the Murshidabad Madrassah with the local Government High school.

Indigenous Schools.

198. A scheme which affords much cause for hope in connection with Muhammadan education is one which was elaborated in the year 1903-1904 by a conference over which Dr. Ross presided, for developing the indigenous Muhammadan primary schools which exist throughout this Province. This scheme was sanctioned in the year referred to, and was partially brought into force in the year under review. It is only in the current year however that it has been found possible to provide the necessary funds.

for giving effect to the complete project, the recurring charges of which amount to Rs. 18,542. I trust that even this will prove to be only the beginning of a wider scheme for bringing these schools under Government recognition. It is certain that that recognition will increase the number of pupils, and that the financial aid afforded will give stability to a deserving class of institutions.

Results of Examinations.

199. Muhammadan candidates did considerably better in the B. A. and F. A. examinations than in the previous year, notwithstanding the fact that in that year the results of the B. A. examination were exceptionally good. In the M. A. examination however and in all other examinations the results were very disappointing.

CHAPTER XI.

EDUCATION OF SPECIAL CLASSES.

Education of Chiefs and Nobles.

Education
of the sons of Chiefs and Zamindars.

200. The Nawab of Murshidabad's Madrassah is intended for the education of the descendants and relations of the Nawab Bahadur of Murshidabad. As such, it has been a failure. Mixing only with their equals and removed from outside influences, these lads have no incentive to improvement. So convinced of this is His Highness that he has agreed to a proposal that the Madrassah should be amalgamated with the local Government High School. He hopes that by mixing with other boys in the High School the Nizamats boys will be stimulated to make better use of their time at school. The Nawab Bahadur has expressed a wish that any money saved by the amalgamation may be devoted to the furtherance of the proposed Ranchi Arts College Scheme. In Orissa the sons of Chiefs are educated chiefly at the Ravenshaw Collegiate School; while in the Chota Nagpur Division they are mostly sent to the Government High Schools.

Aboriginal Races and Tribes.

Number receiving education.

201. It was stated in the Fourth Quinquennial Review that out of the 6½ million aborigines found in the area dealt with in that review, 2¼ million belonged to Bengal. This figure is scarcely affected by the Partition. The homes of these people are chiefly to be found in the Chota Nagpur, Bhagalpur and Orissa Divisions, the Orissa Tributary Mahals, and the Birbhum and Bankura districts of the Burdwan Division. The aboriginal population of a school-going age, at the usual calculation of 15 per cent., comes to 337,500; and of this number 43,320 (9,342 Christians and 33,978 non-Christians), or 12 per cent. only, are receiving instruction. The increase in the number of pupils during the year under review was 2,021. This is satisfactory, but there is ample room for improvement. Government is much indebted to the various Missionary agencies which have done so much for the education of these people. There is however a wide field which those agencies cannot cover and which will have to be explored by the Education Department as funds become available.

Examination results.

202. As observed in the Fourth Quinquennial Report, Christian aborigines secure better results in the examinations than non-Christian aborigines. The examination results for the year 1905-1906 are so striking in this respect that I quote them below:—

Caste and creed of the pupils.	Total number of pupils attending educational institutions.	Standard VI or Middle Standard.				Standard IV or Upper Primary Standard.				Standard II or Lower Primary Standard.
		Number passed.		Number gained scho- larships.		Number passed.		Number gained scho- larships.		Number passed.		Number gained scho- larships.
		Boys.	Girls.	Boys.	Girls.	Boys.	Girls.	Boys.	Girls.	Boys.	Girls.	Boys.	Girls.
Christian Aborigines	9,342	81	0	3	1	163	18	3	2	328	86	8	8
Non-Christian Aborigines	33,978	48	...	2	...	145	...	1	...	745	8	53	...

Indigent Classes.

203. The number of pupils of these classes (both Hindu and Muhammadan) increased from 65,564 in the year 1904-1905 to 66,011 in the year under review, a result which is satisfactory so far as it goes. Indigent Muhammadans require particular care. Of the Hindu indigent classes the Domes, Chandals, Bagdis, Muchis and Haris deserve special attention. Of these five castes alone there are 2,485,211 in this Province; the Bagdis numbering 1,012,600, the Chandals 539,864, the Domes 323,956, the Muchis 357,919 and the Haris 250,872. At the usual calculation of 15 per cent., the population of a school-going age of these five castes comes to 372,781. Here too therefore there is a wide field for improvement as funds become available.

Other Backward Races.

204. These races are shown in the returns as the Tharus, Lepchas, Oraons (i.e., those members of the race that are Hindus) and Paharyas. The population of these tribes is 110,282, and the number of these people of a school-going age, at the usual calculation of 15 per cent., is 16,542. Of this number 237, or 1.4 per cent. only, are receiving instruction. There is therefore ample scope for improvement in this direction also; and one of the first duties to be assigned to the inspecting staff, when it is strengthened, will be that of making a careful survey of the educational needs of the aboriginal races and tribes, indigent classes and backward races referred to in this and the last two paragraphs.

The Reformatory Schools at Alipore and Hazaribagh.

205. Inasmuch as a separate report has been submitted to Government in regard to these schools, it is unnecessary to give any detailed account of them in this report. The most satisfactory feature of the year's working was the marked improvement in respect of discipline and conduct. There is no doubt that this result is due to the policy laid down by Government that the boys are to be treated as if they were at school and not as if they were in jail. In pursuance of this humane and civilising policy, many important reforms are now in process of development. The chief of these are:—

- (1) the project for the removal of the Alipore Reformatory School from its present site near the Alipore Jail to a site in the suburbs, where there will be no jail associations and where there will be plenty of room for play-grounds;
- (2) the development of the industrial training given at the schools—and especially at the Alipore School—on more advanced and scientific lines;
- (3) an improved and more conciliatory system of watch over discharged boys; and
- (4) last, but certainly not least, a proposal to replace, as far as possible, the present illiterate guards by resident teachers qualified to influence the lives of the boys for good.

Miscellaneous Schools.

206. While deaf-mutes receive a certain amount of attention from Government, next to nothing is done for the blind. The Calcutta Deaf and Dumb School provides for 39 inmates, and a large share of the expenditure incurred is met by Government. On the other hand, the blind are much neglected. The Aided Anglican Mission School for the blind at Ranchi provides for some 19 pupils; but Calcutta, which might reasonably be expected to take the lead in such a matter, has only two small aided schools, viz., the London Mission Society's school,—called "St. Anthony's School,"—with about 100 pupils, and the Elliott Road "Industrial Home for Blind Children" with about 13 pupils. There is certainly an opening here for beneficence, and it is to be hoped that the opportunity may not be neglected.

CHAPTER XII.

PRIVATE INSTITUTIONS.

Meaning of the term.

207. As stated in the Fourth Quinquennial Review the term "Private Institutions" includes "all schools which have not accepted Departmental or University standards, and do not submit to any public test." Care must be taken not to confuse these institutions with the schools "under private management," whether aided or unaided, which are recognized by the Department and which form the bulk of the public institutions shown in the statistical returns. These institutions are divided in the statistical returns attached to this report thus:—

- (1) Advanced Institutions; teaching (a) Arabic, (b) Sanskrit, and (c) other Oriental languages.
- (2) Elementary Institutions; including (a) Koran Schools, and (b) schools teaching a vernacular only or mainly.
- (3) Other schools not conforming to departmental standards.

Under the head of advanced institutions teaching Sanskrit are included only those Sanskrit "tols" which do not conform to departmental standards. Those which do so conform are returned under the head of "School Education—Special—Miscellaneous," and are discussed in the chapter on collegiate education.

Statistics

208. The statistics furnished in regard to these institutions are necessarily unreliable. The Education Department has no control over the institutions in question, and there is no means of checking the figures returned by them. The justification for including such figures in the returns lies in the fact that it is very important to keep some account of these institutions, because they are for the most part schools in the making which may sooner or later be expected to improve their methods of teaching. As shown in the chapter on Muhammadan Education, many of the indigenous Muhammadan schools, called "maktabs," will henceforth be brought under the grant-in-aid system. At present, however, owing to the inadequacy of the inspecting staff, it is impossible for the Department to influence the bulk of the private institutions to any great extent. When the inspecting staff is increased, it will be feasible to do much in this direction; and one of the first duties then to be assigned to the local educational officers will be the preparation of an accurate survey of these schools. There are no great variations to report in regard to the number of schools or pupils in respect of the different classes of private institutions. Schools are reported to have increased from 5,141 to 5,215 and pupils from 54,841 to 57,021.

CHAPTER XIII.

PHYSICAL AND MORAL TRAINING.

Hostels and Messes.

Calcutta Mess Scheme for College Students.

209. As stated in the Fourth Quinquennial Review, hostels may be placed high in the list of influences on which reliance can be placed in moulding the character of students, because the existence of a well-arranged boarding-house affects fundamentally the character of the discipline and training afforded by a college or school and gives greater scope than anything else for the operation of other educational influences. I am glad to be able to say that the scheme inaugurated a few years ago for the improvement of the residence of college students in Calcutta is advancing. As stated in last year's report, Government has taken upon itself the responsibility of finding mess accommodation for all college students in Calcutta, who are not certified by the Principals of their colleges to be living either with their parents or recognised guardians. According to this scheme each college has its own mess or messes; that is to say, students from different colleges are not allowed to congregate together where they please, but are told off to messes which are under the control of the Principals of their colleges. On the other hand, the Principals of colleges undertake to recover, as far as possible, from the students in the shape of rent the expenditure incurred by Government. A certain amount of loss necessarily accrues to Government in the carrying out of this scheme, owing to various causes, such as the estimated accommodation taken on lease being more than what is actually found to be required, unexpected loss of students, &c. During the year under review the loss incurred by Government amounted to Rs. 6,423.

210. Towards the close of the year under review Government intimated to the University its consent to continue the scheme above referred to for four years, that is to say, until such time as the University should be able to take over from Government the control of a matter which primarily concerns that authority rather than Government. At a conference of Principals of colleges held by me in March last it was held that if the scheme was to be a success, the appointment of Superintendents to control the messes was essential. Arrangements have been made accordingly during the current year, the Superintendents having been appointed by the Principals of the colleges concerned; and Government has been asked to contribute an average sum of Rs. 20 a month in each case towards the pay of these officers. The officers selected as Superintendents are professors of colleges, teachers, graduates, or other qualified persons duly approved by the Principals.

211. The scheme is still in an experimental stage, and it would be rash to pronounce upon it. I hope however that it will develop into an orderly scheme which will be of much benefit to the students. Under the new University regulations residence either in hostels or messes and the appointment of resident superintendents at hostels and messes are compulsory. A Students' Residence Committee also is to be appointed, and Government may reasonably expect to receive valuable advice from this body as to the lines on which future developments should proceed. Whatever it may be possible to do in the immediate future, there can be very little doubt that the creation of collegiate hostels is the goal towards which progress points. I trust that a fair share of the money which Government is allotting to the University for the improvement of colleges may be spent in this way.

212. At the instance of Government a scheme on lines similar to those followed in Calcutta has during the current year been initiated at all the important colleges in the mufassal. For this purpose Mr. Tipping, the officer who inaugurated the Calcutta Mess Scheme, was placed on special duty for three months early in the year. The colleges which have been dealt with are the Patna College, the Burdwan College, the Bankura Wesleyan Mission College, the Berhampore College, the Krishnagar College, the Midnapore College and the Ravenshaw College, Cuttack. The Hooghly College is already provided with hostel accommodation. This scheme is of course in its initial stage; but I am satisfied from inspections made by myself that it is a hopeful project.

Mufassal Mess
Collegio-Student

213. I hope that during the current year the Department will be in a position to take up the question of developing a proper system of residence for school-boys. Hitherto the working out of a scheme of residence for college students—a matter which primarily concerns the University—has devolved upon the Department owing to the inability of the University to deal with the matter. It will be a great relief when that authority is able to undertake the control of this subject and leave the Department to deal with that of residence for school boys. This will be a somewhat easier task, because in the case of such students a larger proportion come from the immediate neighbourhood of the schools and live with their parents. In some places what is chiefly required in regard to schools is the provision of hostels so as to enable boys from the interior of the districts to take advantage of higher education. This they are at present unable to do owing to the absence of the necessary facilities. It is for this purpose that an amendment of the Local Self-Government Act is in contemplation so as to permit District Boards to contribute towards the construction of hostels and the payment of hostel Superintendents. Lastly, I may mention that the new University regulations make it incumbent on the authorities of affiliated High Schools to see that all pupils, who are not resident with either parents or guardians, live either in a hostel or mess under the control of some person responsible to the Head Master of the School for the discipline and well-being of such pupils. I am instructing Inspectors of Schools to draw the attention of Managers of aided High Schools to the regulations and to inform them that the question of hostel and mess accommodation will be taken into consideration when applications for grants-in-aid are received.

General remarks
as regards hostels
schools.

214. Some of the messes at which students reside in the mufassal, in places where it has not been possible as yet to organise special arrangements, have been visited by me during the course of my tours, and I have no hesitation in saying that immediate reform is called for. It is scarcely conceivable that parents can know of the squalid dens in which their sons reside; and, whether they know or not, a very large measure of responsibility in this matter rests on the authorities conducting schools. The fact cannot be blinked that infinitely more harm may be done to boys in these so-called messes, than good can be done to them in the colleges or schools.

Statistics as regards boarding-houses, hostels and messes for European and Indian Students.

215. The number of hostels increased during the year under review from 346 to 410, and the number of inmates from 12,416 to 14,655. The decline in expenditure from Rs. 9,40,100 to Rs. 8,20,372, which occurred entirely under the head of boarding charges in European schools, is due to causes explained in the chapter on European Education.

Statistics as regards Hostels and Messes for Indian Students.

216. The number of hostels increased from 310 to 377, the number of inmates from 9,478 to 11,424 and the expenditure from Rs. 3,24,457 to Rs. 3,77,403. The bulk of this money, viz., Rs. 3,36,122, came from private sources, and Rs. 41,281 only from Provincial Revenues and District and Municipal Funds. This is satisfactory in view of the orders of the Government of India that hostels should, as far as possible, be self-supporting. It is also satisfactory to note that receipts from private sources increased by Rs. 37,728. The large increase in the number of hostels, inmates of hostels and expenditure on account of hostels is due (1) to the introduction of the Calcutta Mess Scheme for college students as described above, and (2) to the general impetus which has been given in recent years to the hostel movement.

Social Interourse between Teachers and Students in Common-rooms and on Play-grounds.

217. Perhaps in no department can the good influence of professors and teachers be exercised on students more effectively than in common rooms and on play-grounds. Such influences can however only be brought to bear fully and effectively when social life has been evolved by teachers and students living near each other under the conditions of a residential institution. It is gratifying however to find that even in present circumstances the heads of not a few colleges and schools have been successful in promoting social relations between the students and the staff. This has been notably the case, as regards Government colleges, at the Patna, Madrassa and Sanskrit colleges, and the Bihar School of Engineering.

Physical Exercise and Games.

Physical Directors.

218. Two important proposals have been under consideration during the year, the one for the appointment of a Physical Director for Calcutta and the other for a similar officer for the Mufassal. The intention is that the officers to be appointed should be men of superior qualifications who have studied physical exercise from a scientific point of view. Such appointments are not uncommon in America, and the proposal as regards the appointment of such an officer for Calcutta came from an American source. I think that these appointments are very necessary, and, as soon as funds allow, I shall make a representation on the subject to Government. We are groping very much in the dark in the matter of calisthenics. The Desi Kasrat, or Indian system of gymnastics adopted from the Central Provinces, is in force in this Province. It is quite impossible, however, without expert advice, to say how far this system is a sound one. Many applications come up from Inspectors of Schools asking for large expenditure as regards the training of gymnastic teachers. I am declining to entertain these applications till we have some authority to whom we can look for advice as to how our money can best be spent.

219. There is nothing of special interest to be said this year as regards games and games and drill at colleges and schools. Physical exercise of some kind is compulsory, but in some cases I have found Head Masters of schools negligent of their duties in this respect. In Orissa the Inspector reports that the organisation of games is said to be hampered by the want of suitable playgrounds. A special report will be called for from him on this subject.

Moral Training.

220. I have already dealt with the training of teachers in Chapter VI. As stated in the Fourth Quinquennial Review, the maintenance of a high standard of discipline depends chiefly on this training and on the character of the persons who enter the teaching profession. The formation of character is of course one of the main aims of education, and this is being very strongly emphasised in the revised syllabus of studies which is now under issue in respect of lower primary schools. Similar stress will be laid on the subject when the revision of the syllabus for the higher standards is undertaken. The revised syllabus above referred to begins with an Introduction which illustrates what I have said above, and I cannot do better than cite the two concluding paragraphs, which run thus:—

"Above all school life must prevent children from forming bad habits, and this it can only do by training them in good habits and, if possible, in good conduct, by which is meant something wider than the mere cheerful observance of school regulations. In the matter of this moral training the most important factor will be the habitual conduct of the teacher in the school. If he is thorough, patient, kind but firm, and scrupulously fair, these traits will evoke similar traits in his pupils, and will give point and force to any moral instruction he may attempt. A teacher who is obviously slipshod and lazy, discarding to children about the value of industry and thoroughness, is an absurdity which cannot but prove morally disintegrating to a child. Stories in readers designed to inculcate morals tend, if silly, as they frequently are, to make moral instruction ridiculous. Even if they are good, they are of little value unless they are backed by personal example.

"The every-day incidents of school life will enable the teachers to impress upon the children the importance of punctuality, of good manners, of cleanliness and neatness, of cheerful obedience to duty, of consideration and respect for others, and of honour and truthfulness in word and act. Children will notice such details in the conduct of a teacher as punctuality, order, neatness and gentleness, and they will imitate what they see and hear. They are quick to observe; and if the teacher's conduct is in these respects defective, his example must almost certainly have a disastrous effect on the habits of the pupils. Thus, the punctual and methodical performance of duties, even in matters of trivial routine, will impress upon the children better than any lesson the importance of orderliness; and the good habits of the teacher will be even more powerful than his express requirements in shaping his pupils for the proper conduct of life."

In the course of this chapter the influence of the teachers employed, the influence resulting from the nature of the teaching imparted, and the influence of hostel life have all been mentioned. As, however, the Government of India pointed out in a letter issued during the year under review in reply to a memorial from certain residents of this Province, the greatest of all influences is that of home life, that is to say, of parents, relations and guardians. As that Government observed, that is an agency entirely independent of Government, and the State can neither call it into existence nor direct its operation; and it rests with the Indian people themselves to see that a proper moral atmosphere prevails in the Indian home.

Discipline at Colleges and Schools during the year under review.

221. Two grave breaches of discipline occurred at the Presidency College soon after effect was given to the Partition. Discipline at the Sibpur Civil Engineering College also suffered at the same time. It is reported that when the students joined the College in November 1905 they were suffering from the effects of political agitation, that a spirit of turbulence manifested itself, and that two of the ringleaders had to be expelled before order could be restored. The grant-in-aid of the Garbhawanipur High English School in the district of Howrah has been withdrawn on account of a bad case of boycotting by the students of that school. At the Hooghly College two students were punished for unruly behaviour in a public thoroughfare. At the Krishnagar College discipline has not been satisfactory. The district of Khulna also came unfavourably to notice on account of disturbances caused by students; and the Khulda Zillah School and the Daulatpur High School were deprived of the privilege of competing for Government scholarships for a year.

222. The question of the control of masters of schools over the conduct of boys beyond the school premises has recently formed the subject of discussion in Bombay, and an important Press Note has recently been issued by the Government of that Presidency, an extract from which, as reported in the newspapers, I quote below. It is a ruling of much importance.

"It is quite a mistake to suppose that the Head Master's authority over day boys does not extend beyond the school premises. In certain cases it is obvious that he is bound to take notice of misconduct, and in other matters though the necessity for his interference may not be so obvious, it is still unquestionable that an order given to a pupil must be obeyed. If any parent or guardian is dissatisfied with any order of the kind, it is always open to him to apply to higher authority, in which case he may be quite sure of a careful enquiry into the circumstances. But he should never counsel disobedience, which can only injure the boy whose welfare he desires to promote. Such disobedience would not be tolerated in any well regulated school in England, and cannot, in justice to the pupils, be permitted in this country. The importance of discipline, whether in the family or in the school, is a matter which can hardly be disputed, and the small minority who take a different view cannot reasonably expect others to agree with them. When disobedience occurs, it must be punished by the ordinary school methods."

CHAPTER XIV.

EDUCATIONAL CONFERENCES.

223. THE most important conferences held during the year under review were those in connection with the revision of the vernacular scheme of education which was brought into force in the year 1901, in so far as it affects lower primary, and especially rural lower primary, schools. This subject had been considered in the year 1904 by a conference specially convened by the Lieutenant-Governor. The results of that conference formed the subject of the Resolution of Government No. 658, dated the 7th February 1905, in which the public was invited to submit criticisms in regard to the scheme proposed. The replies received were then considered by a further conference, appointed by His Honour, which submitted a report to Government on the 3rd August 1905. The working out of the details of the scheme, as provisionally approved by the conference just referred to, was then referred to a special committee, which brought its labours to a conclusion at the close of the year under review. The views of the special committee were submitted by me to Government with my letter No. 86T., dated the 14th May 1906, and the orders of Government generally sanctioning the proposals made by the committee were received in Government letter No. 1800, dated the 5th July 1906. Active steps are now being taken to carry out the necessary reforms. A full account of the changes to be initiated has already been given in the chapter on Primary Education.

224. An important conference was held at Darjeeling shortly after the close of the year in connection with a proposal to extend primary education amongst the hill population. The results of this conference have been mentioned in the chapter on Primary Education.

225. Numerous useful conferences were held during the year by educational officers on various matters demanding concerted action. It is unnecessary to refer to the subjects discussed at these conferences; but I am glad to notice that officers of all grades are fully alive to the advantages of meeting together to deliberate over educational questions in which special difficulties are encountered.

226. I hope during the course of the current year to be able to hold a conference of Inspectors of Schools with the object of deciding in what directions a delegation of the powers of the Director is at present feasible. The stress of work has been so great ever since I joined the office of Director in January 1906 that I have not as yet been able to convene a meeting. Probably it will not at present be possible to effect any large delegation of powers, because of the well-known inadequacy of the Inspectorate. A beginning should however be made as soon as practicable; and, when the Inspectorate is strengthened, a further devolution of powers will be considered.

CHAPTER XV.

TEXT-BOOK COMMITTEES AND THE CALCUTTA SCHOOL BOOK SOCIETY.

The Central Text-Book Committee.

227. The working of the Central Text-Book Committee has recently been adversely criticised, the main objections raised being

- (1) that the preliminary examination of text-books which is required under standing orders before their submission to the Text-Book Committee should not, as heretofore, be conducted in a confidential manner, but that the names of the persons consulted should be made public,
- (2) that members of the Text-Book Committee should be remunerated for their work, and
- (3) that the exclusion from the Text-Book Committee of persons who are authors or who have any interest in the production of text-books has the effect of depriving the Committee of the services of the very persons whose services would be of real use.

These questions are now under my consideration in connection with a proposal which has been made by certain publishing firms in Calcutta that Government support should be withdrawn from the School Book Society on the ground that the operations of the Society interfere with private trade. The functions of the School Book Society and the Text-Book Committee are interconnected, and it will be convenient to deal with all the questions raised together.

228. Meantime, I wish merely to say on the present occasion that I think that the functions of the Text-Book Committee have been somewhat misunderstood. These functions are strictly limited to advising Government as to which of certain books presented to them for examination are fit to be used in schools. That advice in practice merely amounts, as far as I can gather, to recommendations being made in favour of all books with any pretence to merit or suitability. The Committee has no power, even if it considers that the books submitted to it for examination are not as good as they should be, to take steps to secure the production of suitable books. In short, the production of text-books has been left to unguided private speculation. As shown however in the chapters on Secondary and Primary Education, this system has signally failed in respect of the production of suitable text-books for certain classes of schools, and Government has decided to bring out certain books itself, by the exercise of a power which is specially reserved to it under the rules. This does not of course mean that Government intends to monopolise the production of text-books. It will merely give the lead by showing the kind of books which are required; and, if private enterprise can produce equally good or better books, these will be accepted.

The Calcutta School Book Society.

229. The sales of the Calcutta School Book Society amounted during the year under review to Rs. 1,33,777, as against Rs. 1,66,338 in the year 1904-1905.

REPORT OF THE COTTON CROP OF BENGAL, 1906.

The following note is published for general information.

R. W. CARLYLE,

Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The 19th December 1906.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

REPORT ON THE COTTON CROP OF BENGAL, DECEMBER 1906.

[On an average of the five years ending 1904-1905, the area under cotton crops in the territory to which the present forecast relates has represented some 0·6 per cent. of the total area under cotton crops in India.]

Explanatory.—The forecasts of the cotton crop issued in August and October dealt with the area sown with cotton this year, and with the general condition of the crop. The present forecast deals with revised estimates of the area sown, and furnishes also an estimate of the probable outturn.

Character of the season.—Of the early cotton-growing districts of Bengal, the Sonthal Parganas, Sambalpur, Manbhum, Singhbhum and Angul are the most important. The climatic conditions in these districts, covering 81 per cent. of the entire early cotton area, as well as in the other early cotton districts, Sambalpur excepted, were favourable throughout the season. In the last-named district, some little damage was done to the crop by heavy rain during the flowering season in October.

In Saran, the most important of the late cotton districts, and also in Champaran, Darbhanga, and in the Sadar subdivision of Muzaffarpur where late cotton only is almost entirely grown, the crops suffered to a very considerable extent from excessive rain and floods. From the other late cotton districts, the prospects are reported to be satisfactory.

Area sown.—The area sown with early cotton this year is estimated at present at 37,428 acres against 37,400 acres shown in the October forecast, and against 36,504 acres estimated in December last year. The area sown with late cotton amounts to 32,376 acres up to date. Sowings are reported to be still going on in Cuttack.

Outturn.—The outturn of early cotton, calculated from the data furnished by District Officers, comes to 5,763 bales of 400 lbs. each, and that of late cotton, similarly calculated, to 9,361 bales. Supplementing this produce with an additional 5 per cent. crop for the fibre grown in the Native

States, for which statistics are not available, the total aggregate outturn for the Province works out as follows:—

				Bales.
Early cotton	6,051
Late „	9,831
Gross total of both varieties				15,882

The condition of the crop is good.

The October rain has damaged the crop to a certain extent. The out-turn will therefore be very poor. Early bottom is not grown in this district. The general condition of the crop is good.

The general condition of the crop is reported to be good so far.

RESOLUTION ON THE EMBANKMENT AND DRAINAGE REPORTS FOR THE YEAR 1905-1906.

No. 2598I.

Government of Bengal

IRRIGATION DEPARTMENT.

IRRIGATION.

Dated Calcutta, the 22nd December 1906.

RESOLUTION.

The Embankment and Drainage Reports for the year 1905-1906.

	1905-1906.
	Rs.
I.—Embankments—
Class A.—Government embankments in Orissa ...	49,195
Class B.—Schedule D and other Government embankments ...	2,63,654
Class C.—Maintained by Government under contract with zamindars ...	1,06,082
Class D.—Maintained by Government with an annual apportionment of charges on estates benefited ...	7,166
II.—Works undertaken under the provisions of the Drainage Act, VI (B.C.) of 1880 ...	11,916
III.—Works undertaken under the provisions of the Sanitary Drainage Act, VIII (B.C.) of 1895 ...	1,81,254
IV.—Drainage works carried out under the provisions of the Embankment Act, II (B.C.) of 1882 ...	39,228
V.—Drainage works carried out at the cost of Government, but not under the provisions of any Act ...	24,025
Total ...	6,82,520

Lengths of Embankments and areas protected.—The lengths of embankment in each class and the areas to which they give protection are shown:—

* 1,681 feet of spur embankments, Panar river, were maintained during the year at Government expense.

There has been a net increase of 1,673 feet in the length of the class A embankments in Orissa, mainly due to the construction of retired lines. In the South-Western Circle, there was an addition of 507 feet to the length of schedule D embankments owing to the construction of a cross bund at Mowah in the district of Murshidabad connecting the Bhagirathi left embankment with the Bhagawangola retired line. The Rampur-Boulia embankments (Schedule D, Nos. 55, 56, 56A and 56B) in the district of Rajshahi were transferred to the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam during the year, as also the embankments in the districts of Malda, Pabna and Bogra. The aggregate length of these embankments is 10 miles and 2,050 feet.

3. Floods.—During the year, the monsoon floods in the Orissa rivers were low and no damage was done to any of the Government works except two small breaches in the left embankment of the Bhargovi river. These were promptly closed. There was, however, a very unusual winter flood in the Brahmini and Kharsua rivers which caused some damage to the dahua rice crop. In the Gandak Circle there were no heavy floods during the year. The Gandak river rose on 30th July to 240·60 at Siswa, 242·40 being the highest recorded flood level. The flood level in the Ganges at Bazilpur was 4·05 lower than that of the previous year. The highest flood in the Bagmati in September rose to 185·32, at Belahiaghat against 190·40, the recorded flood level of 1893. The Burgandak river at Secunderpur rose to 176·40 on 12th August. This was only 1·30 below the highest recorded reading.

There were heavy floods in the South-Western Circle and the embankments were damaged. The highest flood of the year in the Cossye river occurred on the 30th September. The highest flood in the Selye and Rupnarain (or Darkeswar) rivers was on the 29th July. There were three floods in the Damodar between July and September. The highest was on the 29th July, when the gauge at Edilpur read 16 feet 6 inches, which is the same as the maximum recorded flood level of 1902. No serious damage was done to the embankment, but the bamboo spurs at the base of the removed embankment on the right bank at Nathu, Sadipur and Srikistipur were slightly damaged. The flood in the Ajai river on 29th July was 3 feet 9 inches lower than the highest recorded level of 1899. The river protective works were slightly damaged. The floods in the rivers in the Purnea and Bhagalpur districts were of ordinary character and caused no injury to the embankments.

4. Surveys and investigations.—In the Orissa Circle investigations were made into the existing village irrigation system in the district of Puri, while the possibilities of further irrigation from the Salia river were under investigation. Investigations in regard to the question of the maintenance of the channels of approach to and discharge from all the sluices in the embankments were completed. In the Gandak Circle surveys in connection with a proposal for a sluice and channel from the Bya river were carried out. In the South-Western Circle surveys were made of the schedule D embankments with the object of establishing a record of the formation level of the crests of those embankments. Surveys were also made of the villages exposed to inundation by the removal of the Laltakuri marginal embankment in the Murshidabad district.

5. Original works.—The outlay of the year (without charges for establishment and tools and plant) under this head amounts to Rs. 64,473 distributed over the different classes of embankments as under:—

	1905-1906.	1904-1905.
	Rs.	Rs.
Class A	15,385	20,560
" B	49,088	16,674
" C	Nil.	Nil.
" D	Nil.	1,104
Total	64,473	38,338

The more important works are briefly noted:—

In the Orissa Circle the two escapes on the Kushbhadra river referred to in last year's report were completed at a total cost of Rs. 13,470, the expenditure of the year being Rs. 11,680. The stone paving at the head of Tantighai on the right bank of the river Khursuah was in progress at the end of the year. The construction of a permanent escape at Achootpore in the 5th mile Bhargovi left embankment, was completed during the year, the total cost being Rs. 22,250.

In the South-Western Circle an expenditure of Rs. 29,160 was incurred on raising the embankment on the left bank of the Hooghly. The work was nearly completed at the close of the year. A sum of Rs. 15,639 was expended on the embankments along the Nadia rivers principally on the strengthening of the Bhagwangola retired line.

In the Gandak Circle the construction of the drainage sluice in the 6th mile of the Bazitpur embankment referred to in last year's report was completed except the outfall and the approach channels.

6. Ordinary repairs.—The expenditure on repairs (without book charges for establishment and tools and plant) aggregated Rs. 3,32,049; which is distributed under the different classes of embankments as follows:—

			1905-1906.	1904-1905.
			Rs.	Rs.
Class A	33,810	26,689
" B	2,14,566	2,36,572
" C	1,06,082	1,27,828
" D	7,166	5,058
Total	3,61,624	3,96,147

The expenditure on repairs to the Orissa embankments was Rs. 33,810, against Rs. 26,689 in the previous year. The total cost of repairs to the schedule D embankments (class B) in the Midnapore district which are in the Orissa Circle was Rs. 29,012, of which Rs. 3,452 were expended on retired lines of embankments, Rs. 5,028 on making a diversion cut of the Raniakhal at the 20th mile of the sea-dyke.

In the South-Western Circle, the expenditure on ordinary repairs to Schedule D and other embankments was Rs. 1,42,392, against Rs. 1,02,629 in the previous year. The excess took place chiefly in the districts of Burdwan, Hooghly, Midnapore, Murshidabad and 24-Parganas.

The heavy expenditure in the Burdwan district was due to repairs done to the Damodar left embankment. The excess in the Hooghly district was due to repairs and extensions of the stone revetments in the Rupharain left embankment and the Damodar left and right embankments. The comparatively heavy expenditure in the Murshidabad district was chiefly due to extensive repairs to the Bhagirathi embankment.

On (class C) takavi embankments under contract in the Midnapore, Muzaffarpur, Saran and Champaran districts, a sum of Rs. 1,06,082 was expended during the year, as compared with the contract provision of Rs. 1,05,070. The outlay incurred on the maintenance and special repairs of the Gandak embankments was Rs. 66,984, against Rs. 65,286 in the preceding year. The amount spent on special repairs was Rs. 48,894, against Rs. 43,317 in the preceding year. The expenditure on repairs to the Midnapore embankments in the Cossye and Balasore Divisions was Rs. 39,098, against Rs. 60,303, of the previous year.

7. Breaches.—In the Orissa Circle only two small breaches occurred in the Bhargovi left embankment.

In the South-Western Circle 15 breaches occurred in the schedule D embankments, and three in the takavi embankments. The total expenditure incurred in closing breaches and in making good damage caused by flood was Rs. 34,443, against Rs. 32,693 in the previous year. There were no breaches in the embankments in the Gandak and Northern Circles.

8. Retired lines.—In the Orissa Circle the amount expended in constructing retired lines of embankments, including in this head slope-cutting which is an alternative measure, was Rs. 6,546, against Rs. 5,064 in the previous year. In the South-Western Circle the cost of constructing retired lines in the Burdwan, Midnapore, Murshidabad and 24-Parganas districts was Rs. 8,100, against Rs. 63,165 in the previous year. No retired lines were constructed in the Gandak and Northern Circles.

9. River protective works.—In the Orissa Circle the total outlay incurred on repairs to the revetment and river protective works was Rs. 4,883, against Rs. 675 in the preceding year. The expenditure on river protective works in the Gandak Circle amounted to Rs. 4,110, against Rs. 6,482 of the year before.

10. Financial.—The actual outlay during the year on the Orissa embankments (class A) maintained as agricultural works, exclusive of charges for establishment and tools and plant was Rs. 33,810, against Rs. 26,689 in the previous year, the average rate per mile being Rs. 65. The expenditure on class B Government embankments was Rs. 2,14,566, against Rs. 2,36,572 in the previous year, the average rate being Rs. 199, against Rs. 217 in 1904-1905.

Government has contracted to maintain certain embankments on behalf of the persons benefited at a fixed annual charge in the districts of Saran, Champaran, Muzaffarpur and Midnapore. The following statement shows the expenditure incurred on these embankments as compared with the contract payments:—

NOTE.—The figures in this table under column "Maintenance charge" represent the cash outlay on maintenance and repair without any book charges for establishment or tools and plant.

11. Works undertaken under the provisions of the Drainage Act, VI (B. C.) of 1880.—The Dankuni, Howrah, Rajapur and Burajalla drainage works in.

the Hooghly district in charge of the Executive Engineer; Northern Drainage and Embankment Division, were maintained in good order during the year. The cost of their maintenance compared with the previous year is below :—

There was some loss of crops in a small area in Rajapur basin, due overflow from Ampta basin which is at present undrained. The income derived from land-rent, fisheries, tolls on boats and other sources has hitherto been credited to the Civil Department. It has since been decided that all receipts shall be finally adjusted in the books of this Department.

Towards the close of the year a proposal was sent up by the Collector of Nadia for the drainage of the Choriucule swamp near Kumarkhali in the Kushtia subdivision of the district under the provisions of the Bengal Drainage Act, VI (B. C.) of 1880. The project which will be carried out through the agency of the District Board, Nadia, has received administrative sanction at an estimated cost of Rs. 24,644 and Drainage Commissioners have been appointed.

12. Works undertaken under the provisions of the Sanitary Drainage Act, VIII (B. C.) of 1895.—The only work taken up under the Sanitary Drainage Act is the Magra Hât drainage scheme in the 24-Parganas district. It is designed to drain the swamps around Magra Hât in the central portion of the tracts enclosed by the 24-Parganas embankments. The swamps are mainly those along the Kaorapukhar khal, near Hotar, those connected with the Surjipur sluice, those at Joynagar and along the Srichandra and Sangrampur khals, as well as north of the railway near Sangrampur and at Dhosa and Habka. The rough estimates amounting to Rs. 17,39,000 have been approved by the Municipal Department of this Government. The work being very urgently required has been put in hand in anticipation of the sanction of the Secretary of State which has been applied for.

During the year under review Rs. 1,68,775 were spent on work and Rs. 12,479 on the acquisition of land.

13.—DRAINAGE WORKS CARRIED OUT UNDER THE PROVISIONS OF THE EMBANKMENT ACT, II (B. C.) OF 1882.

Original works.—In the South-Western Circle, the embankment on the left bank of the Peali river with two sluices was completed during the year at a total cost of Rs. 71,979, the expenditure of the year being Rs. 6,596. Work was in progress during the year on the construction of a sluice at Dhutkhali in the 108th mile of the 24-Parganas embankment. The expenditure during and to end of the year was respectively Rs. 9,588 and Rs. 15,412. Arrangements were made to start work during the year on the construction of a sluice at Fulbagicha in the 131st mile of the schedule D embankment, No. 78. A scheme was prepared for improving the drainage of the Arapanch basin in the 24-Parganas, which involved a new length of embankment and a new sluice. The matter is still under consideration. In the meantime the outfall channel leading from the existing sluice in the embankment has been cleared which will give relief for some years. In the Orissa Circle the silt-clearance of the Kunjapur and other khals was completed during the year at a total cost of Rs. 10,432, the expenditure of the year being Rs. 3,872. A project for the drainage of the lands within the Argoal circuit embankment was commenced during the year and a sum of Rs. 14,609 was expended. The construction of the sluices in the 15th mile of the Kalinagar Hattia embankment (schedule D, No. 45) and in the 12th mile of the Jalpai embankment (schedule D, No. 53) referred to in the previous year was completed.

Maintenance and repairs.—The Charrial khal drainage scheme was maintained in good condition during the year at a cost of Rs. 2,492, against Rs. 854 in the previous year. With a few exceptions all the sluices in the schedule D embankment, 24-Parganas district, were efficiently maintained during the year at a total cost of Rs. 1,634. The Kumrool sluice and channel in the 53rd mile of the Damodar left embankment were repaired and maintained during the year at a cost of Rs. 377.

14.—DRAINAGE WORKS CARRIED OUT AT THE COST OF GOVERNMENT, BUT NOT UNDER THE PROVISIONS OF ANY ACT.

Original Works.—A commencement was made in the improvement of the drainage channel from Daudpur to Utterpadima, known as the Tajpur drainage project, in the Contai subdivision of the Balasore Division.

On the Bullee Bhil in the South-Western Circle Rs. 5,066 were expended on repairs and maintenance. In the Balasore Division the Balliaghye main drain was kept open to traffic throughout the year, while the branch drain from 0 mile to the 6th mile post was closed to traffic for silt-clearance from 1st January 1906 till the end of the year. A sum of Rs. 8,139 was spent on silt-clearance and the work was in progress at the close of the year. The outlay on the silt-clearance of the khas tahsil khals in charge of this Department was Rs. 9,217.

Order.—Ordered that a copy of the Resolution and of its appendices (A and B) be published in the Supplement to the Calcutta Gazette and submitted to the Government of India, Public Works Department, for information.

Ordered also that copies of the Resolution and of its appendices (A and B) be forwarded to the Revenue and Financial Departments of this Government; the Secretary to the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces; the Commissioners of the Presidency, Burdwan, Patna, Bhagalpur, Chota Nagpur and Orissa Divisions; the Director-General of Commercial Intelligence; the Superintending Engineers of the Orissa, South-Western, Sone, Gandak, and Northern Circles; and the Examiner, Public Works Accounts, Bengal, for information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

W. A. INGLIS,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

(a) The difference of Rs. 3 in column 2 as compared with the last year's return is due to the increase of Rs. 3 in ex. bankment cess demand owing to increase in the land revenue jama of certain estates by resettlement.

(b) The difference compared with the last year's return is due to the actual annual demand having been shown here.

(c) The difference of Rs. 3 in column 3 is due to the correction made in the assessment of two estates.

(d) The decrease of Rs. 1 is due to partitions and omission of fractions of a rupee less than eight annas.

(e) The difference of Rs. 111 and Rs. 351 in the figures shown in columns 3 and 4 as compared with the figures shown in columns 10 and 8 of the last year's return is due to the transfer of some advance amounts to the arrears due from certain estates.

(f) Out of this a sum of Rs. 340 has been collected since the close of the year and for the remaining action will be taken under the certificate procedure.

(g) This balance has been arrived at by deducting Rs. 745 due from Government on account of khas mahals benefited by the embankment.
